Fund Portrait

The JSS Sustainable Multi Asset - Global Opportunities (formerly JSS Sustainable Portfolio - Balanced (EUR)) aims to achieve long-term capital growth by investing globally across asset classes with a flexible total return oriented approach. The sub-fund seeks to benefit from a large investment opportunity set of liquid global asset classes, whilst diversifying risk across regions, industries and issuers. It will also systematically integrate financially-material ESG aspects throughout the entire investment process, in order to avoid controversial exposures, mitigate ESG risks and harness opportunities, while aiming to achieve an above-average ESG profile. Its flexible asset allocation aims at harvesting the long-term market risk premia and mitigate the downside risks through a risk return driven portfolio construction. The Sub-Fund is actively managed without replicating any benchmark. The Sub-Fund is managed without reference to any benchmark.

Review

Overall, 2024 was an excellent year for risk assets. Cyclical outperformed defensive equities worldwide. However, eurozone cyclical lagged behind in the face of the triple whammy of economic weakness, weakening global competitiveness and increased political risks. Looking ahead to 2025, US tariffs pose a clear threat to European exporters. Over the past twelve months, key interest rate expectations have essentially moved sideways within a broad range. In addition, an increasing divergence between the US and the rest of the world can be observed, which has led to a strong appreciation of the US dollar in the fourth quarter of 2024. In our view, long-term yields are fairly valued and are likely to remain at high levels in the coming year.

Outlook

Economic activity in the US held up remarkably well in 2024. While momentum slowed somewhat at the start of the second half of the year, it picked up again as the markets began to price in Donald Trump's victory in the US elections. The US labor market remains resilient and consumer sentiment remains strong. So far, however, the markets have focused primarily on Trump's pro-growth tax policy and deregulation efforts. Together with the increased yield advantage of US bonds over the rest of the world, this has also boosted the US dollar. Although economic activity is likely to remain strong in the coming months, we see a risk that sentiment could deteriorate as soon as the market shifts its focus to tariffs and the prospect of stricter US immigration policy.

JSS Investmentfonds SICAV is a UCITS organised as an open-ended investment company (société d'investissement à capital variable – "SICAV") under the law of Luxembourg (the "Fund"), and is regulated by the Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier ("CSSF"). The investment described in this document is a sub-fund of JSS Investmentfonds SICAV (the "Sub-Fund"). Potential investors should consult the KID, the prospectus and all legally relevant local offering documents before making any investment and, in particular, inform themselves comprehensively about the risks associated with the Sub-Fund. Detailed information about risks and rewards is available in the prospectus or KID of the share classes of the Sub-Fund. Past performance is not indicative of current or future performance.

Performance was calculated on the basis of the net asset value and, if applicable, the reinvested gross dividend. When calculating the performance, all costs charged to the Fund and Sub-Fund were taken into account in order to obtain a net performance. The performance shown does not include (if and where applicable) any commissions and costs incurred at investor level on subscription and redemption of shares. Additional commissions, costs and taxes incurred at investor level have a negative impact on performance. Investments in foreign currencies involve a currency risk, as the return in the investor's currency may be higher or lower due to exchange rate fluctuations. The value of the investor's investment may therefore, as well as for other reasons, increase or decrease. Therefore, there is no guarantee that investors will receive back the full amount of their invested capital upon redemption.
