Fund description

Fund concept

The Valitas Institutional Fund (VIF) is an umbrella fund composed beside others of the two subfunds Valitas Diversified 3.0 and Valitas Diversified 5.0. The subfunds are covering a variety of asset classes focusing on diversified investments (mostly funds). Based on differing weightings of the relevant asset classes the subfunds are targeting long term returns between 3% (VIF 3.0) and 5% (VIF 5.0). As the subfunds may be combined flexibly customized return-risk-profiles can easily be achieved.

Investment policy

The Valitas Diversified Funds 3.0 and 5.0 pursue a core satellite strategy via a multi manager approach. They represent well diversified portfolios with attractive return-risk characteristics. The fund manager actively adjusts the weight of the different asset classes within the range of their defined maximum weightings in the portfolios. Additional returns shall be achieved by selecting investment topics with the potential for superior long term returns as well as best in class asset managers with proven track records especially during periods of market stress.

Report of the Investment Manager

The Swiss economy is only recovering slowly due to a lack of impetus from abroad. Inflation is declining significantly and fell to 0.8% in September, compared to 1.1% in August. In Germany, inflation fell to 1.6%, the lowest level for around three and a half years. September was characterized by interest rate cuts: The US Federal Reserve (Fed) lowered its key interest rate by 0.5% to a target range of 4.75% to 5.0%. The Swiss National Bank (SNB) lowered its key interest rate by 0.25% to 1.0%, and the European Central Bank (ECB) also lowered it by 0.25% to 3.5%. These interest rate cuts had a positive impact on foreign stock markets; the S&P 500 rose by +2.14% (YTD +22.08%). However, the picture was different on the Swiss equity markets: the SPI recorded -1.59% in September (YTD +11.47%), due to the underperformance of the blue chips Nestlé, Novartis and Roche. The interest rate decisions of foreign central banks had hardly any impact on the bond markets, as the easing measures had already been largely priced in. However, the Swiss bond market benefited from the prospect of further interest rate cuts and gained in value as a result, with the SBI recording +0.7% in September (YTD +3.99%).
