VIA Smart-Equity US (CHF / FX-hedged)

Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation (SFDR) : Article 8

Investment objectives & strategy

VIA Smart-Equity US is a UCITS fund invested in US Equities through a systematic approach. Its strategy consists in selecting liquid US companies with the best value creation profile from a shareholder's point of view that have at the same time high profitability, good perspectives and have relatively inexpensive valuations. In order to better account for the economic reality of the stocks, their accounting data are normalized prior to assess their fundamentals. The portfolio is reviewed monthly to ensure proper reactivity, but it is rebalanced only by fraction to limit timing dependency and slippage. The strategy is implemented mostly through the purchase of stocks, but derivatives may also be used to reduce risk and enhance performance.

Managers' update

Markets: after a very positive first quarter, the American stock markets are taking a break. They show a performance of -5.1% for the MSCI USA Equal Weight and -4.1% for the S&P500 Market Cap. Over the first four months of the year, we can therefore note the marked underperformance of the average capitalization at +2.5%, compared to +5.9% for the Market Cap index. In April, the change in "atmosphere" seemed to be linked to a disappointment in the expectations of Central Banks to relax. In this context, the VIA Smart Equity US fund is in line with its benchmark, with a monthly decline of 5% (SI-USD), but it has maintained a significant lead since the start of the year..

Factors and Stock Selection (relative to the Market Cap. benchmark): In April, factor and sector contributions are in negative territory, mainly due to overexposure to cyclical companies. Exposures to the Growth, Momentum and Value factors are well oriented, but are not positive enough to compensate.

The stock selection was rather neutral over the month, with, for once, underexposure to Big Tech proving favourable, for example on Meta or Microsoft. But on the other hand, stocks like Arista Networks or Icon showed significant declines, at around -11% in April. The first suffers from a lowering of recommendations and the second from slightly less positive anticipations for the next quarters.

For the last monthly selection, we will note the high level of diversification, ranging from Microsoft to construction companies, including utilities stocks such as Waste Management.

, worth noting is the high level of diversification, ranging from Microsoft to construction companies, including oil stocks like Weatherford International.

Outlook: There are very different approaches to successful long-term equity investing. In contrast to passive management that selects and weights stocks based on their sizes, we prefer a two-step approach, betting that if we can select companies capable of offering the maximum wealth creation for shareholders, then the portfolio's market value will follow suit. Despite the volatility displayed during multiple contraction/expansion phases, this "super factor" explains much of the long-term equity market performance. Moreover, when markets deviate from their economic performance, it generally presents investment or divestment opportunities. With the VIA Smart Equity US fund, we precisely adopt a diversified, Buy & Hold approach, focusing on maximizing long-term value creation. The fund continues to exhibit strong fundamentals, boasting an economic return on capital (Economic Profitability) of 27.5% against an economic PER of 19.6x (FEV/Economic Assets/Economic Profitability), while maintaining significant diversification (over 150 different companies).

Please find the VIA leap® monthly report, measure of the fund's real economic performance here. This reporting, unique in the world, intends to offer a measure of the wealth creation of our strategies, compared to the benchmark wealth creation and their respective Mark-to-Market performances.
