Fund Portrait

The JSS Sustainable Equity – Green Planet seeks to achieve long-term capital appreciation through global investments in equities of companies with revenues from products and services that are contributing to green solutions. The objective is to invest in a portfolio of companies of which the average share of «Green» revenues to total revenues is 30% across the portfolio. These companies may be characterised by their contribution to improving water, soil and air quality, preserving biodiversity or fighting against climate change. The sub-fund mainly invests in four areas including ecosystem protection, resource efficiency, new energies and smart mobility. To align the sub-Fund with the «Do No Significant Harm» principles, the eligible investment universe as defined by the proprietary JSS sustainability matrix avoids firms on the exclusion list as well as industry laggards and firms with weak ESG credentials. The Sub-Fund is actively managed without replicating any benchmark. The Sub-Fund is managed without reference to any benchmark.

Review

Global markets rose in September and the fund's performance was positive and broadly in line with global markets. China announced monetary stimulus with more fiscal measures expected going forward. This boosted the local market after years of compressed valuations. Waste management and environmental consulting companies took a breather this month after a strong year-to-date performance, while life sciences selection was strong. Industrial electrification companies were strong this month as increased demand for electricity, driven by data centre growth and grid congestion, drives infrastructure spending. Utility-scale solar continues to gain traction in the US, with solar accounting for over 60% of all new generating capacity added to the US grid in the first half of 2024. We increased our exposure to power and performance efficiency tools in advanced packaging in September by adding Onto Innovations to the portfolio. The main positive contributors to performance during the month were Ebara, Siemens and BYD. The main detractors were Republic Services, Onsemi and Arcadis.

Outlook

Despite economic risks globally linked to a higher interest rate regime, we expect that many companies exposed to green trends such as resource efficiency, smart mobility, future energies and ecosystem protection will see positive growth rates in 2024 and beyond. The long term growth potential of the green transition is unchanged, and commitments from governments to reach low carbon targets are resilient. The deglobalisation of supply chains should accelerate the build out of clean energy and electric vehicles capacity, and onshore the production of critical components and materials. In our view, companies best placed to take advantage of this broader trend include clean technology providers, green capex plays in the capital goods and machinery space, power semi producers focused on EVs and renewables, industrial metal producers and recyclers, and electricity grids.

JSS Investmentfonds SICAV is a UCITS organised as an open-ended investment company (société d'investissement à capital variable – "SICAV") under the law of Luxembourg (the "Fund"), and is regulated by the Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier ("CSSF"). The investment described in this document is a sub-fund of JSS Investmentfonds SICAV (the "Sub-Fund"). Potential investors should consult the key information document (KID), the prospectus and all legally relevant local offering documents before making any investment and, in particular, inform themselves comprehensively about the risks associated with the Sub-Fund. Detailed information about risks and rewards is available in the prospectus or KID of the share classes of the Sub-Fund. Past performance is not indicative of current or future performance.

Performance was calculated on the basis of the net asset value and, if applicable, the reinvested gross dividend. When calculating the performance, all costs charged to the Fund and Sub-Fund were taken into account in order to obtain a net performance. The performance shown does not include (if and where applicable) any commissions and costs incurred at investor level on subscription and redemption of shares. Additional commissions, costs and taxes incurred at investor level have a negative impact on performance. Investments in foreign currencies involve a currency risk, as the return in the investor's currency may be higher or lower due to exchange rate fluctuations. The value of the investor's investment may therefore, as well as for other reasons, increase or decrease. Therefore, there is no guarantee that investors will receive back the full amount of their invested capital upon redemption.
