Investors’ attention is drawn to the specific risk factors set out in the section entitled “Risk Factors”. STRUCTURE

The Company is an open-ended investment company with variable capital organised under the laws of Ireland as a public limited company pursuant to the Companies Act 2014 and the Regulations. It was incorporated on 21 July 2000 under registration number 330410. Its object, as set out in Clause 2 of the Company's Memorandum of Association, is the collective investment in transferable securities of capital raised from the public and which operates on the basis of risk spreading.

The Company is organised in the form of an umbrella fund with segregated liability between sub-funds. The Articles of Association provide that the Company may offer separate classes of Shares, each representing interests in a fund comprising a distinct portfolio of investments. The Company has obtained the approval of the Central Bank for the establishment of Seilern America, Seilern Europa and Seilern World Growth Fund. With the prior approval of the Central Bank, the Company from time to time may create an additional fund or funds, the investment policies and objectives for which shall be outlined in a Prospectus or a Supplemental Prospectus, together with details of the Initial Offer Period, the initial subscription price for each Share and such other relevant information in relation to the additional fund or funds as the Directors may deem appropriate, or the Central Bank require, to be included. Each Supplemental Prospectus shall form part of, and should be read in conjunction with, this Prospectus.

The Directors may issue more than one class of Shares in each Fund which may have different levels of fees or distributions. A number of classes of Shares are available in respect of the Funds including currency classes and unhedged and hedged classes, further details of which are set out in Schedule 5. A separate portfolio of assets will not be maintained for separate classes of Shares within the same Fund. Where unhedged currency Share classes are created, the value of the class expressed in the class currency will be subject to exchange rate risk in relation to the Base Currency. Currency hedging strategies may substantially limit holders of the class from benefiting if the class currency falls against the Base Currency and/or the currency in which the assets of the Fund are denominated. The costs and gains/losses of the hedging transactions will accrue solely to the relevant class and hedging transactions will be clearly attributable to a specific class. Accordingly, currency exposures of assets of the Fund will not be allocated to separate classes. In the case of foreign exchange transactions in a non-hedging instance, performance may be strongly influenced by movements in foreign exchange rates because currency positions held by the Company may not correspond with the securities positions that are held.

There is no guarantee that the Fund’s performance will match or exceed the benchmark index.

Any change in the investment objective and any material change in the investment policy of Seilern America will be subject to the approval of the Shareholders of Seilern America by ordinary resolution. Distribution Policy

The Directors may distribute dividend and interest income earned, plus net realised and unrealised capital gains, after the deduction of expenses in respect of each accounting period. If a distribution is to be made it will normally be paid in March following the accounting period terminating on 31 December each year.

The Directors will pursue a policy of distribution of income earned on investments in order to be classified as a “distributing fund” by the U.K. Revenue and Customs in respect of each accounting year (each financial year of the Company). As certification in respect of an accounting period may only be applied for retrospectively, there can be no guarantee that certification from the U.K. Revenue and Customs will be obtained. Neither can there be any guarantee or assurance that the law and regulations governing distributing status, or the U.K. Revenue and Customs’ interpretation of them, will remain the same.

Any dividend will be paid by wire transfer. Any dividend which is unclaimed six years from the date it became payable shall be forfeited and become the property of the relevant fund.

Investment Restrictions

If the limits referred to in Schedule 3 are exceeded for any reason beyond the control of the Company or as a result of the exercise of subscription rights, the Company shall adopt as a priority objective for its sales transactions the remedying of that situation, taking due account of the interests of the Shareholders of the relevant Fund.

If the Regulations are altered during the life of the Company, the investment restrictions may be changed to take account of any such alterations and Shareholders will be advised of such changes in the next succeeding annual or half-yearly report of the relevant fund. Any change in the above investment restrictions shall be subject to the prior approval of the Central Bank.

Classification as an Equity Fund for German Tax Purposes

Seilern America, Seilern Europa and Seilern World Growth Fund will be managed in such a way to ensure that these Funds each continuously qualify as an “Equity Fund”, as defined in the German Investment Tax Act 2018, as amended. Please see the section of this Prospectus entitled “Additional Information for German Tax Purposes” for more information.

Borrowings

A Fund may not borrow money, except as follows:

- (a) a Fund may acquire foreign currency by means of a “back to back” loan. Foreign currency obtained in this manner is not classified as borrowing for the purpose of Regulation 103(1) of the Regulations, except to the extent that such foreign currency exceeds the value of a “back to back” deposit; and
- (b) a Fund may borrow up to 10 per cent of its Net Asset Value, provided that such borrowing is on a temporary basis.

Foreign currency obtained under (a) above is not classed as borrowings for the purposes of the borrowing restrictions contained in the Regulations or (b) above, provided that the offsetting deposit equals or exceeds the value of the foreign currency loan outstanding.

However, where foreign currency borrowings exceed the value of the back-to-back deposit, any excess is regarded as borrowing for the purpose of Regulation 103 of the Regulations and (b) above.

It is not the current intention of the Directors to borrow but the Directors may decide to do so in the future.

The Funds will engage in leverage to the extent permitted by Schedule 2 and as described in the section “Investment Techniques and Financial Derivative Instruments”.

Investment Techniques and Financial Derivative Instruments

The Company may employ investment techniques and financial derivative instruments for efficient portfolio management and investment purposes, subject to the conditions and within the limits from time to time laid down by the Central Bank. It is not proposed that the Funds will employ investment techniques and financial derivative instruments including, but not limited to trading in futures and options and other derivatives for investment purposes. The Funds may use investment techniques and financial derivative instruments including, but not limited to trading futures and options and other derivative instruments, for efficient portfolio management (namely; for the purposes of reducing risk, reducing costs or generating additional capital or income for the Company) with details of the appropriate risks associated taking into account the risk profile of the Company with such instruments set out in the section of this Prospectus entitled “Risk Factors” and the general provisions of the Regulations.

The Funds may use investment techniques and financial derivative instruments relating to transferable securities for efficient portfolio management purposes and details of the risks associated with such instruments are set out in the section entitled “Risk Factors”. The Company shall supply to a Shareholder on request supplementary information in relation to the quantitative risk management limits applied by it, the risk management methods used by it and any recent developments in the risk and yield characteristics for the main categories of financial derivative instruments used for efficient portfolio management purposes. A list of the Regulated Markets on which the financial derivative instruments may be quoted or traded is set out in Schedule 1. Currency options, forward currency options, interest rate swap and exchange rate swap contracts may be used by the Funds for efficient portfolio management purposes. Options will be used to hedge or achieve exposure to a particular currency instead of holding that currency. Forward foreign exchange transactions will be used to reduce the risk of adverse market changes in exchange rates or to increase exposure to foreign currencies or to shift exposure to foreign currency fluctuations from one country to another. Swaps will be used to hedge existing long positions.

If a Fund invests in total return swaps or other financial derivative instruments with the same characteristics, the underlying asset or index may be comprised of equity or debt securities, money market instruments or other eligible investments which are consistent with the investment objective and policies of the Funds as set out above. The counterparties to such transactions are typically banks, investment firms, broker-dealers, collective investment schemes or other financial institutions or intermediaries. The risk of the counterparty defaulting on its obligations under the total return swap and its effect on investor returns are described in the risk factors under the heading “Trading in Derivatives for Efficient Portfolio Management”. It is not intended that the counterparties to total return swaps entered into by a Fund assume any discretion over the composition or management of the Fund’s investment portfolio or over the underlying of the financial derivative instruments, or that the approval of the counterparty is required in relation to any portfolio transactions by the Fund.

The policy that will be applied to collateral arising from over-the-counter (“OTC”) derivative transactions or efficient portfolio management techniques relating to the Funds is to adhere to the requirements set out in Schedule 2 and as described in the section “Investment Techniques and Financial Derivative Instruments”. This sets out the permitted types of collateral, level of collateral required and haircut policy and, in the case of cash collateral, the re-investment policy prescribed by the Central Bank pursuant to the Regulations. The categories of collateral which may be received by the Funds include cash and non-cash assets such as equities, debt securities and money market instruments. From time to time and subject to the requirements in Schedule 2, the policy on levels of collateral required and haircuts may be adjusted, at the discretion of the Investment Manager, where this is determined to be appropriate in the context of the specific counterparty, the characteristics of the asset received as collateral, market conditions or other circumstances. The haircuts applied (if any) by the Investment Manager are adapted for each class of assets received as collateral, taking into account the characteristics of the assets such as the credit standing and/or the price volatility, as well as the outcome of any stress tests performed in accordance with the requirements in Schedule 2. Each decision to apply a specific haircut, or to refrain from applying any haircut, to a certain class of assets should be justified on the basis of this policy.

If cash collateral received by a Fund is re-invested, the Fund is exposed to the risk of loss on that investment. Should such a loss occur, the value of the collateral will be reduced and the Fund will have less protection if the counterparty defaults. The risks associated with the re-investment of cash collateral are substantially the same as the risks which apply to the other investments of the Fund. For further details see the section entitled “Risk Factors”.

Direct and indirect operational costs and fees arising from the efficient portfolio management techniques of stock lending, repurchase and reverse repurchase arrangements may be deducted from the revenue delivered to the Funds (e.g., as a result of revenue sharing arrangements). These costs and fees do not and should not include hidden revenue. All the revenues arising from such efficient portfolio management techniques, net of direct and indirect operational costs, will be returned to the relevant Fund. The entities to which direct and indirect costs and fees may be paid include banks, investment firms, broker-dealers, securities lending agents or other financial institutions or intermediaries and may be related parties to the Manager or the Depositary.

The revenues arising from such efficient portfolio management techniques for the relevant reporting period, together with the direct and indirect operational costs and fees incurred and the identity of the counterparty(ies) to these efficient portfolio management techniques, will be disclosed in the annual and half-yearly reports of the Company.

Securities Financing Transaction Regulation

It is not intended that the Funds shall enter into any securities financing transactions or total return swaps within the meaning of the Securities Financing Transaction Regulation.

Sustainable Finance Disclosures Regulation

The Manager has adopted disclosure policies in respect of the manner in which sustainability risks (also referred to below as ESG risks) are integrated into the investment process and the results of the assessment of the likely impacts of sustainability risks on the returns of the Funds which are consistent with the SFDR. A sustainability risk is defined in the SFDR as an environmental, social or governance (“ESG”) event or condition that, if it occurs, could cause an actual or a potential material negative impact on the value of an investment.

The Manager has adopted the Investment Manager's policy on the integration of sustainability risks in its investment decision-making process, as described in the Investment Manager's Responsible Investment Policy. The approach of the Manager, acting in respect of the Funds through the Investment Manager as its delegate, is set out below. The Investment Manager may take a different approach on the integration of sustainability risks in its investment decision-making process in respect of each Fund.

ESG Characteristics Promoted by the Funds

Each of the Funds has been categorised as an Article 8 Fund under the SFDR and promotes a combination of ESG characteristics amongst others. None of the Funds has sustainable investment as its objective.

The Funds promote ESG characteristics, across the metrics of business ethics, corporate governance, the environmental impact of products and services, emissions, effluents and waste, human capital and human rights and resource use in the supply chain, where available, through prioritising investment in companies that have:

- strong environmental policies relating to pollution and sustainable production, which may also include companies actively working to improve their environmental footprint, sustainable sourcing, recycling, waste treatment and usage of materials and to reduce their emissions and energy consumption; or
- strong policies relating to social characteristics such as the fair treatment of workers and the fair treatment of partners to their businesses;

and which have good corporate governance practices, such as strong, stable management and manage the business in the long-term interest of shareholders.

The ESG characteristics promoted, are initially captured and continually monitored through the Investment Manager's exclusion and investment selection processes described below and in the Annexes to this Prospectus.

Responsible Investment Philosophy

The highest priority of the Investment Manager is the preservation and enhancement of client capital, focusing on responsible investment when selecting assets for investment by the Funds ie, investing in companies with the long-term sustainable interests of their business at heart.

It is an essential component of the Investment Manager's investment selection process to understand the sustainability of the earnings growth for investee companies. The Investment Manager believes that ESG risks are material to the ability of a company to grow in the long-term and therefore are directly related to the ability of the Funds to achieve strong risk-adjusted returns. Accordingly, the Investment Manager integrates ESG risks into the responsible investment selection process applied in respect of the Funds by looking to reduce the ESG risks of the Funds' investments by investing in companies that have strong environmental and social policies and good corporate governance practices (as described above), and excluding companies that are determined to have significant ESG risks (as described below).

Responsible Investment Selection Process

1. Integration – Exclusions

ESG exclusions are incorporated throughout each stage of the investment selection process. The Investment Manager first filters out companies from non-OECD countries. This is designed to only allow companies from countries that have a commitment to democracy, the protection of human rights and to open and transparent free markets.

Next, the Investment Manager applies certain sector exclusions based on its determination of business activities that may not be sustainable, to screen out companies involved in these sectors. These are (i) telecommunications; (ii) automobiles; (iii) tobacco; (iv) energy (including oil, gas and consumable fuels); (v) banks; (vi) heavy industrials (including aerospace & defence); (ix) metals & mining; (x) utilities (including electric, gas & water).

The Investment Manager also screens out companies that engage in controversial weapon production and arms manufacturers.

2. Integration – Quality Growth Criteria

The Investment Manager conducts the initial negative screens in order to exclude companies which have been subject to significant ESG issues (such as reputational damage, regulatory fines due to pollution or the risk of strike action due to unsafe working conditions) and then incorporates ESG risks and factors into its fundamental, bottom-up analysis.

Once a company has passed the initial negative screen, it is scrutinized by the Investment Manager's investment team before admission into the investible universe. This next stage further refines the population of companies based on the "Quality Growth" criteria, detailed above in the Investment Objective and Policy section for each Fund. The Investment Manager takes ESG characteristics into account when assessing Quality Growth criteria, which provide the framework for the analysis of the factors of a business that will ensure its sustainable development. The Investment Manager assesses these criteria on a fundamental basis, using quantitative and qualitative tools. As part of these Quality Growth tests, analysts adhere to both the 'spirit' and the 'letter' of each criterion in order to test adherence. Companies that are determined to have significant ESG risks are excluded through the Investment Manager's exclusive search for growth process that eliminates companies that do not meet the Investment Manager's tests for Quality Growth.

This Quality Growth research step focuses on fundamental business, financial and governance-based tests which are described above, and which in the Investment Manager's view must also include monitoring the ESG impact of investee companies in order to evaluate whether they support conditions for sustainable growth. For example, in order for a business to have a sustainable competitive advantage, a business must adhere to local regulations surrounding air and water pollution or energy efficiency (so that they can avoid the risks associated with offending such regulations), advance human rights, foster employee engagement and promote safe working environments for their direct employees, and where applicable, for employees in companies further up or further down their supply chains. This is good business practice and businesses that practice good employee relations regularly enjoy higher employee engagement and satisfaction, which is crucial to sustainable development. These criteria are measured quantitatively, directly through data collected by the Investment Manager's in-house research team, as well as indirectly through third party data and informational sources (including via external partners who provide reports and information on the exposure of a company to ESG factors as well as the management of the company of the ESG risks associated with that factor) and qualitatively, in that the Investment Manager must assess each metric on a case-by-case basis to determine whether any of the factors jeopardises the overall sustainability of the business. Assessed data includes metrics across business ethics, corporate governance, the environmental impact of products and services, emissions, effluents and waste, human capital and human rights and resource use in the supply chain, where available.

3. Integration – Ongoing Research and Engagement

Following admission into the investible universe, the Investment Manager's investment analysts continue to review the companies on an ongoing basis to keep research up-to-date. This takes the form of research updates which are communicated in report form as well as deep-dive investigations at regular investment meetings. They are responsible for flagging any matter which poses a risk to the long-term sustainability of the Investment Manager's investments (ie, sustainability risks), including among others, issues concerning corporate governance, material changes in management and stakeholder relations, ESG controversies that might negatively affect the company, matters that adversely impact companies' reputation, matters that could lead to regulatory fines or disproportionate behaviour towards stakeholders as well as the environment in which such companies operate.

The Investment Manager's analysts will review annual reports and, where it is possible to engage with the company directly, will aim to meet with company management at regular intervals, in order to refine their investment analysis and discuss an investee company's corporate governance, long-term strategy, leverage and financial statements. Analysts seek to develop strong relationships with the management teams of investee companies over a period of many years in order to facilitate meaningful dialogue. Analysts will engage with companies across all levels, including from the most senior levels to vendors, clients and competitors of investee companies. This gives analysts a clearer picture of a company's values, corporate culture and treatment of stakeholders, which are factored into the Investment Manager's overall assessment of a company.

The indicators used to measure the attainment of ESG characteristics promoted by the Funds (namely, the analysis carried out under "Exclusions" and "Quality Growth Criteria" detailed above), include indicators that are important to the estimation of the overall sustainability of a company's business. These include analysing both internal (conducted by the company) and external (conducted by third parties) information. Where a company already invested in is flagged as part of the ongoing analysis as no longer performing in any of the E, S or G areas, the Investment Manager will:

- assess the degree to which the breach of E, S or G characteristics interferes with the overall sustainability of the company's business;
- where possible, engage with the company's management on the issue, where the breach is deemed to jeopardise the overall sustainability of the company's business; and
- where management choose a course of inaction and it is determined that the issue negatively affects the overall sustainability of the company's business, dispose of its position and allocate capital away from the offending company and toward companies that do promote sustainable characteristics.

Resources

To gather and assess ESG information and risks, the Investment Manager leverages its in-house research team, but also utilises specialised firms to expand its knowledge and understanding of ESG risks. These external partners, which may include Sustainalytics, Morningstar Direct and/or ISS, are selected based on the quality of the information provided and scope of coverage. These resources are available to supplement in-house research but are not the basis of automatic exclusions or investment decisions, rather they provide guidance and may provide triggers for additional research.

Principles for Responsible Investment ("PRI")

The Manager has adopted the principles of the United Nations PRI and is a formal signatory. The Manager has completed a reporting and assessment questionnaire to measure its progress and adherence to the PRI. Once published, the questionnaire will be made available on the Manager's website. The Investment Manager is a signatory of the PRI, effective January 2019, and currently completes this questionnaire on an annual basis.

More detail on the Manager's approach to sustainability (acting in respect of the Funds through the Investment Manager as its delegate) can be found in the Annexes to this Prospectus and in the Investment Manager's Responsible Investment Policy, available publicly on its website (<https://www.seilernfunds.com/>).

Risk Factors

Investors' attention is drawn to the following risk factors. This does not purport to be an exhaustive list of the risk factors relating to investment in the Funds.

Investment Risk

There can be no assurance that the Funds will achieve their investment objectives. The value of Shares may rise or fall as the capital value of the securities in which the Funds invest may fluctuate. The investment income of the Funds is based on the income earned on the securities they hold, less expenses incurred. Therefore, the Funds' investment income may be expected to fluctuate in response to changes in such expenses or income. As an initial charge is payable on the subscription for Shares, the difference at any one time between the issue and repurchase price of Shares means that an investment should be viewed as medium to long term.

Risks of Debt Securities

The prices of debt securities fluctuate in response to perceptions of the issuer's creditworthiness and also tend to vary inversely with market interest rates. The value of such securities is likely to decline in times of rising interest rates. Conversely, when rates fall, the value of these investments is likely to rise. The longer the time to maturity the greater are such variations. A Fund may be subject to credit risk (i.e. the risk that an issuer of securities will be unable to pay principal and interest when due, or that the value of a security will suffer because investors believe the issuer is less able to pay). This is broadly gauged by the credit ratings of the securities in which the Fund invests. However, ratings are only the opinions of the agencies issuing them and are not absolute guarantees as to quality.

Not all government securities are backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. or other national government in the case of non-U.S. government securities. Some are backed only by the credit of the issuing agency or instrumentality. Accordingly, there is at least a chance of default on these U.S. government securities, as well as on non-U.S. government securities in which a Fund may invest, which may subject the Fund to credit risk.

The ratings of nationally recognized statistical rating organizations ("NRSROs") represent the opinions of those agencies. Such ratings are relative and subjective, and are not absolute standards of quality. Unrated debt securities are not necessarily of lower quality than rated securities, but they may not be attractive to as many buyers. The NRSROs may change, without prior notice, their ratings on particular debt securities held by a Fund, and downgrades in ratings are likely to adversely affect the price of the relevant debt securities.

Credit and Settlement Risk

Each Fund will be exposed to credit risk on parties with whom it trades and may also bear the risk of settlement default.

Political Risks

The value of a Fund's assets may be affected by uncertainties, such as political developments, changes in government policies, taxation and currency repatriation and restrictions on foreign investment in some of the countries in which the relevant Fund may invest.

Currency Risks

The Net Asset Value of the Company and of the Shares will be computed in the Base Currency of each Fund whereas each Fund's investments may be acquired in other currencies. The value in terms of the Base Currency of the investments of each Fund, which may be designated in any currency, may rise and fall due to exchange rate fluctuations of individual currencies. Adverse movements in currency exchange rates can result in a decrease in return and a loss of capital. It may not be possible or practicable to hedge against the consequent currency risk exposure in all circumstances. A description of the techniques and instruments used is set out in Schedule 2. The Company may create hedged currency classes to hedge the resulting currency exposure back into the Base Currency of the relevant Share class. In addition, the Fund may hedge the currency exposure due to investing in assets denominated in a currency other than the Fund's Base Currency. The relevant currency of the Share class may be hedged so that the resulting currency exposure will not exceed 100 per cent of the Net Asset Value of the Share class provided that if this limit is exceeded the Company shall adopt as a priority objective the managing back of the leverage to within the limit, taking due account of the interests of the Shareholders and provided further that the positions will be reviewed on a monthly basis and over or under hedged positions will not be carried forward. The costs and gains or losses associated with any hedging transactions for hedged class currencies will accrue solely to the hedged currency class to which they relate. Where hedged currency Share classes have been created the Investment Manager will use instruments such as forward currency contracts to hedge the currency exposures implied by the Fund's relevant or appropriate benchmark to the currency of denomination of the relevant Share class. Whilst these hedging strategies are designed to reduce the losses to a Shareholder's investment if the currency of that Share class or the currencies of assets which are denominated in currencies other than the Fund's Base Currency fall against that of the Base Currency of the relevant Fund and/or the currencies of the relevant or appropriate benchmark, the use of hedging strategies may substantially limit holders of Shares in the relevant Share class from benefiting if the currency of that class rises against that of the Base Currency of the relevant Fund and/or the currency in which the assets of the relevant Fund are denominated and/or the currencies of the relevant or appropriate benchmark. The same applies where the currency exposure due to holding non-Base Currency investments is carried out by a Fund.

Liquidity Risk

The assets in which the Company may invest may prove to be illiquid and prices may be highly volatile. This may affect the price at which and the time period in which the Company may liquidate positions to meet redemption requests or other funding requirements. The Company may be unable to dispose of the investments acquired by it or, should it be able to dispose of them, may realise a price at significantly less than par (or even zero) or significantly less than any net asset value or valuation it has previously obtained for such investments.

Swing Pricing

As described in the "Determination of Net Asset Value" section, the Manager may, where it so determines, "swing" the Net Asset Value of a Fund to attempt to mitigate the potentially dilutive effects of dealing on the Net Asset Value on any Dealing Day on which there are net subscriptions or redemptions in the Fund above a certain predefined threshold. In such cases, investors should be aware that swing pricing may not always prevent the dilution of the Net Asset Value through dealing costs and the adjustments made to the Net Asset Value may also benefit certain investors relative to the Shareholders in the Fund as a whole. For example a subscriber into a Fund on a day on which the Net Asset Value is swung downwards as a result of net redemptions from the Fund may benefit from paying a lower Net Asset Value per Share in respect of their subscription than they would otherwise have been charged. In addition, a Fund's Net Asset Value and short-term performance may experience greater volatility as a result of this valuation methodology. The application of swing pricing may also increase the variability of a Fund's returns.

Umbrella structure of the Company and Cross-Liability Risk

Each Fund will be responsible for paying its fees and expenses regardless of the level of its profitability. The Company is an umbrella fund with segregated liability between sub-funds and under Irish law the Company generally will not be liable as a whole to third parties and there generally will not be the potential for cross liability between the Funds. Notwithstanding the foregoing, there can be no assurance that, should an action be brought against the Company in the courts of another jurisdiction, the segregated nature of the Funds would necessarily be upheld.

Risks Associated with Umbrella Cash Accounts

The Umbrella Cash Accounts will operate in respect of the Company rather than a relevant Fund and the segregation of Investor Monies from the liabilities of Funds other than the relevant Fund to which the Investor Monies relate is dependent upon, among other things, the correct recording of the assets and liabilities attributable to individual Funds by or on behalf of the Company.

In the event of an insolvency of the Fund, there is no guarantee that the Fund will have sufficient monies to pay unsecured creditors (including the investors entitled to Investor Monies) in full.

Monies attributable to other Funds within the Company will also be held in the Umbrella Cash Accounts. In the event of the insolvency of a Fund (an “Insolvent Fund”), the recovery of any amounts to which another Fund (the “Beneficiary Fund”) is entitled, but which may have transferred in error to the Insolvent Fund as a result of the operation of the Umbrella Cash Accounts, will be subject to applicable law and the operational procedures for the Umbrella Cash Accounts. There may be delays in effecting, and/or disputes as to the recovery of, such amounts, and the Insolvent Fund may have insufficient funds to repay amounts due to the Beneficiary Fund.

In the event that an investor fails to provide the subscription monies within the timeframe stipulated in the Prospectus the investor may be required to indemnify the Fund against the liabilities that may be incurred by it. The Company may cancel any Shares that have been issued to the investor and charge the investor interest and other expenses incurred by the relevant Fund. In the event that the Company is unable to recoup such amounts from the defaulting investor, the relevant Fund may incur losses or expenses in anticipation of receiving such amounts, for which the relevant Fund, and consequently its Shareholders, may be liable.

It is not expected that any interest will be paid on the amounts held in the Umbrella Cash Accounts. Any interest earned on the monies in the Umbrella Cash Accounts will be for the benefit of the relevant Fund and will be allocated to the Fund on a periodic basis for the benefit of the Shareholders at the time of the allocation.

The Central Bank’s guidance on umbrella cash accounts is new and, as a result, may be subject to change and further clarification.

Trading in Derivatives for Efficient Portfolio Management (“EPM”)

While the prudent use of financial derivative instruments (“FDI”) and EPM techniques and instruments such as repurchase agreements, reverse repurchase agreements and stocklending agreements can be beneficial, FDIs and EPM techniques also involve risks different from, and in certain cases greater than, the risks presented by more traditional investments. The prices of all derivative instruments, including futures and options prices, are highly volatile. Price movements of futures and options contracts are influenced by, among other things, interest rates, changing supply and demand relationships, trade, fiscal, monetary and exchange control programmes and policies of governments, and national and international political and economic events and policies. The value of futures and options also depends upon the price of the securities underlying them.

Counterparty (credit) risk

Each Fund may enter transactions in OTC markets that expose it to the credit of its counterparties and their ability to satisfy the terms of such contracts. Where the Funds enter into swap arrangements and derivative techniques, they will be exposed to the risk that the counterparty may default on its obligations to perform under the relevant contract. In the event of a bankruptcy or insolvency of a counterparty, the Funds could experience delays in liquidating the position and may incur a significant losses.

Position (market) risk

There is also a possibility that ongoing derivative transactions will be terminated unexpectedly as a result of events outside the control of the Company, for instance, bankruptcy, supervening illegality or a change in the tax or accounting laws relative to those transactions at the time the agreement was originated. In accordance with standard industry practice, it is the Company's policy to net exposures against its counterparties.

Liquidity risk

The swap market has grown substantially in recent years with a large number of banks and investment banking firms acting both as principals and as agents utilising standardised swap documentation. As a result, the swap market has become liquid but there can be no assurance that a liquid secondary market will exist at any specified time for any particular swap.

Settlement risk

The Funds also are subject to the risk of the failure of any of the exchanges on which these instruments are traded or of their clearing houses.

Correlation risk

Derivatives do not always perfectly or even highly correlate or track the value of the securities, rates or indices they are designed to track. Consequently, the Company's use of derivative techniques may not always be an effective means of, and sometimes could be counter-productive to, the Company's investment objective. An adverse price movement in a derivative position may require cash payments of variation margin by the Company that might in turn require, if there is insufficient cash available in the portfolio, the sale of the Company's investments under disadvantageous conditions.

Legal risk

There are legal risks involved in using FDIs which may result in loss due to the unexpected application of a law or regulation or because contracts are not legally enforceable or documented correctly.

Expected effect of FDI transactions on the risk profile of the Company and the extent to which the Company will be leveraged through the use of FDIs

Since many FDIs have a leverage component, adverse changes in the value or level of the underlying asset, rate or index can result in a loss substantially greater than the amount invested in the derivative itself. Certain FDIs have the potential for unlimited loss regardless of the size of the initial investment. If there is a default by the other party to any such transaction, there will be contractual remedies; however, exercising such contractual rights may involve delays or costs which could result in the value of the total assets of the related portfolio being less than if the transaction had not been entered.

Risks associated with Futures and Options

The Funds may from time to time use both exchange-traded and over the counter futures and options as part of its investment policy or for hedging purposes. These instruments are highly volatile, involve certain special risks and expose investors to a high risk of loss. The low initial margin deposits normally required to establish a futures position permit a high degree of leverage. As a result, a relatively small movement in the price of a futures contract may result in a profit or a loss which is high in proportion to the amount of funds actually placed as initial margin and may result in an unquantifiable further loss exceeding any margin deposited. Further, when used for hedging purposes there may be an imperfect correlation between these instruments and the investments or market sectors being hedged. Transactions in OTC derivatives may involve additional risk as there is no exchange or market on which to close out an open position. It may be impossible to liquidate an existing position, to assess or value a position or to assess the exposure to risk.

Custody Risks

The Depositary and its sub-custodians, if any, will have custody of a Fund's securities, cash, distributions and rights accruing to the Fund's securities accounts. If the Depositary or a sub-custodian holds cash on behalf of a Fund, the Fund may be an unsecured creditor in the event of the insolvency of the Depositary or sub-custodian. Although this is generally done to reduce or diversify risk, there can be no assurance that holding securities through the Depositary or its sub-custodians will eliminate custodial risk. The Funds will be subject to credit risk with respect to the Depositary and the sub-custodians, if any.

Concentration Risk

Where a Fund focuses its investments on a limited number of markets, countries, types of investment and/or issuers, it will not enjoy the same level of diversification of risks across different markets, countries, types of investment and/or issuers that would be possible if investments were not so concentrated. Such a concentration of investments could increase the potential for volatility and risk of loss, especially in periods of pronounced market volatility. While the Investment Manager may allocate a Fund's assets among differing investment strategies and techniques, there are no fixed allocation percentages. There is the risk that a disproportionate share of a Fund's assets may be committed to one or more strategies or techniques. In particular, Funds invested in a limited number of markets or countries are generally considered higher risk as they are exposed to the fluctuations of a more limited number of markets and currencies. Also, where a Fund has a concentrated portfolio this may increase the likelihood of volatile performance, especially in periods of pronounced market volatility.

European Market Infrastructure Regulation ("EMIR")

A Fund may enter into OTC derivative contracts. EMIR establishes certain requirements for OTC derivatives contracts, including mandatory clearing obligations, bilateral risk management requirements and reporting requirements. Although not all the regulatory technical standards specifying the risk management procedures, including the levels and type of collateral and segregation arrangements, required to give effect to EMIR have been phased in and it is therefore not possible to be definitive as to what the implications will actually be, investors should be aware that certain provisions of EMIR impose obligations on the Funds in relation to its transaction of OTC derivative contracts.

The potential implications of EMIR for the Funds include, without limitation, the following:

1. clearing obligation: certain standardised OTC derivative transactions will be subject to mandatory clearing through a central counterparty (a "CCP"). Clearing derivatives through a CCP may result in additional costs and may be on less favourable terms than would be the case if such derivative was not required to be centrally cleared;
2. risk mitigation techniques: for those of its OTC derivatives which are not subject to central clearing, the Funds will be required to put in place risk mitigation requirements, which include the collateralisation of all OTC derivatives. These risk mitigation requirements may increase the cost to the Funds of pursuing their investment strategies (or hedging risks arising from their investment strategies);
3. reporting obligations: each Fund's derivative transactions must be reported to a trade repository or where such a trade repository is not available, ESMA. This reporting obligation may increase the costs to the Funds of utilising derivatives; and
4. risk of sanction by the Central Bank in the event of non-compliance with the EMIR obligations.

Cyber Security Risk

Like other business enterprises, the use of the internet and other electronic media and technology exposes the Company, the Company's service providers, and their respective operations, to potential risks from cyber-security attacks or incidents (collectively, "cyber-events"). Cyber-events may include, for example, unauthorised access to systems, networks or devices (such as, for example, through “hacking” activity), infection from computer viruses or other malicious software code, and attacks which shut down, disable, slow or otherwise disrupt operations, business processes or website access or functionality. In addition to intentional cyber-events, unintentional cyber-events can occur, such as, for example, the inadvertent release of confidential information. Any cyber-event could adversely impact the Company and the Shareholders, and cause the Fund to incur financial loss and expense, as well as face exposure to regulatory penalties, reputational damage, and additional compliance costs associated with corrective measures. A cyber-event may cause the Company, the Fund, or the Company’s service providers to lose proprietary information, suffer data corruption, lose operational capacity (such as, for example, the loss of the ability to process transactions, calculate the Net Asset Value of the Fund or allow Shareholders to transact business) and/or fail to comply with applicable privacy and other laws. Among other potentially harmful effects, cyber-events also may result in theft, unauthorised monitoring and failures in the physical infrastructure or operating systems that support the Company and the Company’s service providers. In addition, cyber-events affecting issuers in which the Fund invests could cause the Fund’s investments to lose value.

Cyber Security and Identity Theft

Information and technology systems relied upon by a Fund, a Fund’s service providers (including, but not limited to, the auditors, Manager, Investment Manager, Depositary and Administrator) and/or the issuers of securities in which a Fund invests may be vulnerable to damage or interruption from computer viruses, network failures, computer and telecommunication failures, infiltration by unauthorised persons and security breaches, usage errors by their respective professionals, power outages and catastrophic events such as fires, tornadoes, floods, hurricanes and earthquakes. Although the parties noted above have implemented measures to manage risks relating to these types of events, if these systems are compromised, become inoperable for extended periods of time or cease to function properly, significant investment may be required to fix or replace them. The failure of these systems and/or of disaster recovery plans for any reason could cause significant interruptions in the operations of a Fund, a service provider and/or the issuer of a security in which a Fund invests and may result in a failure to maintain the security, confidentiality or privacy of sensitive data, including personal information relating to investors (and the beneficial owners of investors). Such a failure could also harm a Fund’s, a service provider’s and/or an issuer’s reputation, subject such entity and its affiliates to legal claims and otherwise affect their business and financial performance.

Taxation Risks

Statements in this Prospectus concerning the taxation of Shareholders, the Company or a Fund are based on law and our understanding of the practice of the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland as at the date of this Prospectus. Any change in the tax status of the Company or a Fund, or in the applicable accounting standards, or in tax legislation or the tax regime, or in the practice relating to, the interpretation or application of tax legislation applicable to the Company, a Fund or the assets of a Fund, could affect the value of the investments held by the Fund, the Fund’s ability to achieve its stated objective, the Fund’s ability to provide distributions to Shareholders and/or alter the post-tax returns to Shareholders. It is possible that any legislative changes may have retrospective effect. The information contained in this Prospectus is intended as a guide only and is not a substitute for professional advice. A Shareholder that is eligible for an exemption from Irish withholding tax is required to provide a declaration to the Company confirming their status as a condition of obtaining the exemption. Investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors in relation to their personal circumstances and suitability of this investment. Please see the section of this Prospectus entitled “Taxation”.

The U.K.’s Withdrawal from the EU

On 31 January 2020 the U.K. left the EU (“Brexit”). The U.K. and the EU agreed a transition period from 31 January 2020 to 31 December 2020 (the “Transition Period”), during which the U.K. generally continued to apply EU law. On 24 December 2020, the U.K. and the EU announced their agreement on a Trade and Cooperation Agreement (the “TCA”), which provisionally applied from 1 January 2021 and entered into force on 1 May 2021 and therefore a temporary period of “no deal” following the Transition Period was avoided. The conclusion of the TCA provides a structure for EU and U.K. cooperation in the future. It does not necessarily create a permanent set of rules but is a basis for an evolving relationship, with scope for increasing divergence or closer cooperation which may vary between different areas. The U.K. and the EU are likely to continue to negotiate trading or other agreements for a number of years.

Until the terms stemming from the TCA (and Joint Declarations) are clearer, the U.K.'s future economic and political relationship with the EU (and with other non-EU countries by agreement) continues to remain uncertain. This uncertainty is likely to generate further global currency and asset price volatility. This may negatively impact the returns of the Funds and their investments resulting in greater costs if a Fund employs currency hedging policies. Ongoing uncertainty could adversely impact the general economic outlook and as such, this may impact negatively on the ability of a Fund and its investments to execute their strategies effectively, and may also result in increased costs to the Company.

At the date of this Prospectus, the Funds continue to be able to be marketed to U.K. investors. During the Transition Period, the Funds could continue to use their passporting rights into the U.K. Following the expiry of the Transition period, all cross-border passporting rights to the U.K. for the Funds ceased; however, the U.K.'s Temporary Permission Regime (the "TPR") permits the Funds, subject to certain conditions, to continue to be marketed in the U.K. Since the introduction of the TPR on 1 January 2021, funds seeking to be marketed in the UK are required to obtain permanent market access in the UK.

As the Investment Manager is based in the U.K. and a Fund's investments may be located in the U.K. or the EU, a Fund may as a result be affected by the events described above. The impact of such events on a Fund is difficult to predict but there may be detrimental implications for the value of certain of the Fund's investments, or its ability to enter into transactions or to value or realise such investments. This may be due to, among other things: (i) increased uncertainty and volatility in the U.K. and EU financial markets; (ii) fluctuations in the market value of sterling and of the U.K. and EU assets; (iii) fluctuations in exchange rates between sterling, the euro and other currencies; (iv) increased illiquidity of investments located or listed within the U.K. or the EU; and/or (v) the willingness of financial counterparties to enter into transactions, or the price at which they are prepared to transact in relation to the management of a Fund's investment, currency and other risks.

It is possible that there will be more divergence between U.K. and EU regulations, limiting what cross-border activities can take place. However it is unlikely to affect the Funds' ability to receive portfolio management services. The nature and extent of the impact of any Brexit-related changes are uncertain, but may be significant.

The U.K.'s withdrawal from the EU may also affect the wider European markets in the short to mid-term. In particular, the decision made in the British referendum may lead to a call for similar referendums in other European jurisdictions which may cause increased economic volatility in the European and global markets. This uncertainty may have an adverse effect on the economy generally and on the ability of a Fund to execute its respective strategy and receive attractive returns.

The information provided in this section is correct as at the date of this Prospectus.

EU and Europe Stability Risk

In light of ongoing concerns on the sovereign debt risk of certain EU Member States within the Eurozone. The Company's investments in the Eurozone may be subject to higher volatility, liquidity, currency and default risks. Any adverse events, such as credit downgrade of a sovereign or exit of EU Member States from the Eurozone, may have a negative impact on the value of the Funds.

The ongoing Russian invasion of Ukraine has also had a significant impact on the worldwide economy and the economic outlook of many EU Member States. The invasion continues to affect a range of industries, such as the energy and food sectors, squeezing supply and inflating prices. The continued negative economic effects of the invasion may have an adverse effect on the performance of the Funds.

Risks Associated with delays in providing complete Customer Due Diligence

Investors should note that there is a risk that any delay in providing a signed copy of the application form and all documents required in connection with the obligations to prevent money laundering and terrorist financing to the Administrator may result in Shares not being issued on a particular Dealing Day.

Force Majeure Events

Each of the Manager, Administrator, Depository, Investment Manager and other service providers to the Company and their delegates may be affected by force majeure events (i.e., events beyond the control of the party claiming that the event has occurred, including, without limitation, acts of God, fire, flood, earthquakes, outbreaks of an infectious disease, pandemic or any other serious public health concern, war, terrorism and labour strikes, major plant breakdowns, pipeline or electricity line ruptures, failure of technology, defective design and construction, accidents, demographic changes, government macroeconomic policies and social instability). Some force majeure events may adversely affect the ability of any such parties to perform their obligations to the Company until they are able to remedy the force majeure event. While it is expected that such service providers will implement contingency plans for addressing force majeure events it is possible that such force majeure events exceed the assumptions of such plans.

Certain force majeure events (such as war or an outbreak of an infectious disease) may also have a broader negative impact on the world economy and international business activity generally, or in any of the countries in which the Funds may invest specifically. Since late 2019, several countries have experienced outbreaks of a novel coronavirus ("nCoV") which is from a family of viruses that cause illnesses ranging from the common cold to more severe diseases. Any spread of an infectious illness or similar public health threat could reduce consumer demand or economic output, impact on the market value of investments, result in market closures, travel restrictions or quarantines, and generally have a significant impact on the world economy and disrupt markets. The nature and extent of the impact of such events is difficult to predict but they may adversely affect the return on each Fund and its investments. Market disruptions or closures may result in the Investment Manager being unable to accurately value the assets of a Fund, or in the event of high levels of redemption, the Company may use certain liquidity management tools permitted by the Central Bank, including deferred redemptions, the implementation of fair value pricing or temporary suspension of a Fund. Despite the increasingly hopeful outlook due to the introduction of several vaccines and other public health measures, nCoV still presents a pertinent risk to the world economy and therefore to the performance of the Funds.

Furthermore, the heightened risks related to pandemics and outbreaks of disease could call into question the applicability, or lack thereof, of force majeure provisions in connection with contracts that the Company and its investments have entered into. If a force majeure event is determined to have occurred, a counterparty to the Company or a Fund may be relieved of its obligations under certain contracts to which it is a party, or, if it has not, the Company and its investments may be required to meet their contractual obligations, despite potential constraints on their operations and/or financial stability. Either outcome could adversely impact investments and the Company's performance.

ESG and Sustainability Risk

The Manager has adopted the Investment Manager's policy on the integration of sustainability risks in its investment decision-making process. A sustainability risk is an ESG event or condition that, if it occurs, could cause an actual or a potential material negative impact on the value of an investment. A summary of the Investment Manager's policy can be found in the section titled "Investment Objectives and Policy of the Funds – Sustainable Finance Disclosures Regulation" above.

As part of its broader risk assessment for each Fund, the Investment Manager will selectively consider the potential sustainability risks that would likely impact on the performance of a Fund. These risks are monitored on an ongoing basis as part of the Investment Manager's active portfolio management strategy.

The Manager will assess the impact of sustainability risks on the returns of a Fund by relying on the Investment Manager to monitor sustainability risks on an ongoing basis as part of its portfolio management of such Fund. The Investment Manager believes that ESG risks are material to the ability of a company to grow in the long-term and therefore are directly related to the ability of the Funds to achieve strong risk-adjusted returns. The likely impacts of sustainability risks on the returns of a Fund will depend on the Fund's exposure to investments that are vulnerable to sustainability risks and the materiality of the sustainability risks. The negative impacts of sustainability risks on a Fund should be mitigated by the Investment Manager's approach to integrating sustainability risks in its investment decision-making as described in the section titled "Investment Objectives and Policy of the Funds – Sustainable Finance Disclosures Regulation" above. However, there is no guarantee that these measures will mitigate or prevent sustainability risks from materialising in respect of a Fund.

The likely impact on the returns of a Fund from an actual or potential material decline in the value of an investment due to an ESG event or condition will vary and depend on several factors including, but not limited to, the type, extent, complexity and duration of the event or condition, prevailing market conditions and the existence of any mitigating factors.

The ESG information used to determine whether companies are managed and behave responsibly may be provided by third-party sources and is based on backward-looking analysis. The subjective nature of non-financial ESG criteria means a wide variety of outcomes are possible. The data may not adequately address material sustainability factors. The analysis is also dependent on companies disclosing relevant data and the availability of this data can be limited. These limitations are mitigated through the use of a variety of data sources and the Investment Manager's own in-house research.

Further information on the Manager's approach to sustainability (acting in respect of the Funds through the Investment Manager as its delegate) is available on its website at <https://www.seilernfunds.com/>.

Other Risks

The Company will be responsible for paying its fees and expenses regardless of the level of its profitability.

Fees and Expenses

Each fund shall pay all of its expenses and its due proportion of any expenses allocated to it. These expenses may include the costs of maintaining the Company, the relevant fund and any subsidiary company established with the prior approval of the Central Bank and registering the Company, the relevant fund and the Shares with any governmental or regulatory authority or with any regulated market, (i) management, administration, management services, custodial, paying agency and related services, (ii) preparation, printing and posting of prospectuses, sales literature and reports to Shareholders, the Central Bank and governmental agencies, (iii) taxes, (iv) commissions and brokerage fees, (v) auditing, tax and legal fees, (vi) insurance premiums and (vii) other operating expenses. Such fees and expenses will be a normal commercial rates. The costs of establishing the Company and the Funds will be discharged by the Manager out of its own fee.

In addition, each Fund shall pay the following expenses:

Management Fee

Details of the maximum management fees applicable to the various Share classes of the Funds are set out in Schedule 5.

The management fee will accrue on each Dealing Day and shall be paid to the Manager monthly in arrears. In addition, the Manager will be entitled to be reimbursed its reasonable out of pocket expenses. From this the Manager shall discharge the fees and out-of-pocket expenses of the Investment Manager in respect of its services as investment manager to the Company.

Administrator's Fee

The Administrator is entitled to receive administration and fund accounting fees ranging between 0.015 per cent and 0.035 per cent per annum of the Net Asset Value each Fund. Such fees shall accrue daily and be paid monthly in arrears, calculated based on the month end Net Asset Value, and are subject to a yearly minimum fee of US$100,000. Additional share classes in excess of fifteen share classes in respect of the Company shall be charged at US$500 per month. The Administrator shall also be entitled to receive registration fees and transaction and reporting charges at normal commercial rates which shall accrue daily and be paid monthly in arrears.

The Administrator shall also be entitled to be reimbursed by the Company for all reasonable and vouched out-of-pocket expenses incurred by it for the benefit of the Company in the performance of its duties under the administration agreement.

Depository's Fee

The Depository shall be entitled to receive, out of the assets of each Fund, a trustee fee accrued at each Dealing Day and payable monthly in arrears, of 0.014 per cent per annum of the Net Asset Value of each Fund.

The Depository will also receive from each Fund a custodial fee of up to 0.02 per cent of the Net Asset Value of each Fund. Such fees shall accrue daily and be paid monthly in arrears, calculated based on the month end assets, and are subject to a yearly minimum fee of US$10,000. The Depository shall also be entitled to receive transaction charges and all sub custodian charges will be recovered by the Depository from the Company as they are incurred by the relevant sub custodians. All such charges shall be at normal commercial rates. The Depository is also entitled to reimbursement of all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred for the benefit of the Company.

Directors' Fees

The Directors shall be entitled to a fee for their services at a rate to be determined from time to time by the Directors, provided that the amount of remuneration payable to any Director in any one year in respect of the Company shall not exceed €35,000. The Directors and any alternate Directors may also be paid all travelling, hotel and other expenses properly incurred by them in attending and returning from meetings of the Directors or any committee of the Directors or general meetings or any meetings in connection with the business of the Company.

Initial charge

An initial charge of up to 5 per cent. of the initial subscription price or the Net Asset Value per Share may be deducted from an investor's subscription monies and paid to a sub-distributor appointed by the Manager in consideration for its services as sub-distributor of Shares in a Fund. For the avoidance of doubt, such a charge will be charged outside of the relevant Fund, and the Company or the Manager will not be in receipt of or administer such a charge. The initial charge may be waived at the discretion of the sub-distributor.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE COMPANY

Determination of Net Asset Value

The Administrator (in consultation with the Investment Manager) shall determine the Net Asset Value per Share of each fund on each Dealing Day. The assets of each fund shall be determined as at the Business Day immediately preceding the relevant Dealing Day by taking into account the closing price of each security on the Business Day immediately preceding that Dealing Day in accordance with the Articles. The Net Asset Value per Share in each fund shall be calculated by dividing the assets of the relevant fund, less its liabilities, by the number of Shares in issue in respect of that fund. Where a fund is made up of more than one class of Shares, the Net Asset Value of each class shall be determined by calculating the amount of the Net Asset Value of the relevant fund attributable to each class. The amount of the Net Asset Value of a fund attributable to a class shall be determined by establishing the value of Shares in issue in the class and by allocating relevant fees and expenses to the class and making appropriate adjustments to take account of distributions paid out of the relevant fund, if applicable, and apportioning the Net Asset Value of the relevant fund accordingly. The Net Asset Value per share of a class shall be calculated by dividing the Net Asset Value of the class by the number of Shares in issue in that class. In the event that classes of Shares within a fund are issued which are priced in a currency other than the Base Currency for that fund, currency conversion costs and the costs and gains/losses of the hedging transactions will be borne solely by that class. Any liabilities of the Company which are not attributable to any one fund shall be allocated pro rata to the Net Asset Value amongst all of the funds or those funds to which they relate.

Assets listed or traded on a Regulated Market (other than those referred to below) for which market quotations are readily available shall be valued on the Business Day immediately preceding the relevant Dealing Day as at the official close of business price on the principal Regulated Market for such investment on that Business Day, provided that the value of the investment listed on a Regulated Market but acquired or traded at a premium or at a discount outside or off the relevant stock exchange or an over-the-counter market may be valued taking into account the level of premium or discount as at the date of valuation of the investment with the approval of the Depositary.

If for specific assets the official close of business prices do not, in the opinion of the Administrator (in consultation with the Investment Manager), reflect their fair value or if prices are unavailable, the value shall be estimated with care and in good faith by the Administrator (in consultation with the Investment Manager), approved for that purpose by the Depositary, as at the Business Day immediately preceding the relevant Dealing Day on the basis of the probable realisation value for such assets as at the close of business on the Business Day immediately preceding the relevant Dealing Day.

In the case of unlisted securities or any assets listed or traded on a Regulated Market, but in respect of which a price or quotation is not available at the time of valuation which would provide a fair valuation, the value of such asset shall be estimated with care and in good faith by a competent person selected by the Administrator (in consultation with the Investment Manager) and approved for the purpose by the Depositary and such value shall be determined on the basis of the probable realisation value of the investment.

Cash and other liquid assets will be valued at their face value with interest accrued (if any) to the relevant Dealing Day.

Units or shares in open-ended collective investment schemes will be valued at the latest available net asset value; units or shares in closed-ended collective investment schemes will, if listed, quoted or traded on a Regulated Market, be valued at the latest quoted trade price or, if unavailable, a mid quotation (or, if unavailable, a bid quotation) or, if unavailable or unrepresentative, the latest available net asset value as deemed relevant to the collective investment scheme.

Exchange traded derivative instruments shall be valued at the relevant settlement price on the applicable exchange. If such price is not available such value will be the probable realisation value estimated with care and in good faith by the Administrator (in conjunction with the Investment Manager) and approved for such purpose by the Depositary. Derivative instruments not traded on an exchange shall be valued daily at the settlement price provided by the counterparty to the transaction provided that the valuation is approved or verified at least weekly by an independent party approved for the purpose by the Depositary. Forward foreign exchange contracts shall be valued by reference to the price at which a new forward contract of the same size and maturity could be undertaken as of the Dealing Day, or if unavailable, at the settlement price provided by an independent party to the counterparty approved for such purpose by the Depositary.

In determining the value of the assets there shall be added to the assets any interest or dividends accrued but not received and any amounts available for distribution but in respect of which no distribution has been made and there shall be deducted from the assets all liabilities accrued.

Where applicable, values shall be converted into the Base Currency of the relevant fund at a rate which the Administrator (in conjunction with the Investment Manager) deems appropriate in the circumstances.

Adjustment of Valuations and Swing Pricing

Notwithstanding the above provisions the Manager may, in consultation with the Investment Manager, (a) adjust the valuation of any listed investment; or (b) in relation to a specific asset permit some other method of valuation approved by the Depositary to be used if, having regard to currency, applicable rate of interest, maturity, marketability and/or such other considerations as they deem relevant, they consider that such adjustment or alternative method of valuation is required to reflect more fairly the value thereof.

In addition, on any Dealing Day on which there are net subscriptions into or net redemptions out of a Fund, the actual cost of acquiring or disposing of assets on behalf of the Funds, due to dealing charges, taxes, and any spread between acquisition and disposal prices of assets, may be such as to affect the Net Asset Value of the Fund to the detriment of Shareholders in the Fund as a whole. The adverse effect that these costs could have on the Net Asset Value is known as “dilution”.

In order to seek to mitigate this potentially dilutive effect and seek to preserve the Net Asset Value per Share of a Fund on any Dealing Day on which there are net subscriptions or redemptions in a Fund above a certain predefined threshold of the relevant Fund, the Manager may, in consultation with the Investment Manager, determine, at its discretion, to “swing” the Net Asset Value to counter the possible negative effects of dilution. Where it so determines, the Administrator will calculate the Net Asset Value for the relevant Fund, as described above, and then adjust (“swing”) the Net Asset Value by a pre-determined amount. The direction of the swing will depend on whether there are net subscriptions or redemptions in the relevant Fund on the relevant Dealing Day, while the magnitude of the swing will be based on pre-determined estimates of the average trading costs in the relevant asset class(es) in which the Fund is invested. For example, if the relevant Fund is experiencing net inflows, its Net Asset Value will be swung upwards, so that the incoming shareholders are effectively bearing the costs of the dealing that their subscriptions generate by paying a higher Net Asset Value per Share than they would otherwise be charged. Conversely, where there are net redemptions in the Fund, the Net Asset Value will be swung downwards, so that the outgoing investors are effectively bearing the costs of the dealing that their redemptions generate by receiving a lower Net Asset Value per Share than they would otherwise receive. These swings are intended to protect non-dealing Shareholders from the impact of trading costs triggered by dealing investors.

The determination to swing the Net Asset Value in respect of a Fund will be made following a consideration of the dealing activity (i.e. level of subscriptions and redemptions) in the relevant Fund on a Dealing Day, in accordance with criteria approved by the Manager from time to time. These criteria will include whether the costs of investing or divesting the net inflows into or outflows from a Fund on a Dealing Day will create, in the Manager’s opinion, a significant dilutive impact. Swing pricing will only be exercised for the purpose of reducing dilution in the interests of the Shareholders in a Fund as a whole and will be applied consistently in respect of a Fund and in respect of all assets of that Fund.

The maximum swing in normal market circumstances where swing pricing is adopted is not expected to exceed 0.25% of the Net Asset Value on the relevant Dealing Day. Investors should note that in extreme market conditions the amount by which the Net Asset Value is swung may exceed that level. The application of swing pricing, as described above, may increase the variability of a Fund’s returns. The Manager reserves the right to increase or vary the ‘swing’ of the Net Asset Value without notice to Shareholders. Upon request, investors will be provided with ex-post reporting on whether and to what extent swing pricing has been historically exercised by the Manager in respect of a Fund.

Application for Shares

Payment for Shares in the Sterling denominated classes of the Funds must normally be made in Sterling. Payment for Shares in the Euro denominated classes of the Funds must normally be made in Euro. Payment for Shares in the U.S. Dollar denominated classes of the Funds must normally be made in U.S. Dollar. By arrangement with the Manager and the Investment Manager, subscriptions may be made in any freely convertible currency approved by the Manager and Administrator but may be converted to the Base Currency at the rate of exchange available to the Administrator on the date of conversion, provided that the costs of conversion shall be deducted from the subscription monies.

After the Initial Offer Period, Shares in the Funds will be allotted at the Net Asset Value per Share. All applications for Shares, which shall include all documents required in connection with the obligations to prevent money laundering and terrorist financing, must be received by the Administrator by 12.00 pm (Irish time) on the relevant Dealing Day. All applications for Shares received by the Administrator after this time will be processed for the next available Dealing Day. For the avoidance of doubt the point at which the Net Asset Value per Share is calculated is after the cut-off time for the receipt of applications for subscriptions and redemptions in respect of a Dealing Day. Any applications or incomplete applications received after such times will, unless otherwise agreed with the Directors where such applications have been received prior to the commencement of the calculation of the Net Asset Value per Share and where all authorisations required by the Administrator have been received, be held over until the next Dealing Day. Subscription monies in cleared funds must be paid to the account of and be received by the Administrator by 12.00 pm (Irish time) three Business Days after the Dealing Day. Payment in respect of the issue of Shares must be made by the relevant settlement date by electronic transfer in cleared funds in the currency of denomination of the relevant class. If payment in cleared funds in respect of subscription has not been received by the relevant time, the Company or the Administrator may (and in the event of non-clearance of funds, shall) hold over the allotment until the next Dealing Day and/or charge the investor interest at the overdraft base rate charged by Brown Brothers Harriman & Co, which will be paid into the relevant Fund, together with any fees and charges incurred as a result of a failure to meet the subscription deadline, which is payable to the Company. However, the Company may, in exceptional circumstances (as determined by the Directors), decide to accept an application received by the Administrator after the cut-off time but before the Net Asset Value per Share is calculated. The Company may waive either of such charges in whole or in part. The Directors reserve the right to differentiate between Shareholders and to waive or reduce the minimum subscription for certain investors.

Initial applications for Shares should be made on the application form which should, when completed, be posted or sent by facsimile to the Administrator. Subsequent applications for Shares should be made in writing and posted or sent by facsimile in accordance with the aforementioned instructions or may alternatively be sent electronically in such format or method as shall be agreed in writing in advance with the Administrator and subject to and in accordance with the requirements of the Central Bank.

When instructions are initially given by facsimile, the original application form must be delivered to the Administrator as soon as possible thereafter.

Failure to provide the original application form may, at the discretion of the Directors, result in the cancellation of any allotment of Shares in respect of such application. The Directors have absolute discretion to accept or reject in whole or in part any application for Shares without assigning any reason therefor. The Directors have power to impose such restrictions as they think necessary to ensure that no Shares are acquired by any person which might result in the legal and beneficial ownership of Shares by persons who may expose the Company to adverse tax or regulatory consequences.

Measures aimed at the prevention of money laundering and terrorist financing, within the jurisdiction of the Administrator, will, amongst other things, require a detailed verification of the applicant's identity, address and the source of wealth and/or source of funds.

The Administrator reserves the right to request such information as is necessary to verify the identity, address and the source of wealth and/or source of funds of an applicant. In the event that the Administrator requires further proof of the identity of any applicant it will contact the applicant on receipt of subscription instructions. In the event of delay or failure by the applicant to produce any information required for verification purposes the Administrator or the Company may refuse to accept the application and return the subscription monies where permitted by applicable law. Redemption proceeds will not be paid by the Administrator unless the Administrator has received the original of the application form, used on initial subscription, the original repurchase request and all other documentation required by the Administrator, including any documentation required for anti-money laundering purposes. Before subscribing for Shares an investor will be required to complete a declaration as to the investor's tax residency or status in the form prescribed by the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland. Amendments to a Shareholder's registration details and payment instructions will only be effected on receipt of original documentation. Each applicant for Shares acknowledges that the Administrator and Manager shall be indemnified and held harmless against any loss arising as a result of failure to process his or her application for, or request for redemptions of, Shares if such information and documentation as has been properly requested by the Administrator or Manager has not been provided by the applicant.

The Administrator will complete each trade on receipt of all monies due in the original application form, together with any additional original documents requested. Any application may be rejected in whole or in part at the absolute discretion of the Directors or the Manager. Where rejected all subscription monies received by the Administrator will, where permitted by applicable law, be returned to the account from which the funds are initially paid at the expense of the applicant.

The Company may issue fractional Shares to the second decimal place. Fractional Shares shall not carry any voting rights.

Details of the minimum initial investment applicable to the various Share classes of the Funds is set out in Schedule 5.

All Share classes (with the exception of the Seilern Europa EUR Share class) follow a Share class naming convention: the letter U means that a Share class is unhedged, the letter H means that the Share class is hedged, the letter R means that the Share class is a retail Share class, the letter I means that the Share class is an institutional Share class and the letter C means that the Share class is a clean Share class.

Clean Share classes (Class C Shares) may only be:

- (a) made available, through distributors, to entities who cannot receive trail commissions (which may otherwise have been negotiated with the Investment Manager) either due to regulatory constraints or due to the nature of the individual fee arrangements with their clients. Such entities are independent financial advisors and discretionary portfolio managers. In such circumstances, no trail commission will be paid to any sales partners and the minimum investment amounts may be waived for investments made by distributors and their clients or upon the express approval by the Directors; or
- (b) invested in by investors upon the express approval by the Directors; or
- (c) available to distributors who have a separate fee agreement with their clients.

The Seilern Europa EUR U R (Founders) Share class has been closed to subscriptions from new Shareholders from 31 March 2011. (Additional subscriptions may however continue to be accepted from the holders of Shares of the Seilern Europa EUR U R (Founders) Share class who are on the register of Shareholders as at 31 March 2011.)

The Company reserves the right to vary the minimum initial investment and may choose to waive these minima if appropriate.

Subscription Price

The initial offer price of any new Share class shall be 100 in the relevant currency of the Share class.

Thereafter, each such Share Class shall be issued at the Net Asset Value per Share on the Dealing Day on which the Share is deemed to be issued. Currency conversion will take place in respect of any subscriptions at prevailing exchange rates.

An initial charge of up to 5 per cent. of the initial subscription price or the Net Asset Value per Share may be deducted from an investor's subscription monies and paid to a sub-distributor appointed by the Manager in consideration for its services as sub-distributor of Shares in a Fund. For the avoidance of doubt, such a charge will be charged outside of the relevant Fund, and the Company or the Manager will not be in receipt of or administer such a charge. The initial charge may be waived at the discretion of the sub-distributor.

Written Confirmations of Ownership

The Administrator shall be responsible for maintaining the Company's register of Shareholders in which all issues, repurchases, conversions and transfers of Shares will be recorded. Contract notes will normally be sent to applicants within five Business Days of the Dealing Day, setting out details of the Shares which have been provisionally allotted. Contract notes confirming ownership of Shares will be sent to all applicants upon payment of subscription monies in cleared funds and receipt of the original application together with any documentation required by the Administrator. A Share may be registered in a single name or in up to four joint names. The register of Shareholders shall be available for inspection at the registered office of the Company during normal business hours.

Repurchase Requests

Shareholders may request that Shares be repurchased on any Dealing Day. A written repurchase request must be received by the Administrator at its address no later than 12.00 pm (Irish time) on the relevant Dealing Day. The Company may, in exceptional circumstances (as determined by the Directors), decide to accept an application received by the Administrator after the deadline but before the Net Asset Value per Share is calculated. All repurchase requests shall be irrevocable on receipt by the Administrator. Redemption requests may be made electronically in a format pre-approved by the Administrator or by facsimile. Redemption proceeds may be paid out where a redemption request has been received by the Administrator electronically or by facsimile provided that the Administrator has received an original of the application form used on initial subscription and any other documentation required by the Company and/or the Administrator including all anti-money laundering documentation. Redemption requests will only be processed on receipt of electronic or facsimile instructions where the payment is made to the bank account of record.

If repurchase requests on any Dealing Day exceed 10 per cent of the Shares in any Fund, the Company may defer the excess repurchase requests to subsequent Dealing Days and shall repurchase such Shares pro-rata. Any deferred repurchase requests shall be treated in priority to any repurchase requests received on subsequent Dealing Days.

Repurchase Price

Shares shall be repurchased at the applicable Net Asset Value per Share obtained on the Dealing Day on which repurchase is effected. Currency conversion will take place in respect of any repurchases at prevailing exchange rates. All payments of repurchase monies shall be made within three Business Days of the Dealing Day on which the repurchase request is effective and shall be made by electronic transfer at the Shareholder's expense to the Shareholder's account, details of which shall be notified by the Shareholder to the Administrator.

The Company will be required to withhold tax on redemption monies, at the applicable rate, unless it has received from the Shareholder a declaration in the prescribed form confirming that the Shareholder is not an Irish Resident in respect of whom it is necessary to deduct tax.

The Company, with the sanction of an ordinary resolution of the Shareholders, may transfer assets of the Company to a Shareholder in satisfaction of the repurchase monies payable on the repurchase of Shares, provided that, in the case of any repurchase request in respect of Shares representing 5 per cent. or less of the share capital of the Company or the relevant fund or with the consent of the Shareholder making such repurchase request, assets may be transferred without the sanction of an ordinary resolution, provided that such distribution is equitable and not prejudicial to the interests of the remaining Shareholders. Asset allocation in relation to such distributions in kind is subject to the approval of the Depositary. At the request of the Shareholder making such repurchase request such assets may be sold by the Company and the proceeds of sale shall be transmitted to the Shareholder.

Mandatory Repurchase of Shares and Forfeiture of Dividend

If a repurchase causes a Shareholder's holding to fall below the currency equivalent of US$20,000 in the case of Seilern America, below €15,000 in the case of Seilern Europa, below the currency equivalent of Stg£10,000 in respect of Seilern World Growth Fund, the Company may repurchase the whole of that Shareholder's holding in the relevant Fund. Before doing so, the Company shall notify the Shareholder in writing and allow the Shareholder thirty days to purchase additional Shares to meet the minimum holding requirement. The Company reserves the right to vary this mandatory redemption amount.

Shareholders are required to notify the Administrator immediately in the event that they become U.S. Persons. Shareholders who become U.S. Persons will be required to dispose of their Shares to non-U.S. Persons on the next Dealing Day thereafter unless the Shares are held pursuant to an exemption which would allow them to hold the Shares. The Company reserves the right to repurchase or require the transfer of any Shares which are or become owned, directly or indirectly, by a U.S. Person or other person if the holding of the Shares by such other person is unlawful or, in the opinion of the Directors, the holding might result in the Company or the Shareholders incurring any liability to taxation or suffering pecuniary or material administrative disadvantage which the Company or the Shareholders might not otherwise suffer or incur.

The Articles of Association provide that any unclaimed dividends shall be forfeited automatically after six years and on forfeiture will form part of the assets of the relevant fund.

Transfer of Shares

All transfers of Shares shall be effected by transfer in writing in any usual or common form and every form of transfer shall state the full name and address of the transferor and the transferee. The instrument of transfer of a Share shall be signed by or on behalf of the transferor. The transferee must also complete an application form to the satisfaction of the Administrator and furnish the Administrator with any documents required by it. The transferor shall be deemed to remain the holder of the share until the name of the transferee is entered in the share register in respect thereof.

The Directors may decline to register any transfer of Shares if in consequence of such transfer the transferor or transferee would hold less than the currency equivalent of the amount of the minimum initial investment for the relevant fund or would otherwise infringe the restrictions on holding Shares outlined above. If the Directors decline to register a transfer of any Share they shall within one month after the date on which the transfer was lodged with the Company send to the transferee notice of the refusal. The registration of transfers may be suspended at such times and for such periods as the Directors may from time to time determine, provided always that such registration shall not be suspended for more than thirty days in any year. The Directors may decline to register any transfer of Shares unless the instrument of transfer is deposited at the registered office of the Company or at such other place as the Directors may reasonably require together with such other evidence as the Directors may reasonably require to show the right of the transferor to make the transfer. Such evidence may include a declaration that the proposed transferee is not a U.S. Person.

The Company will be required to account for tax on the value of the shares transferred at the applicable rate unless it has received from the transferor a declaration in the prescribed form confirming that the shareholder is not an Irish Resident in respect of whom it is necessary to deduct tax. The Company reserves the right to redeem such number of shares held by a transferor as may be necessary to discharge the tax liability arising. The Company reserves the right to refuse to register a transfer of shares until it receives a declaration as to the transferee's residency or status in the form prescribed by the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland.

Conversion of Shares

With the consent of the Directors, a Shareholder may convert Shares of one fund into Shares of another fund on giving notice in written form to the office of the Manager and shall be accompanied by the contract note endorsed by the relevant Shareholder, provided that the shareholding satisfies the minimum investment criteria. The conversion is effected by arranging for the repurchase of Shares of one fund, converting the repurchase proceeds into the currency of another fund and subscribing for the Shares of the other fund with the proceeds of the currency conversion. During the period between the determination of the Net Asset Value applicable to the Shares being repurchased in one fund and the subscription for Shares in another fund, the Shareholder will not be the owner of, or be eligible to receive dividends with respect to, either the Shares which have been repurchased or the Shares being acquired.

Conversion will take place in accordance with the following formula and currency conversion will take place at prevailing exchange rates:

where:

- | | | |
|----|---|---|
| NS | = | the number of Shares which will be issued in the new fund; |
| A | = | the number of the Shares to be converted; |
| B | = | the repurchase price of the Shares to be converted on the relevant Dealing Day; |
| C | = | the currency conversion (if any) factor as determined by the Directors; |
| D | = | the issue price of Shares in the new fund on the relevant Dealing Day. |

If NS is not an integral number of Shares the Directors reserve the right to issue fractional Shares in the new fund or to return the surplus arising to the Shareholder seeking to convert the Shares.

The length of time for completion of a conversion will vary depending on the funds involved and the time when the conversion is initiated. In general, the length of time for completion of a conversion will depend upon each of the time required to obtain payment of repurchase proceeds from the fund whose Shares are being acquired and the time required to effect any foreign exchange transaction which may be necessary for the Shareholder to obtain the currency of the fund in which Shares are being subscribed. A Shareholder is not required to submit a new application form for the purchase of Shares in connection with a conversion.

Umbrella Cash Accounts

Cash accounts arrangements will be put in place in respect of the Company and the Funds. The following is a description of how such cash accounts arrangements are expected to operate. These cash accounts are not subject to the protections of the Investor Money Regulations and instead will be subject to the guidance issued by the Central Bank from time to time in relation to umbrella cash accounts.

Investor Monies will be held in a single Umbrella Cash Account. The assets in the Umbrella Cash Accounts will be assets of the Company.

Subscription monies received by a Fund in advance of the issue of Shares will be held in the Umbrella Cash Accounts and will be treated as an asset of the relevant Fund. The subscribing investors will be unsecured creditors of the relevant Fund with respect to their subscription monies until the Shares are issued to them on the relevant Dealing Day. The subscribing investors will be exposed to the credit risk of the institution at which the Umbrella Cash Account has been opened. Such investors will not benefit from any appreciation in the Net Asset Value of the Fund or any other Shareholder rights in respect of the subscription monies (including dividend entitlements) until such time as the Shares are issued on the relevant Dealing Day.

Redeeming investors will cease to be Shareholders of the redeemed Shares from the relevant Dealing Day. Redemption and dividend payments will, pending payment to the relevant investors, be held in the Umbrella Cash Accounts. Redeeming investors and investors entitled to dividend payments held in the Umbrella Cash Accounts will be unsecured creditors of the relevant Fund with respect to those monies. Where the redemption and dividend payments cannot be transferred to the relevant investors, for example, where the investors have failed to supply such information as is required to allow the Company to comply with its obligations under applicable anti-money laundering and counter terrorist legislation, the redemption and dividend payments will be retained in the Umbrella Cash Accounts and investors should address the outstanding issues promptly. Redeeming investors will not benefit from any appreciation in the Net Asset Value of the Fund or any other Shareholder rights (including, without limitation, the entitlement to future dividends) in respect of such amounts.

For information on the risks associated with Umbrella Cash Accounts, see “Risks Associated with Umbrella Cash Accounts” in the section “Risk Factors in relation to the Funds” in this Prospectus.

Publication of the Price of the Shares

Except where the determination of the Net Asset Value has been suspended, in the circumstances described below, the Net Asset Value per Share shall be made public at the registered office of the Administrator on each Dealing Day and shall be published on the Business Day immediately succeeding each Dealing Day on the Investment Manager’s public website www.seilernfunds.com. Such information shall relate to the Net Asset Value per Share for the previous Dealing Day and is published for information purposes only. It is not an invitation to subscribe for, repurchase or convert Shares at that Net Asset Value per Share.

Temporary Suspension of Valuation of the Shares and of Sales and Repurchases

The Company may temporarily suspend the determination of the Net Asset Value and the sale or repurchase of Shares in any fund during:

- (i) any period (other than ordinary holiday or customary weekend closings) when any market or exchange is closed which is the main market for a significant part of the relevant fund’s investments, or when dealing therein or thereon is restricted or suspended;
- (ii) any period when any circumstance exists as a result of which disposal or valuation of investments the Company or a fund is not reasonably practicable;

- (iii) any period when for any reason the current prices on any market or stock exchange of any investments of any fund cannot be reasonably, promptly or accurately ascertained;
- (iv) any period during which the Directors are unable to remit funds required for the purposes of making payments due or where acquisition or realisation of assets of any fund cannot, in the opinion of the Directors, be carried out at normal rates of exchange;
- (v) any period when proceeds of the sale or repurchase of the Shares cannot be transmitted to or from the relevant fund's account; and
- (vi) any period after which a notice of general meeting has been issued to Shareholders at which a resolution to wind up the Company or any fund is proposed.

Any such suspension shall be published by the Company in such manner as it may deem appropriate to the persons likely to be affected thereby if, in the opinion of the Company, such suspension is likely to continue for a period exceeding fourteen days and any such suspension shall be notified immediately to the Central Bank and in any event within the same Business Day. The Company may elect to treat the first Business Day on which the conditions giving rise to the suspension have ceased as a substitute Dealing Day.

The Investment Manager

Seilern Investment Management Ltd. is the promoter of the Company. The Manager with the consent of the Company has appointed Seilern Investment Management Ltd. as the discretionary Investment Manager of the Funds to provide discretionary investment management services to the Manager pursuant to the Investment Management Agreement. The Investment Manager is a company incorporated in England under registration number 2962937, is authorised and regulated by the U.K. Financial Conduct Authority and provides discretionary and advisory investment management services. Mr. Peter Seilern-Aspang has a majority shareholding and controlling interest in the Investment Manager.

The Investment Manager's equity investment philosophy has essentially a simple concept: to invest in large, successful companies with proven track records and high predictability of future earnings growth. Such companies generally have most or all of the following characteristics: (i) multinational businesses including exposure to the fast growing economies of the world; (ii) steady, non-cyclical demand for their branded products or services; (iii) unbroken earnings growth over the last ten years; (iv) high returns on equity reflecting a technological advantage over their competition or uniqueness of their products or services; (v) dynamic management, and; (vi) internal resources sufficient to finance their global development and maintain their competitive position.

The terms relating to the appointment of the Investment Manager are set out in the Investment Management Agreement. The Investment Manager will be liable and hold harmless and indemnify the Manager for any losses suffered by the Manager or its agents in connection with its obligations under the Investment Management Agreement where such a loss results from fraud, negligence, willful default, bad faith or reckless disregard on the part of the Investment Manager or any of its employees in the performance of its duties and obligations. The appointment of the Investment Manager shall continue in full force and effect unless and until terminated by either party giving ninety days' written notice to the other. Either party shall be entitled to terminate the Investment Management Agreement immediately in the event of (a) the winding up of the other party or the Company, the appointment of an examiner or receiver to the other party or the Company or upon the happening of a like event at the direction of an appropriate regulatory agency or court of competent jurisdiction; (b) the other party failing to remedy any breach of the Investment Management Agreement (if such breach is capable of remedy) within thirty days of being requested to do so; (c) either party or the Company being no longer permitted to perform its obligations under applicable law; or (d) the termination of the Management Agreement.

The Administrator

Brown Brothers Harriman Fund Administration Services (Ireland) Limited has been appointed by the Company as administrator, registrar, transfer agent and company secretary of the Company. As part of its duties, it will provide shareholder services, fund accounting and calculate the Net Asset Value.

The Administrator was incorporated in Ireland as a limited liability company on 29 March 1995 and is a subsidiary company of Brown Brothers Harriman & Co. It has an issued share capital of US$700,000. The principal activity of the Administrator is to act as administrator of collective investment schemes.

The Administration Agreement shall continue in force until terminated by the Company, the Manager or the Administrator on 90 days' notice in writing to the other parties or may be terminated forthwith upon notice in writing to the other parties if a party (other than the terminating party) shall at any time: go into liquidation (except for a voluntary liquidation for the purposes of reconstruction or amalgamation upon terms previously approved in writing by the non-defaulting party) or a receiver or examiner is appointed to such party or upon the happening of a like event whether at the direction of an appropriate regulatory agency or court of competent jurisdiction or otherwise; or shall commit any breach of the provisions of the Administration Agreement which, if capable of remedy, shall not have been remedied within thirty (30) consecutive calendar days after the service of written notice requiring it to be remedied; or any party ceases to be permitted to act in its current capacity under any applicable laws; or the Depositary shall cease to be engaged as the depositary of the Company.

The Administrator shall not be held accountable for any losses, damages or expenses the Manager, the Company or any Shareholder or former Shareholder of the Company or any other person may suffer or incur arising from acts, omissions, errors, or delays of the Administrator in the performance of its obligations and duties, except a damage, loss or expense resulting from the Administrator's willful default, recklessness, fraud, bad faith or negligence in the performance of such obligations and duties. The Administrator agrees to indemnify and hold the Company and the Manager harmless for any and all losses, claims, damages, liabilities and expenses (including reasonable counsel's fees and expenses) resulting from any act, omission, error or delay or any claim, demand, action or suit, in connection with or arising out of the performance of obligations and duties under the Administration Agreement, resulting from the willful default, recklessness, fraud, bad faith or negligence of the Administrator in the performance of such obligations and duties. The Company, out of the assets of the relevant Fund, agrees to indemnify and hold the Administrator harmless for any and all losses, claims, damages, liabilities or expenses (including reasonable counsel's fees and expenses) resulting from any act, omission, error or delay or any claim, demand, action or suit, in connection with or arising out of the performance of obligations and duties under the Administration Agreement, not resulting from the willful default, recklessness, fraud, bad faith or negligence of the Administrator in the performance of such obligations and duties.

The Depositary

The Company has appointed Brown Brothers Harriman Trustee Services (Ireland) Limited to act as depositary of the Company and to ensure that the issue, redemption, transfer and conversion of Shares by the Company and the calculation of the Net Asset Value is carried out and that all investments are made in accordance with the Articles of Association. The Depositary will be responsible for the safe-keeping of the Company's assets. In addition, the Depositary is obliged to enquire into the conduct of the Company in each financial year and report thereon to the Shareholders.

The Depositary was incorporated in Ireland as a limited liability company on 29 March 1995. The Depositary is a subsidiary of Brown Brothers Harriman & Co. and has issued share capital in excess of US$1,500,000. The principal activity of the Depositary is to act as depositary and trustee of collective investment schemes.

The duty of the Depositary is to provide safekeeping, oversight and asset verification services in respect of the assets of the Company and each Fund in accordance with the provisions of the UCITS Rules and the UCITS Directive. The Depositary will also provide cash monitoring services in respect of each Fund's cash flows and subscriptions.

The Depositary has the power to delegate certain of its depositary functions. In general, whenever the Depositary delegates any of its custody functions to a delegate, the Depositary will remain liable for any losses suffered as a result of an act or omission of the delegate as if such loss had arisen as a result of an act or omission of the Depositary.

As at the date of this Prospectus, the Depositary has entered into written agreements delegating the performance of its safekeeping function in respect of certain of the Company's assets to sub-custodians. The list of sub-custodians appointed by the Depositary as at the date of this Prospectus is set out in Schedule

4. The use of particular sub-custodians will depend on the markets in which the Company invests.

The Depositary must exercise due skill, care and diligence in the discharge of its duties.

The Depositary will be liable for loss of financial instruments held in custody or in the custody of any sub-custodian unless it can prove that loss was not as a result of the Depositary's negligent or intentional failure to perform its obligations and has arisen as a result of an external event beyond its reasonable control, the consequences of which would have been unavoidable despite all reasonable efforts to the contrary. The Depositary shall also be liable for all other losses suffered as a result of the Depositary's negligent or intentional failure to perform its obligations under the UCITS Directive and the Depositary Agreement. The liability of the Depositary will not be affected by the fact that it has delegated a third party certain of its safekeeping functions in respect of the Company's assets. The Depositary shall exercise due skill, care and diligence in the selection, continued appointment and ongoing monitoring of delegates and sub-delegates.

From time to time conflicts may arise between the Depositary and the delegates or sub-delegates, for example where an appointed delegate or sub-delegate is an affiliated group company which receives remuneration for another depositary service it provides to the Company. In the event of any potential conflict of interest which may arise during the normal course of business, the Depositary will have regard to the applicable laws.

Up-to-date information regarding the duties of the Depositary, any conflicts of interest that may arise and the Depositary's delegation arrangements will be made available to investors from the Depositary on request.

The Depositary Agreement may be terminated by either the Depositary or the Company giving not less than 90 days' written notice to the other party. Either party may terminate the Depositary Agreement immediately by notice in writing to the other party in the event that: (i) a receiver or examiner is appointed to such party or upon the happening of a like event whether at the direction of an appropriate regulatory agency or court of competent jurisdiction or otherwise; or (ii) the other party fails to remedy a material breach of the Depositary Agreement within 30 days of being required to do so; or (iii) if the Depositary is no longer permitted to act as depositary or trustee by the Central Bank. The Depositary shall continue in office until a successor is appointed. If no successor depositary is appointed within 90 days of the service of notice of termination, an extraordinary general meeting shall be convened at which a special resolution to wind up the Company shall be considered so that Shares may be redeemed or a liquidator appointed who shall wind up the Company and as soon as possible thereafter the Company shall apply to the Central Bank to revoke the Company's authorisation whereupon the Depositary's appointment shall terminate. In such case, the Depositary's appointment shall not terminate until revocation of the Company's authorisation by the Central Bank.

TAXATION

The following is a general summary of the main Irish tax considerations applicable to the Company and certain investors in the Company who are the beneficial owners of Shares in the Company. It does not purport to deal with all of the tax consequences applicable to the Company or to all categories of investors, some of whom may be subject to special rules. For instance, it does not address the tax position of Shareholders whose acquisition of Shares in the Company would be regarded as a shareholding in a Personal Portfolio Investment Undertaking (PPIU). Accordingly, its applicability will depend on the particular circumstances of each Shareholder. It does not constitute tax advice and Shareholders and potential investors are advised to consult their professional advisors concerning possible taxation or other consequences of purchasing, holding, selling, converting or otherwise disposing of the Shares under the laws of their country of incorporation, establishment, citizenship, residence or domicile, and in the light of their particular circumstances.

The following statements on taxation are based on advice received by the Directors regarding the law and practice in force in Ireland at the date of this document. Legislative, administrative or judicial changes may modify the tax consequences described below and as is the case with any investment, there can be no guarantee that the tax position or proposed tax position prevailing at the time an investment is made will endure indefinitely.

Taxation of the Company

The Directors have been advised that, under current Irish law and practice, the Company qualifies as an investment undertaking for the purposes of Section 739B of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997, as amended (“TCA”) so long as the Company is resident in Ireland. Accordingly, it is generally not chargeable to Irish tax on its income and gains.

Chargeable Event

Although the Company is not chargeable to Irish tax on its income and gains, Irish tax (at rates ranging from 25% to 60%) can arise on the happening of a “chargeable event” in the Company. A chargeable event includes any payments or distributions to Shareholders, any encashment, repurchase, redemption, cancellation or transfer of Shares and any deemed disposal of Shares as described below for Irish tax purposes arising as a result of holding Shares in the Company for a period of eight years or more. Where a chargeable event occurs, the Company is required to account for the Irish tax thereon.

No Irish tax will arise in respect of a chargeable event where:

- (a) the Shareholder is neither resident nor ordinarily resident in Ireland (“Non-Irish Resident”) and it (or an intermediary acting on its behalf) has made the necessary declaration to that effect and the Company is not in possession of any information which would reasonably suggest that the information contained in the declaration is not, or is no longer, materially correct; or
- (b) the Shareholder is Non-Irish Resident and has confirmed that to the Company and the Company is in possession of written notice of approval from the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland to the effect that the requirement to provide the necessary declaration of non-residence has been complied with in respect of the Shareholder and the approval has not been withdrawn; or
- (c) the Shareholder is an Exempt Irish Resident as defined below.

A reference to “intermediary” means an intermediary within the meaning of Section 739B(1) of the TCA, being a person who (a) carries on a business which consists of, or includes, the receipt of payments from an investment undertaking on behalf of other persons; or (b) holds units in an investment undertaking on behalf of other persons.

In the absence of a signed and completed declaration or written notice of approval from the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland, as applicable, being in the possession of the Company at the relevant time there is a presumption that the Shareholder is resident or ordinarily resident in Ireland (“Irish Resident”) or is not an Exempt Irish Resident and a charge to tax arises.

A chargeable event does not include:

- any transactions (which might otherwise be a chargeable event) in relation to Shares held in a recognised clearing system as designated by order of the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland; or
- a transfer of Shares between spouses/civil partners and any transfer of Shares between spouses/civil partners or former spouses/civil partners on the occasion of judicial separation, decree of dissolution and/or divorce, as appropriate; or

- an exchange by a Shareholder, effected by way of arm's length bargain, of Shares in the Company for other Shares in the Company; or
- an exchange of Shares arising on a qualifying amalgamation or reconstruction (within the meaning of Section 739H of the TCA) of the Company with another investment undertaking.

If the Company becomes liable to account for tax on a chargeable event, the Company shall be entitled to deduct from the payment arising on that chargeable event an amount equal to the appropriate tax and/or, where applicable, to repurchase and cancel such number of Shares held by the Shareholder as is required to meet the amount of tax. The relevant Shareholder shall indemnify and keep the Company indemnified against loss arising to the Company by reason of the Company becoming liable to account for tax on the happening of a chargeable event.

Irish Courts Service

Where Shares are held by the Irish Courts Service the Company is not required to account for Irish tax on a chargeable event in respect of those Shares. Rather, where money under the control or subject to the order of any Court is applied to acquire Shares in the Company, the Courts Service assumes, in respect of the Shares acquired, the responsibilities of the Company to, inter alia, account for tax in respect of chargeable events and file returns.

Exempt Irish Resident Shareholders

The Company will not be required to deduct tax in respect of the following categories of Irish Resident Shareholders, provided the Company has in its possession the necessary declarations from those persons (or an intermediary acting on their behalf) and the Company is not in possession of any information which would reasonably suggest that the information contained in the declarations is not, or is no longer, materially correct. A Shareholder who comes within any of the categories listed below and who (directly or through an intermediary) has provided the necessary declaration to the Company is referred to herein as an “Exempt Irish Resident”:

- (a) a pension scheme which is an exempt approved scheme within the meaning of Section 774 of the TCA, or a retirement annuity contract or a trust scheme to which Section 784 or Section 785 of the TCA, applies;
- (b) a company carrying on life business within the meaning of Section 706 of the TCA;
- (c) an investment undertaking within the meaning of Section 739B(1) of the TCA, or an investment limited partnership within the meaning of Section 739J of the TCA;
- (d) a special investment scheme within the meaning of Section 737 of the TCA;
- (e) a charity being a person referred to in Section 739D(6)(f)(i) of the TCA;
- (f) a qualifying management company within the meaning of Section 739B(1) of the TCA;
- (g) a unit trust to which Section 731(5)(a) of the TCA applies;
- (h) a person who is entitled to exemption from income tax and capital gains tax under Section 784A(2) of the TCA where the Shares held are assets of an approved retirement fund or an approved minimum retirement fund;
- (i) a person who is entitled to exemption from income tax and capital gains tax by virtue of Section 787I of the TCA, and the Shares are assets of a PRSA;

- (j) a credit union within the meaning of Section 2 of the Credit Union Act, 1997;
- (k) the National Asset Management Agency;
- (l) the National Treasury Management Agency or a Fund investment vehicle (within the meaning of section 37 of the National Treasury Management Agency (Amendment) Act 2014) of which the Minister for Finance of Ireland is the sole beneficial owner or Ireland acting through the National Treasury Management Agency;
- (m) a company within the charge to corporation tax in accordance with Section 110(2) of the TCA (securitisation companies);
- (n) in certain circumstances, a company within the charge to corporation tax in accordance with Section 739G(2) in respect of payments made to it by the Company; or
- (o) any other person who is resident or ordinarily resident in Ireland who may be permitted to own Shares under taxation legislation or by written practice or concession of the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland without giving rise to a charge to tax in the Company or jeopardising the tax exemptions associated with the Company.

There is no provision for any refund of tax to Shareholders who are Exempt Irish Residents where tax has been deducted in the absence of the necessary declaration. A refund of tax may only be made to corporate Shareholders who are within the charge to Irish corporation tax.

Taxation of Non-Irish Resident Shareholders

Non-Irish Resident Shareholders who (directly or through an intermediary) have made the necessary declaration of non-residence in Ireland, where required, are not liable to Irish tax on the income or gains arising to them from their investment in the Company and no tax will be deducted on distributions from the Company or payments by the Company in respect of an encashment, repurchase, redemption, cancellation or other disposal of their investment. Such Shareholders are generally not liable to Irish tax in respect of income or gains made from holding or disposing of Shares except where the Shares are attributable to an Irish branch or agency of such Shareholder.

Unless the Company is in possession of written notice of approval from the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland to the effect that the requirement to provide the necessary declaration of non-residence has been complied with in respect of the Shareholder and the approval has not been withdrawn, in the event that a non-resident Shareholder (or an intermediary acting on its behalf) fails to make the necessary declaration of non-residence, tax will be deducted as described above on the happening of a chargeable event and notwithstanding that the Shareholder is not resident or ordinarily resident in Ireland any such tax deducted will generally not be refundable.

Where a Non-Irish Resident company holds Shares in the Company which are attributable to an Irish branch or agency, it will be liable to Irish corporation tax in respect of income and capital distributions it receives from the Company under the self-assessment system.

Taxation of Irish Resident Shareholders

Deduction of Tax

Tax will be deducted and remitted to the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland by the Company from any distributions made by the Company to an Irish Resident Shareholder who is not an Exempt Irish Resident at the rate of 41 per cent.

Tax will also be deducted by the Company and remitted to the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland from any gain arising on an encashment, repurchase, redemption, cancellation or other disposal of Shares by such a Shareholder at the rate of 41 per cent. Any gain will be computed as the difference between the value of the Shareholder's investment in the Company at the date of the chargeable event and the original cost of the investment as calculated under special rules.

Where the Shareholder is an Irish resident company and the Company is in possession of a relevant declaration from the Shareholder that it is a company and which includes the company's tax reference number, tax will be deducted by the Company from any distributions made by the Company to the Shareholder and from any gains arising on an encashment, repurchase, redemption, cancellation or other disposal of shares by the Shareholder at the rate of 25 per cent.

Deemed Disposals

A deemed disposal of Shares will occur on each and every eighth anniversary of the acquisition of Shares in the Company held by Irish Resident Shareholders who are not Exempt Irish Residents. The Company may elect not to account for Irish tax in respect of deemed disposals in certain circumstances. Where the total value of Shares held by Shareholders who are Irish Resident and, who are not Exempt Irish Residents, is 10% or more of the Net Asset Value of the relevant Fund, the Company will be liable to account for the tax arising on a deemed disposal in respect of Shares in that Fund. However, where the total value of Shares held by such Shareholders is less than 10% of the Net Asset Value of the relevant Fund, the Company may, and it is expected that the Company will, elect not to account for tax on the deemed disposal. In this instance, the Company will notify relevant Shareholders that it has made such an election and those Shareholders will be obliged to account for the tax arising under the self-assessment system themselves.

The deemed gain will be calculated as the difference between the value of the Shares held by the Shareholder on the relevant eighth year anniversary or, where the Company so elects, the value of the Shares on the later of the 30 June or 31 December prior to the date of the deemed disposal and the relevant cost of those Shares. The excess arising will be taxable at the rate of 41% (or in the case of Irish resident corporate Shareholders where a relevant declaration has been made, at the rate of 25%). Tax paid on a deemed disposal should be creditable against the tax liability on an actual disposal of those Shares.

Residual Irish Tax Liability

Corporate Shareholders resident in Ireland which receive payments from which tax has been deducted will be treated as having received an annual payment chargeable to tax under Case IV of Schedule D from which tax at the rate of 25 per cent. (or 41 per cent if no declaration has been made) has been deducted. Subject to the comments below concerning tax on a currency gain, in general, such Shareholders will not be subject to further Irish tax on payments received in respect of their holding from which tax has been deducted. A corporate Shareholder resident in Ireland which holds the Shares in connection with a trade will be taxable on any income or gains received from the Company as part of that trade with a set-off against corporation tax payable for any tax deducted from those payments by the Company. In practice, where tax at a rate higher than 25 per cent has been deducted from payments to a corporate Shareholder resident in Ireland, a credit of the excess tax deducted over the higher corporation tax rate of 25 per cent should be available.

Where a currency gain is made by a Shareholder on the disposal of Shares, the Shareholder will be liable to capital gains tax in respect of that gain in the year/s of assessment in which the Shares are disposed of.

Any Irish Resident Shareholder who is not an Exempt Irish Resident and who receives a distribution from which tax has not been deducted or who receives a gain on an encashment, repurchase, redemption, cancellation or other disposal from which tax has not been deducted (for example, because the Shares are held in a recognised clearing system) will be liable to account for income tax or corporation tax as the case may be on the payment or on the amount of the gain under the self-assessment system and in particular, Part 41A of the TCA.

Overseas Dividends

Dividends (if any) and interest which the Company receives with respect to investments (other than securities of Irish issuers) may be subject to taxes, including withholding taxes, in the countries in which the issuers of the investments are located. It is not known whether the Company will be able to benefit from reduced rates of withholding tax under the provisions of the double tax treaties which Ireland has entered into with various countries.

However, in the event that the Company receives any repayment of withholding tax suffered, the Net Asset Value of the relevant Fund will not be restated and the benefit of any repayment will be allocated to the then existing Shareholders rateably at the time of such repayment.

Stamp Duty

On the basis that the Company qualifies as an investment undertaking within the meaning of Section 739B of the TCA, generally, no stamp duty will be payable in Ireland on the issue, transfer, repurchase or redemption of Shares in the Company. However, where any subscription for or redemption of Shares is satisfied by an in-kind or in specie transfer of Irish securities or other Irish property, Irish stamp duty might arise on the transfer of such securities or properties.

No Irish stamp duty will be payable by the Company on the conveyance or transfer of stock or marketable securities of a company or other body corporate not registered in Ireland, provided that the conveyance or transfer does not relate to any immovable property situated in Ireland or any right over or interest in such property, or to any stocks or marketable securities of a company (other than a company which is an investment undertaking within the meaning of Section 739B of the TCA or a qualifying company within the meaning of Section 110 of the TCA) which is registered in Ireland.

Residence

In general, investors in the Company will be either individuals, corporate entities or trusts. Under Irish rules, both individuals and trusts may be resident or ordinarily resident. The concept of ordinary residence does not apply to corporate entities.

Individual Investors

Test of Residence

An individual will be regarded as resident in Ireland for a particular tax year if the individual is present in Ireland: (1) for a period of at least 183 days in any one tax year; or (2) for a period of at least 280 days in any two consecutive tax years, provided that the individual is resident in Ireland for at least 31 days in each tax year. In determining days present in Ireland, an individual is deemed to be present if he / she is present in the country at any time during the day.

If an individual is not resident in Ireland in a particular tax year the individual may, in certain circumstances, elect to be treated as resident.

Test of Ordinary Residence

If an individual has been resident for the three previous tax years then the individual will be deemed “ordinarily resident” from the start of the fourth year. An individual will remain ordinarily resident in Ireland until the individual has been non-resident for three consecutive tax years.

Trust Investors

A trust will generally be regarded as resident in Ireland where all of the trustees are resident in Ireland. Trustees are advised to seek specific tax advice if they are in doubt as to whether the trust is resident in Ireland.

Corporate Investors

A company will be resident in Ireland if its central management and control is in Ireland or (in certain circumstances) if it is incorporated in Ireland. For Ireland to be treated as the location of a company’s central management and control this typically means Ireland is the location where all fundamental policy decisions of the company are made.

All companies incorporated in Ireland are resident in Ireland for tax purposes except where:

- (i) in the case of a company incorporated before 1 January 2015, the company or a related company carries on a trade in Ireland, and either (a) the company is ultimately controlled by persons resident in a “relevant territory”, being an EU member state or a country with which Ireland has a double taxation agreement in force by virtue of Section 826(1) of the TCA or that is signed and which will come into force once all the ratification procedures set out in Section 826(1) of the TCA have been completed, or (b) the principal class of the shares in the company or a related company is substantially and regularly traded on a recognised stock exchange in a relevant territory and the Company’s central management and control is located outside of Ireland (however this exception does not apply where the Company’s place of central management and control is in a jurisdiction that only applies an incorporation test for determining residency and the Company would thus not be regarded as tax-resident in any jurisdiction; or
- (ii) the company is regarded as resident in a country other than Ireland and not resident in Ireland under a double taxation agreement between Ireland and that other country.

The exception from the incorporation rule of tax residence at (i) above in respect of a company incorporated before 1 January 2015 will however cease to apply or be available after 31 December 2020, or, if earlier, from the date, after 31 December 2014, of a change in ownership (direct or indirect) of the company where there is a major change in the nature or conduct of the business of the company within the period beginning on the later of 1 January 2015 or the date which occurs one year before the date of the change in ownership of the company, and ending 5 years after the date of the change in ownership. For these purposes a major change in the nature or conduct of the business of the company includes the commencement by the company of a new trade or a major change arising from the acquisition by the company of property or of an interest in or right over property.

Disposal of Shares and Irish Capital Acquisitions Tax

(a) Persons Domiciled or Ordinarily Resident in Ireland

The disposal of Shares by means of a gift or inheritance made by a disponent domiciled or ordinarily resident in Ireland or received by a beneficiary domiciled or ordinarily resident in Ireland may give rise to a charge to Irish Capital Acquisitions Tax for the beneficiary of such a gift or inheritance with respect to those Shares.

(b) Persons Not Domiciled or Ordinarily Resident in Ireland

On the basis that the Company qualifies as an investment undertaking within the meaning of Section 739B of the TCA, the disposal of Shares will not be within the charge to Irish Capital Acquisitions Tax provided that;

- the Shares are comprised in the gift or inheritance at the date of the gift or inheritance and at the valuation date;
- the donor is not domiciled or ordinarily resident in Ireland at the date of the disposition; and
- the beneficiary is not domiciled or ordinarily resident in Ireland at the date of the gift or inheritance.

The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA)

The provisions of FATCA are designed to require certain U.S. persons' direct and indirect ownership of certain non-U.S. accounts and non-U.S. entities to be reported by foreign financial institutions (“FFIs”) to foreign tax authorities who will then provide the information to the Internal Revenue Service (the “IRS”).

The Company may be regarded as an FFI for FATCA purposes. FATCA may impose a withholding tax of up to 30 per cent. with respect to certain U.S. source income (including dividends and interest). A 30 per cent. withholding tax was also due to apply to gross proceeds from certain sales or other disposals of property producing U.S. source interest or dividends paid to an FFI as from 1 January 2019. However, the IRS published proposed FATCA Regulations on 13 December 2018 that eliminate gross proceeds withholding. The IRS has confirmed that taxpayers can rely on the proposed regulations until final regulations are issued and, consequently, no such withholding tax is payable at present.

FATCA compliance is enforced under Irish tax legislation, including the Financial Accounts Reporting (United States of America) Regulations 2014, and reporting rules and practices. The Company may require additional information from Shareholders in order to comply with these provisions. The Company may disclose the information, certificates or other documentation that it receives from (or concerning) its Shareholders to the Revenue Commissioners as necessary to comply with the Irish tax legislation and reporting rules and practices relating to FATCA, related intergovernmental agreements or other applicable law or regulation. The Revenue Commissioners, in turn, report such information to the IRS. If a Shareholder causes (directly or indirectly) the Company to suffer a withholding for or on account of FATCA (“FATCA Deduction”) or other financial penalty, cost, expense or liability, the Company may compulsorily repurchase any Shares of such Shareholder and/or take any action required to ensure that such FATCA Deduction or other financial penalty, cost, expense or liability is economically borne by such shareholder. Each prospective investor is urged to consult its tax adviser regarding the applicability of FATCA and any other reporting requirements with respect to the prospective investor's own situation. If applicable, investors should contact their intermediary regarding the application of this regime to their investments in the Company.

The Common Reporting Standard

Ireland has implemented the “Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information”, also known as the Common Reporting Standard (“CRS”), into Irish law.

The CRS is a single global standard on Automatic Exchange of Information (“AEOI”) which was approved by the Council of the OECD in July 2014. It draws on earlier work of the OECD and the EU, global anti-money laundering standards and, in particular, the Model FATCA Intergovernmental Agreement. It draws on earlier work of the OECD and the EU, global anti-money laundering standards and, in particular, the Model FATCA Intergovernmental Agreement. The CRS sets out details of the financial information to be exchanged, the financial institutions required to report, together with common due diligence standards to be followed by financial institutions.

Under the CRS, participating jurisdictions are required to exchange certain information held by financial institutions regarding their non-resident customers. To comply with its obligations under the CRS (or similar information sharing arrangements), the Company may require additional information and documentation from Shareholders. The Company may disclose the information, certifications or other documentation that they receive from or in relation to Shareholders to the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland who may in turn exchange this information with tax authorities in other territories.

By subscribing for Shares in the Company, each Shareholder is agreeing to provide such information upon request from the Company or its delegate. Shareholders refusing to provide the requisite information to the Company may be reported to the Irish tax authorities or other parties as necessary to comply with the CRS.

The above description is based in part on regulations, guidance from the OECD and the CRS, all of which are subject to change. Each prospective investor should consult their own tax adviser on the requirements applicable to their own situation under these arrangements.

Investment Undertaking Reporting

Pursuant to Section 891C TCA and the Return of Values (Investment Undertakings) Regulations 2013, the Company is obliged to report certain details in relation to Shares held by investors to the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland on an annual basis. The details to be reported include the name, address, date of birth (if on record) and the tax reference number of the Shareholder (being an Irish tax reference number or VAT registration number, or in the case of an individual, the individual’s PPS number or, in the absence of a tax reference number, a marker indicating that this was not provided) and the investment number associated with and the value of the Shares held by the Shareholder. These provisions do not require such details to be reported in respect of Shareholders who are:

- Exempt Irish Residents (as defined above);
- Shareholders who are neither Irish Resident nor ordinarily resident in Ireland (provided the relevant declaration has been made); or
- Shareholders whose Shares are held in a recognised clearing system.

Investors should note the section entitled “The Common Reporting Standard” for information on additional investor information gathering and reporting requirements to which the Company is subject.

Each prospective investor should consult its own tax advisers on the requirements applicable to it under these arrangements.

Additional Information for German Tax Purposes

Seilern America, Seilern Europa and Seilern World Growth Fund (referred to as “relevant Fund(s)”) each invest at least 50% of gross assets on a continuous basis directly (i.e. not by holding Equities (as defined below) via an intermediate company in the legal form of a partnership) into Equities (the “Equity Fund Capital Participation Threshold”, as defined for the purposes of eligibility for the partial exemption tax regime for Equity Funds, according to Secs. 2 and 20 of the German Investment Tax Act 2018, as amended). In order to be recognised as Equities for purposes of the Equity Fund Capital Participation Threshold, the Equities need to be owned (“assigned” for German tax purposes) by the relevant Fund (in the case of a securities lending arrangement or swap agreement, for example, the relevant Fund may lose tax ownership of those Equities for German tax purposes if they are subject to such agreements). The gross assets of the relevant Fund are determined by using the value of the assets of the Fund without taking into account liabilities of the Fund.

Passive violations of the Equity Fund Capital Participation Threshold defined above, caused for instance by unrealised changes in the value of the assets of a relevant Fund, do not result in the loss of the tax status as an Equity Fund, if the Fund undertakes immediately reasonable measures to restore the Equity Fund Capital Participation Threshold.

At the point in time where a relevant Fund materially violates the investment threshold of investing at least 50% of gross assets in Equities as set out in this section and hereby falls below the Equity Fund Capital Participation Threshold, the Fund loses its tax classification as an Equity Fund for the purposes of the German Investment Tax Act 2018, as amended.

For purposes of the above Equity Fund Capital Participation Threshold, “Equities” mean:

1. shares of a corporation which are admitted to official trading on a stock exchange or included in an organised market (which is a recognised market and open to the public and which operates in a due and proper manner);
 2. shares of a corporation, which is not a real estate company and which:
 - (a) is resident in a member state of the EU or a member state of the EEA and is subject to income taxation for corporations in that state and is not exempt from such taxation; or
 - (b) is resident in any other state and is subject to an income taxation for corporations in that state at a rate of at least 15% and is not exempt from such taxation;
 3. fund units of an Equity Fund (being a fund that invests at least 50% of its gross assets on a continuous basis directly into Equities according to its constitution or prospectus), with 51% of the Equity Fund units’ value being taken into account as Equities;
- or
4. fund units of a Mixed Fund (being a fund that invests at least 25% of its gross assets on a continuous basis directly into Equities according to its constitution or prospectus), with 25% of the Mixed Fund units’ value being taken into account as Equities.

If the Equity Fund Capital Participation Threshold of an Equity Fund or the Mixed Fund Capital Participation Threshold of a Mixed Fund (both as defined for the purposes of eligibility for the partial exemption tax regime for Equity Funds and for Mixed Funds, according to Secs. 2 and 20 of the German Investment Tax Act 2018, as amended), used as a target fund and laid out with binding legal effect for those target funds and for all of their investors in their constitution or prospectus, define a percentage of more than 51 per cent (in case of an Equity Fund) or more than 25 per cent (in case of a Mixed Fund) of its gross assets for the continuous investment into Equities, then differing from no. 3 and 4 above, the Equity Fund or the Mixed Fund, used as a target fund, qualify as an Equity participation by the amount of this higher percentage.

If a relevant Fund invests in units or shares of a target fund, the Fund processes at this level (consolidates) the equity participation ratios of these target funds which are being published in the valuation frequency of each target fund. This consolidation method is only applicable to such target funds which produce a valuation at least once a week.

Each of Seilern America, Seilern Europa and Seilern World Growth Fund publish equity participation ratios with the same frequency as it deals on www.seilernfunds.com.

Due to the fact that the legal situation and / or the opinion of the German fiscal authorities might change between the publication of this Prospectus and any investment decision taken by a German tax resident investor, it is for the German investor to consider the financial consequences of such changes to an investment in a Fund and to consult, if necessary, a qualified tax professional before the investment in the Shares of a Fund is made. This information is not exhaustive and does not constitute legal or tax advice.

GENERAL

Remuneration Policy

The Company has adopted a remuneration policy as required by the Regulations (the “Remuneration Policy”). The Remuneration Policy seeks to be consistent with, and promote, sound and effective risk management and is designed to discourage risk-taking by the Company which is inconsistent with the risk profiles of the Funds. The Remuneration Policy applies to those categories of staff of the Company whose professional activities have a material impact on the risk profile of the Company or the Funds (“Identified Staff”). As at the date of this Prospectus, the Identified Staff comprise the Directors. While certain Directors are paid a fixed annual fee for their services to the Company, Directors that are employees of the Investment Manager or an affiliate are not paid any fees for their services as a director. Due to the size and internal organisation of the Company and the nature, scope and complexity of its activities, a remuneration committee has not been established by the Company. Any fee arrangements with Directors of the Company shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Directors. Please see the section entitled “Fees and Expenses” for details of the fees and expenses payable to the Directors. Further information on the current remuneration policy of the Company, including a description of how remuneration and benefits are calculated and the identity of persons responsible for awarding the remuneration and benefits is available at the following website www.seilernfunds.com. A paper copy of this information is available free of charge upon request from the Manager.

Conflicts of Interest

The Manager, the Investment Manager, the Depositary and the Administrator and their affiliates may from time to time act as manager, investment manager, depositary, administrator, company secretary, dealer or distributor in relation to, or be otherwise involved in, other funds established by parties other than the Company which have similar investment objectives to those of the Company and any fund. The Investment Manager may hold Shares in any fund. It is, therefore, possible that any of them may, in the course of business, have potential conflicts of interests with the Company and a fund. Each will, at all times, have regard in such event to its obligations to the Company and the funds and will ensure that such conflicts are resolved fairly. In addition, any of the foregoing may deal, as principal or agent, with the Company in respect of the assets of a fund, provided that such dealings are carried out as if effected on normal commercial terms negotiated on an arm’s length basis and that such dealings are consistent with the best interests of Shareholders.

In addition, the Manager or the Depositary, the delegates or sub-delegates of the Manager or the Depositary (excluding any non-group company sub-custodians appointed by the Depositary) and any associated or group company of the Manager or the Depositary or may deal, as principal or agent, with the Company in respect of the assets of a Fund, provided that such dealings are conducted at arm's length. Transactions must be in the best interests of Shareholders.

Dealings will be deemed to have been conducted at arm's length if: (a) the value of the transaction is certified by either (i) a person who has been approved by the Depositary as being independent and competent or (ii) a person who has been approved by the Directors as being independent and competent in the case of transactions involving the Depositary; (b) the transaction is executed on best terms on an organised investment exchange in accordance with the rules of the relevant exchange; or (c) where (a) and (b) are not practical, the transaction is executed on terms which the Depositary or, in the case of a transaction involving the Depositary, the Directors, are satisfied are conducted at arm's length and are in the best interests of Shareholders. The Depositary or, in the case of a transaction involving the Depositary, the Directors, shall document how it complied with the requirements of paragraphs (a), (b) or (c) above. Where transactions are conducted in accordance with paragraph (c) above, the depositary or, in the case of a transaction involving the Depositary, the Directors, shall document its or their rationale for being satisfied that the transaction conformed to the principles outlined here.

Conflicts of interest may arise as a result of transactions in FDI and EPM techniques and instruments. For example, the counterparties to, or agents, intermediaries or other entities which provide services in respect of, such transactions may be related to the Manager or the Depositary. As a result, those entities may generate profits, fees or other income or avoid losses through such transactions. Furthermore, conflicts of interests may also arise where the collateral provided by such entities is subject to a valuation or haircut applied by a related party.

The Investment Manager and its affiliates may invest, directly or indirectly, or manage or advise other investment funds or accounts which invest in assets which may also be purchased or sold by the Company. Neither the Investment Manager nor any of its affiliates is under any obligation to offer investment opportunities of which any of them becomes aware to the Company or to account to the Company in respect of or share with the Company or inform the Company of any such transaction or any benefit received by any of them from any such transaction, but will allocate any such opportunities on an equitable basis between the Company and other clients.

The Investment Manager may assist the Administrator with valuing certain securities held by a Fund. The Investment Manager is paid a fee which is a percentage of the Net Asset Value of each Fund. Consequently, a conflict of interest could arise between its interest and those of a Fund. In the event of such a conflict of interests, the Investment Manager shall have regard to its obligations to the Company and the Funds and will ensure that such a conflict is resolved fairly and on a basis consistent with the best interests of the Shareholders.

The Company has policies designed to ensure that in all transactions, a reasonable effort is made to avoid conflicts of interest, and when they cannot be avoided, that the Funds and their shareholders are fairly treated.

The Company has policies designed to ensure that its service providers act in the Funds' best interests when executing decisions to deal on behalf of those Funds in the context of managing the Funds' portfolios. For these purposes, all reasonable steps must be taken to obtain the best possible result for the Funds, taking into account price, costs, speed, likelihood of execution and settlement, order size and nature, research services provided by the broker to the Investment Manager or any other consideration relevant to the execution of the order. Information about the Funds' execution policies are available to Shareholders at no charge upon request.

It is proposed that soft commissions may be paid to brokers. The brokers or counterparties to the soft commission arrangements have agreed to provide best execution to the Company. The benefits provided under the arrangements will assist the Investment Manager in the provision of investment services to the Funds and to other third parties. Details of the soft commission arrangements will be disclosed in the annual and half-yearly reports of the Company.

Payment for External Research

The Investment Manager may use research, both internally and externally sourced, to inform its decision making. The Investment Manager may pay for external research out of the assets of the Funds.

The Investment Manager is authorised and regulated by the FCA and has established a research payment account from which it will pay for research (as defined in the FCA rules) (“Research”) that it receives from third parties in connection with the provision of services to a Fund and its other clients (the “RPA”). The RPA will be funded by research charges (“Research Charges”) paid by the Fund and other clients of the Investment Manager, with the amount to be paid by each client determined by the Investment Manager in accordance with the Investment Manager’s research payment account policy and FCA rules as summarised below.

The Investment Manager has informed the Manager that it will set a single budget in respect of all of its clients (the “Research Budget”) for the purchase of Research during each calendar year (an “RPA Period”) on the basis that its clients share sufficiently similar investment objectives and research needs. The Research Budget for each RPA Period will include the estimated Research Charges for the Fund. The Investment Manager has informed the Manager that, in order to allocate research costs fairly across its clients, it intends to allocate the Research Budget to each of its clients (including the Fund) by reference to their net asset value at the end of each calendar quarter.

Information on the total costs that the Fund has incurred for Research in the most recent financial year will be set out in the Company’s annual report.

Further information in relation to the RPA will be made available upon request.

Recording of Telephone Calls

Investors who communicate with the Investment Manager or the Manager through telephone calls to landlines at the Investment Manager or the Manager will have their telephone calls recorded. Telephone calls to mobile devices of the Investment Manager or the Manager will not be recorded but trading orders (buying and selling of financial instruments) will never be passed by an unrecorded mobile device. Recorded voice data will be stored by the Investment Manager / the Manager for seven years.

Voting Rights

The Manager has developed a strategy for determining when and how voting rights are exercised. Details of the actions taken on the basis of those strategies are available to Shareholders free of charge upon request.

Complaints

Information regarding the Manager’s complaint procedures is available to Shareholders free of charge upon request. Shareholders may file complaints about the Funds free of charge at the registered office of the Manager.

The Share Capital

The share capital of the Company shall at all times equal the Net Asset Value. The authorised share capital of the Company is 500,000,000,000 Shares of no par value divided into 3 Subscriber Shares of no par value and 499,999,999,997 Shares of no par value. The Directors are empowered to issue Shares in the Company provided that the number of issued shares in the Company does not exceed 500 billion. There are no rights of pre-emption upon the issue of Shares in the Company.

Each of the Shares entitles the Shareholder to participate equally on a pro rata basis in the dividends and net assets of the fund in respect of which they are issued, save in the case of dividends declared prior to becoming a Shareholder.

The proceeds from the issue of Shares shall be applied in the books of the Company to the relevant fund and shall be used in the acquisition on behalf of the relevant fund of assets in which the relevant fund may invest. The records and accounts of each fund shall be maintained separately.

The Funds and Segregation of Liability

The Company is an umbrella fund with segregated liability between sub-funds and each Fund may comprise one or more classes of Shares in the Company. The Directors may, from time to time, upon the prior approval of the Central Bank, establish further Funds by the issue of one or more separate classes of Shares on such terms as the Directors may resolve. The Directors may, from time to time, in accordance with the requirements of the Central Bank, establish one or more separate classes of Shares within each Fund on such terms as the Directors may resolve.

The assets and liabilities of each Fund will be allocated in the following manner:

- (a) the proceeds from the issue of Shares representing a Fund shall be applied in the books of the Company to the Fund and the assets and liabilities and income and expenditure attributable thereto shall be applied to such Fund subject to the provisions of the Memorandum and Articles of Association;
- (b) where any asset is derived from another asset, such derivative asset shall be applied in the books of the Company to the same Fund as the assets from which it was derived and in each valuation of an asset, the increase or diminution in value shall be applied to the relevant Fund;
- (c) where the Company incurs a liability which relates to any asset of a particular Fund or to any action taken in connection with an asset of a particular Fund, such a liability shall be allocated to the relevant Fund, as the case may be; and
- (d) where an asset or a liability of the Company cannot be considered as being attributable to a particular Fund, such asset or liability, subject to the approval of the Depositary, shall be allocated to all the Funds pro rata to the Net Asset Value of each Fund.

Any liability incurred on behalf of or attributable to any Fund shall be discharged solely out of the assets of that Fund, and neither the Company nor any Director, receiver, examiner, liquidator, provisional liquidator or other person shall apply, nor be obliged to apply, the assets of any such Fund in satisfaction of any liability incurred on behalf of, or attributable to, any other Fund.

There shall be implied in every contract, agreement, arrangement or transaction entered into by the Company the following terms, that:

- (i) the party or parties contracting with the Company shall not seek, whether in any proceedings or by any other means whatsoever or wheresoever, to have recourse to any assets of any Fund in the discharge of all or any part of a liability which was not incurred on behalf of that Fund;
- (ii) if any party contracting with the Company shall succeed by any means whatsoever or wheresoever in having recourse to any assets of any Fund in the discharge of all or any part of a liability which was not incurred on behalf of that Fund, that party shall be liable to the Company to pay a sum equal to the value of the benefit thereby obtained by it; and
- (iii) if any party contracting with the Company shall succeed in seizing or attaching by any means, or otherwise levying execution against, the assets of a Fund in respect of a liability which was not incurred on behalf of that Fund, that party shall hold those assets or the direct or indirect proceeds of the sale of such assets on trust for the Company and shall keep those assets or proceeds separate and identifiable as such trust property.

All sums recoverable by the Company shall be credited against any concurrent liability pursuant to the implied terms set out in (i) to (iii) above.

Any asset or sum recovered by the Company shall, after the deduction or payment of any costs of recovery, be applied so as to compensate the Fund.

In the event that assets attributable to a Fund are taken in execution of a liability not attributable to that Fund, and in so far as such assets or compensation in respect thereof cannot otherwise be restored to the Fund affected, the Directors, with the consent of the Depositary, shall certify or cause to be certified, the value of the assets lost to the Fund affected and transfer or pay from the assets of the Fund or Funds to which the liability was attributable, in priority to all other claims against such Fund or Funds, assets or sums sufficient to restore to the Fund affected, the value of the assets or sums lost to it.

A Fund is not a legal person separate from the Company but the Company may sue and be sued in respect of a particular Fund and may exercise the same rights of set-off, if any, as between its Funds as apply at law in respect of companies and the property of a Fund is subject to orders of the court as it would have been if the Fund were a separate legal person.

Separate records shall be maintained in respect of each Fund.

Each of the Shares entitles the holder to attend and vote at meetings of the Company and of the fund represented by those Shares.

Any resolution to alter the rights of the Shares requires the approval of three quarters of the holders of the Shares represented or present and voting at a general meeting duly convened in accordance with the Articles of Association.

The Articles of Association of the Company empower the Directors to issue fractional Shares in the Company. Fractional Shares may be issued rounded to the second decimal place and shall not carry any voting rights at general meetings of the Company or of any fund and the Net Asset Value of any fractional Share shall be the Net Asset Value per Share adjusted by the amount which such Fractional Share bears to an integral Share at the time of issue.

The Subscriber Shares entitle the Shareholders holding them to attend and vote at all meetings of the Company, but do not entitle the holders to participate in the dividends or net assets of any fund or of the Company.

Termination

All of the Shares or all of the Shares in a fund may be repurchased by the Company in the following circumstances:

- (i) if 75 per cent. of the holders of the Shares voting at a general meeting of the Company or the fund, of which not more than six and not less than four weeks' notice (expiring on a Dealing Day) of the repurchase has been given, approve the repurchase of the Shares and the Shareholders shall be deemed to have requested the repurchase of the Shares within sixty days of such notice;
- (ii) if following the initial subscription into any fund the Net Asset Value of the Company or the fund on each Dealing Day within a period of five consecutive weeks is less than Stg£5,000,000 or the foreign currency equivalent thereof, provided that notice of not less than four and not more than six weeks has been given to the holders of the Shares within four weeks of such period;
- (iii) on the 31 December 2005, or on any fifth anniversary thereof, provided that notice of not less than four and not more than six weeks has been given to the holders of the Shares and all of the Shares shall be repurchased by the Company; or
- (iv) if no replacement depositary shall have been appointed during the period of three months commencing on the date the Depositary or any replacement thereof shall have notified the Company of its desire to retire as depositary or shall have ceased to be approved by the Central Bank.

Where a repurchase of Shares would result in the number of Shareholders falling below seven or such other minimum number stipulated by statute or where a repurchase of Shares would result in the issued share capital of the Company falling below such minimum amount as the Company may be obliged to maintain pursuant to applicable law, the Company may defer the repurchase of the minimum number of Shares sufficient to ensure compliance with applicable law. The repurchase of such Shares will be deferred until the Company is wound up or until the Company procures the issue of sufficient Shares to ensure that the repurchase can be effected. The Company shall be entitled to select the Shares for deferred repurchase in such manner as it may deem to be fair and reasonable and as may be approved by the Depositary.

On a winding up or if all of the Shares in any fund are to be repurchased, the assets available for distribution among the Shareholders shall be applied in the following priority:

- (i) firstly, in the payment to the Shareholders of each class of each Fund of a sum in the Base Currency in which that class is denominated or in any other currency selected by the liquidator as nearly as possible equal (at a rate of exchange reasonably determined by the liquidator) to the Net Asset Value of the Shares of such class held by such holders respectively as at the date of commencement of the winding up provided that there are sufficient assets available in the relevant Fund to enable such payment to be made. In the event that, as regards any class of Shares, there are insufficient assets available in the relevant Fund to enable such payment to be made, recourse shall be had to the assets of the Company not comprised within any of the Funds;
- (ii) secondly, in the payment to the holders of the Subscriber Shares of sums up to the amount paid thereon (plus any interest accrued) out of the assets of the Company not comprised within any Funds remaining after any recourse thereto under paragraph (i) above. In the event that there are insufficient assets as aforesaid to enable such payment in full to be made, no recourse shall be had to the assets comprised within any of the Funds;

- (iii) thirdly, in the payment to the Shareholders of any balance then remaining in the relevant Fund, such payment being made in proportion to the number of Shares held; and
- (iv) fourthly, in the payment to the Shareholders of any balance then remaining and not comprised within any of the Funds, such payment being made in proportion to the value of each Fund and within each Fund to the value of each class and in proportion to the Net Asset Value per Share.

With the authority of an ordinary resolution of the Shareholders, the Company may make distributions in specie to Shareholders. If all of the Shares are to be repurchased and it is proposed to transfer all or part of the assets of the Company to another company and whether or not the assets shall consist of property of a single kind and may for such purposes value any class or classes of property in accordance with the valuation provisions of the Company as set out in the Articles of Association, the Company, with the sanction of a special resolution of Shareholders may exchange the assets of the Company for Shares or similar interests in the transferee company for distribution among Shareholders. If a Shareholder so requests the Company shall arrange to dispose of the investments on behalf of the Shareholder. The price obtained by the Company may be different from the price at which the investments were valued when determining the Net Asset Value and the Investment Manager and the Company shall not be liable for any loss arising. The transaction costs incurred in the disposal of such investments shall be borne by the Shareholder.

Meetings

All general meetings of the Company or of a fund shall be held in Ireland. In each year the Company shall hold a general meeting as its annual general meeting. Twenty-one clear days' notice shall be given in respect of each general meeting of the Company. The notice shall specify the venue and time of the meeting and the business to be transacted at the meeting. A proxy may attend on behalf of any Shareholder. The quorum for general meetings shall be two persons present in person or by proxy provided that in the event that there is only one Shareholder of a Fund or Share class, the quorum shall be one Shareholder present in person or by proxy at the meeting. Twenty-one days' notice (excluding the day of posting and the day of the meeting) shall be given in respect of each general meeting of the Company. The notice shall specify the venue and time of the meeting and the business to be transacted at the meeting. An ordinary resolution is a resolution passed by a majority of votes cast and a special resolution is a resolution passed by a majority of 75 per cent. or more of the votes cast. The Articles of Association provide that matters may be determined by a meeting of Shareholders on a show of hands unless a poll is requested by five Shareholders or by Shareholders holding 10 per cent or more of the Shares or unless the Chairman of the meeting requests a poll. Each Share (including the Subscriber Shares) gives the holder one vote in relation to any matters relating to the Company which are submitted to Shareholders for a vote by poll.

On a show of hands every Shareholder present in person or by proxy shall have one vote. On a poll a Shareholder present in person or by proxy shall be entitled to one vote in respect of each share held by him.

Reports

In each year, the Directors shall cause to be prepared an annual report and audited annual accounts for the Company. These will be made available to Shareholders (by electronic mail or other form of electronic communication, including by posting them on a website where the Shareholder has agreed to this and been notified of this fact) within four months of the end of the financial year and at least 21 days before the annual general meeting. In addition, the Company shall prepare and make available to Shareholders within two months of the end of the relevant period a semi-annual report and unaudited semi-annual accounts for the Company in the same manner.

Annual accounts shall be made up to 31 December in each year and unaudited half-yearly accounts shall be made up to 30 June in each year.

- (a) their publication process relies on sound procedures to collect prices and to calculate and to subsequently publish the index value, including pricing procedures for components where a market price is not available;
 - (b) material information on matters such as index calculation, rebalancing methodologies, index changes or any operational difficulties in providing timely or accurate information is provided on a wide and timely basis.

Where the composition of assets which are used as underlyings by FDI does not fulfil the criteria set out in 2.1, 2.2 or 2.3 above, those FDI shall, where they comply with the criteria set out in Regulation 68(1)(g) of the Regulations, be regarded as FDI on a combination of the assets referred to in Regulation 68(1)(g)(i) of the Regulations, excluding financial indices.

3. A transferable security or money market instrument embedding an FDI shall be understood as a reference to financial instruments which fulfil the criteria for transferable securities or money market instruments set out in the Regulations and which contain a component which fulfils the following criteria:
- 3.1 by virtue of that component some or all of the cash flows that otherwise would be required by the transferable security or money market instrument which functions as host contract can be modified according to a specified interest rate, financial instrument price, foreign exchange rate, index of prices or rates, credit rating or credit index, or other variable, and therefore vary in a way similar to a stand-alone FDI;
 - 3.2 its economic characteristics and risks are not closely related to the economic characteristics and risks of the host contract;
 - 3.3 it has a significant impact on the risk profile and pricing of the transferable security or money market instrument.
4. A transferable security or a money market instrument shall not be regarded as embedding a FDI where it contains a component which is contractually transferable independently of the transferable security or the money market instrument. Such a component shall be deemed to be a separate financial instrument.
5. Where the Company enters, on behalf of a Fund, into a total return swap or invests in other FDI with similar characteristics, the assets held by the Fund must comply with Regulations 70, 71, 72, 73 and 74 of the Regulations.

OTC FDI

6. The Company shall only invest assets of a Fund in an OTC FDI if the FDI counterparty is within at least one of the following categories:
- 6.1 a credit institution that is within any of the categories set out in Regulation 7 of the Central Bank Regulations;
 - 6.2 an investment firm authorised in accordance with MiFID; and
 - 6.3 a group company of an entity issued with a bank holding company licence from the Federal Reserve of the United States of America where that group company is subject to bank holding company consolidated supervision by that Federal Reserve.

7. Where a counterparty within paragraphs 6.2 or 6.3:
 - 7.1 was subject to a credit rating by an agency registered and supervised by ESMA that rating shall be taken into account by the Company in the credit assessment process; and
 - 7.2 where a counterparty is downgraded to A-2 or below (or comparable rating) by the credit rating agency referred to in paragraph 7.1 this shall result in a new credit assessment being conducted of the counterparty by the Company without delay.
8. Where an OTC FDI referred to in paragraph 6 is subject to a novation, the counterparty after the novation must be:
 - 8.1 an entity that is within any of the categories set out in paragraph 6; or
 - 8.2 a central counterparty that is:
 - (a) authorised or recognised under EMIR; or

 - 9.2 In assessing risk exposure to the counterparty to an OTC FDI for the purpose of Regulation 70(1)(c) of the Regulations:
 - (a) the Company shall calculate the exposure to the counterparty using the positive mark-to-market value of the OTC FDI with that counterparty;
 - (b) the Company may net FDI positions with the same counterparty, provided that the Fund is able to legally enforce netting arrangements with the counterparty. For this purpose netting is permissible only in respect of OTC FDI with the same counterparty and not in relation to any other exposures the Fund has with the same counterparty;
 - (c) the Company may take account of collateral received by the FDI in order to reduce the exposure to the counterparty, provided that the collateral meets with the requirements specified in paragraphs (3), (4), (5), (6), (7), (8), (9) and (10) of Regulation 24 of the Central Bank Regulations.
10. OTC FDI must be subject to reliable and verifiable valuation on a daily basis and sold, liquidated or closed by an offsetting transaction at any time at their fair value at the Fund's initiative.

Issuer concentration limits

11. For the purpose of Regulation 70 of the Regulations and the calculation of issuer concentration limits of a Fund, the Company shall:
 - 11.1 include any net exposure to a counterparty generated through a securities lending or repurchase agreement, where net exposure means the amount receivable by the Fund less any collateral provided by the Fund;
 - 11.2 include exposures created through the reinvestment of collateral; and
 - 11.3 establish whether the exposure of the Fund is to an OTC counterparty, a broker, a central counterparty or a clearing house.
12. The position exposure of the Fund, if any, to the underlying assets of an FDI, including an FDI that is embedded in transferable securities, money market instruments or investment funds, when combined with positions resulting from direct investments:
 - 12.1 shall be calculated in accordance with paragraph 13; and
 - 12.2 shall not exceed the investment limits set out in Regulations 70 and 73 of the Regulations.
13. For the purposes of paragraph 12:
 - 13.1 when calculating issuer-concentration risk, the FDI (including embedded FDI) must be looked through in determining the resultant position exposure and this position exposure shall be taken into account in the issuer concentration calculations;
 - 13.2 the Company shall calculate the position exposure of the Fund using the commitment approach or the maximum potential loss as a result of default by the issuer approach, whichever is greater; and
 - 13.3 the Company shall calculate the position exposure, regardless of whether the Fund uses VaR for global exposure purposes.
14. Paragraph 12 does not apply in the case of an index-based FDI provided the underlying index meets the criteria set out in Regulation 71(1) of the Regulations.
15. Collateral received must at all times meet with the requirements set out in paragraphs 30 to 38 below.
16. Collateral passed to an OTC FDI counterparty by or on behalf of a Fund must be taken into account in calculating exposure of the Fund to counterparty risk as referred to in Regulation 70(1)(c) of the Regulations. Collateral passed may be taken into account on a net basis only if the Fund is able to legally enforce netting arrangements with this counterparty.
17. The risk exposures to a counterparty arising from OTC FDI transactions and efficient portfolio management techniques must be combined when calculating the OTC counterparty limit as referred to in Regulation 70(1)(c) of the Regulations.

Cover requirements

18. Where the initial margin posted to and variation margin receivable from a broker relating to an exchange-traded FDI or an OTC FDI is not protected by client money rules or other similar arrangements to protect the Fund in the event of the insolvency of the broker, the Company shall calculate exposure of the Fund within the OTC counterparty limit as referred to in Regulation 70(1)(c) of the Regulations.

19. The Company shall ensure that, at all times:
 - 19.1 the Fund is capable of meeting all its payment and delivery obligations incurred by transactions involving FDI;
 - 19.2 the risk management process of the Company includes the monitoring of FDI transactions to ensure that every such transaction is covered adequately;
 - 19.3 a transaction in FDI which gives rise to, or could potentially give rise to, a future commitment on behalf of a Fund is covered in accordance with the conditions specified in paragraph 20.
20. The conditions to which paragraph 19.3 refers are:
 - 20.1 in the case of an FDI that is, automatically or at the discretion of the Fund, cash-settled, the Fund must, at all times, hold liquid assets that are sufficient to cover the exposure;
 - 20.2 in the case of an FDI that requires physical delivery of the underlying asset, either:
 - (a) the asset must at all times be held by a Fund; or
 - (b) where either or both of the conditions in paragraphs 21.1 and 21.2 applies, the Fund must cover the exposure with sufficient liquid assets.
21. The conditions to which paragraph 20.2(b) refers are:
 - 21.1 the underlying asset consists, or the underlying assets consist, of highly liquid fixed income securities;
 - 21.2
 - (a) the exposure can be covered without the need to hold the underlying assets;
 - (b) the specific FDI is addressed in the risk management process; and
 - (c) details of the exposure are provided in the prospectus.

In this regard, please note that in the case of the instruments referred to in the section entitled “Investment Techniques and Instruments”, the Company considers that from time to time the exposure may be covered with sufficient liquid assets.

Risk management process and reporting

22. A Fund must provide the Central Bank with details of its proposed risk management process vis-à-vis its FDI activity pursuant to Chapter 3 of Part 2 of the Central Bank Regulations. The initial filing is required to include information in relation to:
 - 22.1 permitted types of FDI, including embedded FDI in transferable securities and money market instruments;

24. The Company must submit a report to the Central Bank on the Funds' FDI positions on an annual basis. The report, which must include information which reflects a true and fair view of the types of FDI used by the Funds, the underlying risks, the quantitative limits and the methods used to estimate those risks, must be submitted with the annual report of the Company. The Company must, at the request of the Central Bank, provide this report at any time.

Calculation of global exposure

25. The Company shall ensure that in the case of each Fund, at all times:
- 25.1 the Fund complies with the limits on global exposure;
- 25.2 the Fund establishes and implements appropriate internal risk management measures and limits, irrespective of whether the Fund uses a commitment approach or the VaR approach or any other methodology to calculate global exposure. For the purpose of subparagraph (1), paragraph 12 of Schedule 9 of the Regulations, a UCITS shall only select a methodology where ESMA has published guidelines on the selected methodology; and
- 25.3 it calculates the global exposure in accordance with Schedule 2 to the Central Bank Regulations.

Efficient Portfolio Management

Portfolio Management Techniques

26. The Company shall only use efficient portfolio management techniques and instruments for the purposes of Regulation 69(2) of the Regulations where same are in the best interests of the relevant Fund.
27. The Company shall ensure that all the revenues arising from efficient portfolio management techniques and instruments, net of direct and indirect operational costs, are returned to the relevant Fund.
28. Techniques and instruments which relate to transferable securities or money market instruments and which are used for the purpose of efficient portfolio management shall be understood as a reference to techniques and instruments which fulfil the following criteria:
- 28.1 they are economically appropriate in that they are realised in a cost-effective way;

- 28.2 they are entered into for one or more of the following specific aims:
- (a) reduction of risk;
 - (b) reduction of cost;
 - (c) generation of additional capital or income for the Fund with a level of risk which is consistent with the risk profile of the Fund and the risk diversification rules set out in Regulations 70 and 71 of the Regulations; and
- 28.3 their risks are adequately captured by the risk management process of the Fund.
29. Repurchase/reverse repurchase agreements and securities lending (i.e., efficient portfolio management techniques) may only be effected in accordance with normal market practice.

Collateral

30. The Company shall ensure, in engaging in efficient portfolio management techniques and instruments, that:
- 30.1 every asset that is received by a Fund as a result of engaging in efficient portfolio management techniques and instruments is treated as collateral;
 - 30.2 such techniques comply with the criteria set down in paragraph 24(2) of the Central Bank Regulations;
 - 30.3 at all times, collateral that is received by a Fund meets the criteria specified in paragraph 31.
31. The conditions for the receipt of collateral by a Fund, to which paragraph 30 refers, are:
- 31.1 Liquidity: Collateral received, other than cash, should be highly liquid and traded on a Regulated Market or multilateral trading facility with transparent pricing in order that it can be sold quickly at a price that is close to its pre-sale valuation. Collateral received should also comply with the provisions of Regulation 74 of the Regulations.
 - 31.2 Valuation: Collateral that is received should be valued on at least a daily basis and assets that exhibit high price volatility should not be accepted as collateral unless suitably conservative haircuts are in place.

 - 31.4 Correlation: Collateral received should be issued by an entity that is independent from the counterparty. There should be a reasonable ground for the Company to expect that it would not display a high correlation with the performance of the counterparty.

31.5 Diversification (asset concentration):

- (a) Subject to sub-paragraph (b) below, collateral received should be sufficiently diversified in terms of country, markets and issuers with a maximum exposure to a given issuer of 20 per cent. of the Net Asset Value of the Fund. When a Fund is exposed to different counterparties, the different baskets of collateral should be aggregated to calculate the 20 per cent. limit of exposure to a single issuer.
- (b) It is intended that a Fund may be fully collateralised in different transferable securities and money market instruments issued or guaranteed by a Member State, one or more of its local authorities, a third country, or a public international body to which one or more Member States belong. The Fund should receive securities from at least six different issues, but securities from any single issue should not account for more than 30 per cent. of the Fund's Net Asset Value. The Member States, local authorities, third countries, or public international bodies or issuing or guaranteeing securities which a Fund is able to accept as collateral for more than 20 per cent. of its Net Asset Value shall be drawn from the following list:

- 33. Where a Fund receives collateral on a title transfer basis, the Company shall ensure that the collateral is to be held by the Depositary. Where a Fund receives collateral on any basis other than a title transfer basis, that collateral may be held by a third party depositary, provided that that depositary is subject to prudential supervision and is unrelated and unconnected to the provider of the collateral.
- 34. The Company shall not sell, pledge or re-invest the non-cash collateral received by a Fund.

38. The Company shall establish and ensure adherence to a haircut policy for a Fund, adapted for each class of assets received as collateral. When devising the haircut policy, the Company shall take into account the characteristics of the assets, such as the credit standing or the price volatility, as well as the outcome of the stress tests performed in accordance with Regulation 21 of the Central Bank Regulations. The Company shall document the haircut policy and the Company shall justify and document each decision to apply a specific haircut or to refrain from applying any haircut, to any specific class of assets.
39. Where a counterparty to a repurchase or a securities lending agreement which has been entered into by the Company on behalf of a Fund:

Repurchase and reverse repurchase agreements

41. Where the Company enters into a reverse repurchase agreement on behalf of a Fund it shall ensure that the Fund is at all times able to recall the full amount of cash or to terminate the relevant agreement on either an accrued basis or a mark-to-market basis.

42. In circumstances in which cash is, by virtue of the obligation under paragraph 41 recallable at any time on a mark-to-market basis, the Company shall use the mark-to-market value of the reverse repurchase agreement for the calculation of the Net Asset Value of the Fund.
43. Where the Company enters into a repurchase agreement on behalf of a Fund it shall ensure that the Fund is at all times able to recall any securities that are subject to the repurchase agreement or to terminate the repurchase agreement into which it has entered.
44. Repurchase/reverse repurchase agreements or securities lending do not constitute borrowing or lending for the purposes of Regulation 103 and Regulation 111 of the Regulations, respectively.

What environmental and/or social characteristics are promoted by this financial product?

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852, establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not lay down a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

The Fund promotes environmental and/or social characteristics, across the metrics of business ethics, corporate governance, the environmental impact of products and services, emissions, effluents and waste, human capital and human rights and resource use in the supply chain, where available, through prioritising investment in companies that have:

- strong environmental policies relating to pollution and sustainable production, which may also include companies actively working to improve their environmental footprint, sustainable sourcing, recycling, waste treatment and usage of materials and to reduce their emissions and energy consumption; or
- strong policies relating to social characteristics such as the fair treatment of workers and the fair treatment of partners to their businesses;

and which have good corporate governance practices, such as strong, stable management and manage the business in the long-term interest of shareholders.

Sustainability indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

● What sustainability indicators are used to measure the attainment of each of the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this financial product?

The attainment of the Sub-Fund's social and environmental characteristics is measured:

- quantitatively, directly through data collected by the Investment Manager's in-house research team, as well as indirectly through third party data and informational sources (including via external partners, which may include Sustainalytics, Morningstar Direct and/or ISS, who provide reports and information on the exposure of a company to ESG factors as well as the management of the company of the ESG risks associated with that factor); and
- qualitatively, in that the Investment Manager must assess each metric on a case-by-case basis to determine whether any of the factors jeopardises the overall sustainability of the business.

Assessed data includes metrics across business ethics, corporate governance, the environmental impact of products and services, emissions, effluents and waste, human capital and human rights and resource use in the supply chain, where available.

● What are the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially intends to make and how does the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

N/A – the Fund does not commit to make sustainable investments.

● How do the sustainable investments that the financial product partially intends to make, not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

N/A – the Fund does not commit to make sustainable investments.

How have the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors been taken into account?

N/A – the Fund does not commit to make sustainable investments.

How are the sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

N/A – the Fund does not commit to make sustainable investments.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a “do not significant harm” principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific EU criteria.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

Does this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Yes

In managing the Fund, the Investment Manager considers the principal adverse impacts (“PAI”) of investment decisions on sustainability factors and excludes companies that have significant environmental and social risks. The specific PAIs that the Investment Manager has identified and will take into account are:

- Greenhouse Gas (GHG) emissions (PAI 1 and 3)
The level of any type of GHG that is released by a company, measured in volume and intensity.
- Carbon emissions (PAI 2)
Specifically, and in addition to GHG emissions, the level of carbon dioxide equivalent that is released by a company, measured in volume and intensity (pollution).
- Exposure to Fossil Fuels (PAI 4)
Industries that derive revenues from the exploration, mining, extraction, distribution, or refining of hard, liquid, or gaseous fuels (i.e. coal, oil, natural gas)
- Compliance with United Nations Global Compact principles (PAI 10)
Observing that companies at a minimum, meet fundamental responsibilities in the areas of human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption.
- Exposure to controversial weapons (14)
Industries that derive revenues from the manufacture or selling of controversial weapons (i.e. anti-personnel landmines, cluster munitions, chemical, biological, radiological and nuclear weapons)

No

What investment strategy does this financial product follow?

The investment strategy guides investment decisions based on factors such as investment objectives and risk tolerance.

The investment objective of the Fund is to seek capital appreciation through investment in equity or equity related securities (i.e. equity warrants and convertible bonds) of the highest quality companies listed on the stock exchanges of the European OECD member countries. The Fund may purchase securities denominated in any of the major convertible currencies of the European member countries of the OECD. The Fund will invest in large, successful companies with proven track records and high predictability of future earnings growth. Such companies generally will have most or all of the following characteristics: (i) multinational businesses including exposure to the fast growing economies of the world; (ii) steady, non cyclical demand for their products or services; (iii) superior earnings growth records over the last ten years; (iv) global branded products or services often sought after by developing market consumers; (v) the potential for long term consistent earnings growth; (vi) high returns on equity reflecting a technological advantage over their competitors or uniqueness of their products or services; (vii) dynamic management, and; (viii) internal resources sufficient to finance their global development and maintain their competitive position (these characteristics are considered by the Investment Manager to be "Quality Growth" criteria).

It is not proposed to concentrate investment in any one industrial sector or to limit the amount which may be invested in any one country.

The securities in which the Fund may invest shall be traded on any one of the Regulated Markets.

The MSCI Europe TR Index is the benchmark index against which the Fund's performance is compared. Details of the Fund's performance relative to the benchmark index are available in the Fund's KIID and certain marketing materials. The benchmark index is used for illustrative purposes only. The Fund is actively managed and, while a proportion of the Fund's assets may from time to time be components of, and have similar weightings to, the benchmark index, the Investment Manager may use its discretion to invest a significant proportion of the Fund in assets which are not included in the benchmark index or with weightings different to that of the benchmark index. There is no guarantee that the Fund's performance will match or exceed the benchmark index.

● What are the binding elements of the investment strategy used to select the investments to attain each of the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this financial product?

ESG exclusions are incorporated throughout each stage of the investment selection process. The Investment Manager first filters out companies from non-OECD countries. This is designed to only allow companies from countries that have a commitment to democracy, the protection of human rights and to open and transparent free markets.

Next, the Investment Manager applies certain sector exclusions based on its determination of business activities that may not be sustainable, to screen out companies involved in these sectors. These are (i) telecommunications; (ii) automobiles; (iii) tobacco; (iv) energy (including oil, gas and consumable fuels); (v) banks; (vii) heavy industrials (including aerospace & defence); (ix) metals & mining; (x) utilities (including electric, gas & water).

The Investment Manager also screens out companies that engage in controversial weapon production and arms manufacturers.

The Investment Manager also conducts initial negative screens in order to exclude companies which have been subject to significant ESG issues (such as reputational damage, regulatory fines due to pollution or the risk of strike action due to unsafe working conditions).

Companies must then meet the Investment Manager's tests for Quality Growth, which includes ESG elements.

Finally, as part of its ongoing monitoring of the Fund's investments, where a company already invested in is flagged as part of the ongoing analysis as no longer performing in any of the E, S or G areas, the Investment Manager will:

- assess the degree to which the breach of E, S or G characteristics interferes with the overall sustainability of the company's business;
- where possible, engage with the company's management on the issue, where the breach is deemed to jeopardise the overall sustainability of the company's business; and
- where management choose a course of inaction and it is determined that the issue negatively affects the overall sustainability of the company's business, dispose of its position and allocate capital away from the offending company and toward companies that do promote sustainable characteristics.

The elements described above are binding and there is no scope for any of them to be bypassed.

- What is the committed minimum rate to reduce the scope of the investments considered prior to the application of that investment strategy?

No committed minimum rate applies to the Fund.

- What is the policy to assess good governance practices of the investee companies?

The Fund excludes companies from non-OECD countries and companies that have been subject to significant ESG issues, including governance issues.

Companies that do not meet the Investment Manager's tests for Quality Growth are also excluded. One of the key focusses of this Quality Growth research step is governance-based tests, including adherence to local regulations surrounding air and water pollution or energy efficiency, advancing human rights, fostering employee engagement and promote safe working environments for their direct employees, and where applicable, for employees in companies further up or further down their supply chains.

Good governance practices include sound management structures, employee relations, remuneration of staff and tax compliance.

What is the asset allocation planned for this financial product?

The Investment Manager employs a binding investment selection methodology which is aligned to the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Fund which is applied to at least 95% of the Sub-Fund's portfolio. The remaining portion (<5%) of the portfolio is not aligned with the promoted characteristics and consists of liquid assets (cash, ancillary liquid assets, bank deposits, money market instruments and money market funds).

Asset allocation describes the share of investments in specific assets.

#1 Aligned with E/S characteristics includes the investments of the financial product used to attain the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product.

#2 Other includes the remaining investments of the financial product which are neither aligned with the environmental or social characteristics, nor are qualified as sustainable investments.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective.

Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

● How does the use of derivatives attain the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product?

N/A – the Sub-Fund does not use derivatives to attain the environmental or social characteristics it promotes.

The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial product attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852, establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not lay down a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability

indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anticorruption and anti-bribery matters.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

Does this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Yes

In managing the Fund, the Investment Manager considers the principal adverse impacts (“PAI”) of investment decisions on sustainability factors and excludes companies that have significant environmental and social risks. The specific PAIs that the Investment Manager has identified and will take into account are:

- Greenhouse Gas (GHG) emissions (PAI 1 and 3)
The level of any type of GHG that is released by a company, measured in volume and intensity.
- Carbon emissions (PAI 2)
Specifically, and in addition to GHG emissions, the level of carbon dioxide equivalent that is released by a company, measured in volume and intensity (pollution).
- Exposure to Fossil Fuels (PAI 4)
Industries that derive revenues from the exploration, mining, extraction, distribution, or refining of hard, liquid, or gaseous fuels (i.e. coal, oil, natural gas)
- Compliance with United Nations Global Compact principles (PAI 10)
Observing that companies at a minimum, meet fundamental responsibilities in the areas of human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption.
- Exposure to controversial weapons (14)
Industries that derive revenues from the manufacture or selling of controversial weapons (i.e. anti-personnel landmines, cluster munitions, chemical, biological, radiological and nuclear weapons)

No

The Fund may purchase securities denominated in any of the major convertible currencies of the member countries of the OECD. The Fund will invest in large, successful companies with proven track records and high predictability of future earnings growth. Such companies generally will have most or all of the following characteristics: (i) multinational businesses including exposure to the fast growing economies of the world; (ii) steady, non-cyclical demand for their products or services; (iii) unbroken earnings growth records over the last ten years; (iv) global branded products or services often sought after by developing market consumers; (v) the potential for long term consistent earnings growth; (vi) high returns on equity reflecting a technological advantage over their competition or uniqueness of their products or services; (vii) dynamic management, and; (viii) internal resources sufficient to finance their global development and maintain their competitive position (these characteristics are considered by the Investment Manager to be "Quality Growth" criteria).

It is not proposed to concentrate investment in any one industrial sector or to limit the amount which may be invested in any one country.

The securities in which the Fund may invest shall be traded on any one of the Regulated Markets.

The S&P 500 TR Index is the benchmark index against which the Fund's performance is compared. Details of the Fund's performance relative to the benchmark index are available in the Fund's KIID and certain marketing materials. The benchmark index is used for illustrative purposes only. The Fund is actively managed and, while a proportion of the Fund's assets may from time to time be components of, and have similar weightings to, the benchmark index, the Investment Manager may use its discretion to invest a significant proportion of the Fund in assets which are not included in the benchmark index or with weightings different to that of the benchmark index. There is no guarantee that the Fund's performance will match or exceed the benchmark index.

● What are the binding elements of the investment strategy used to select the investments to attain each of the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this financial product?

ESG exclusions are incorporated throughout each stage of the investment selection process. The Investment Manager first filters out companies from non-OECD countries. This is designed to only allow companies from countries that have a commitment to democracy, the protection of human rights and to open and transparent free markets.

Next, the Investment Manager applies certain sector exclusions based on its determination of business activities that may not be sustainable, to screen out companies involved in these sectors. These are (i) telecommunications; (ii) automobiles; (iii) tobacco; (iv) energy (including oil, gas and consumable fuels); (v) banks; (vii) heavy industrials (including aerospace & defence); (ix) metals & mining; (x) utilities (including electric, gas & water).

The Investment Manager also screens out companies that engage in controversial weapon production and arms manufacturers.

The Investment Manager also conducts initial negative screens in order to exclude companies which have been subject to significant ESG issues (such as reputational damage, regulatory fines due to pollution or the risk of strike action due to unsafe working conditions).

Companies must then meet the Investment Manager's tests for Quality Growth, which includes ESG elements.

Finally, as part of its ongoing monitoring of the Fund's investments, where a company already invested in is flagged as part of the ongoing analysis as no longer performing in any of the E, S or G areas, the Investment Manager will:

- assess the degree to which the breach of E, S or G characteristics interferes with the overall sustainability of the company's business;
- where possible, engage with the company's management on the issue, where the breach is deemed to jeopardise the overall sustainability of the company's business; and
- where management choose a course of inaction and it is determined that the issue negatively affects the overall sustainability of the company's business, dispose of its position and allocate capital away from the offending company and toward companies that do promote sustainable
