Selected Target Investments

This month we present Dexters

Back in February 2021, Oakley Capital invested in UK-based Dexters as part of a management buyout. This is one of the largest real estate agents and appraisers in the UK.

Already in the first year of the investment, Dexters showed a very good performance, so that the fair value at the end of 2021 was already more than double the invested amount. After this good development continued in 2022, a value-enhancing transaction took place at the beginning of 2023. For example, an important competitor, the brokerage specialist Marsh & Parsons, was taken over. Accordingly, the book value of Dexters continued to increase and already led to an implied investment multiple of over 2.3 at the end of 2023. Due to this positive development and the advanced holding period of the deal of almost four years, we expect a value-enhancing exit in the near future, possibly leading to a significant uplift to the current book value.
