Selected Target Investments

This month we present IFS und Workwave

In March 2022, HgCapital Trust invested in UK-based software companies IFS and Workwave in a buyout deal. The enterprise value of the two private companies was USD 10 billion. The two IT companies operate worldwide and offer cloud solutions to an international customer base to optimize their processes. Since HgCapital's investment, sales and profits have increased both organically and through acquisitions. In this way, HgCapital was able to slightly increase the fair value of the investment on the balance sheet in the first year. This trend continues well into 2024: the book value as of Q2 2024 was already almost 25% higher than the entry price of two years ago. This valuation could be conservative in our view, as there is speculation at the moment that there is a new buyout deal from IFS and Workwave with a valuation of up to USD 15 billion in the pipeline.
