Selected Target Investments

This month we present Septeo

Towards the end of 2020, HgCapital Trust invested in the buyout of Septeo, a France-based company. Founded in 2013, the company offers enterprise software and network solutions.

Since the buyout, Septeo has developed excellently and, for example, has been able to double the number of users of the services offered. Since 2020, Septeo's valuation has been steadily increased on the basis of fair value. As of Q2 2024, the date of the last periodic revaluation, Septeo is valued at a return multiple based on fair value of more than 2.2, which represents an astonishing return for a holding period of four years.

This month, HgCapital was then able to announce a deal that proves the value of the valuation. A refinancing of Septeo was announced. At the same time, new investors were brought on board for Septeo with GIC (a globally operating investor) and Téthys Invest (a well-known French family office), at a valuation that was five percent higher than that of Q2 2024.
