Fund Portrait

The JSS Sustainable Bond – Global Short-term aims to realise high interest yields while maintaining optimal liquidity. To achieve this, the sub-fund invests globally (including in emerging markets) mainly in debt securities denominated in any currency, though its aim is to optimise the investment success calculated in USD. It will also systematically integrate financially-material ESG aspects throughout the entire investment process, in order to avoid controversial exposures, mitigate ESG risks and harness opportunities. “Emerging markets” are generally defined as the markets of countries that are developing into modern industrial economies and therefore have high growth potential but also increased risk. The maximum capital commitment period (duration) of the fund's assets is three years. The sub-fund can invest in securities with non-investment grade rating and, to a lesser extent, also in ABS (asset backed securities) and CoCos (contingent convertible bonds). The Sub-Fund is actively managed without replicating any benchmark. However, the Sub-Fund will be managed with reference to ICE BofA USD 3M (the “Benchmark”).

Review

The JSS Sustainable Bond - Global Short-term fund returned +0.02% in December. The marginally positive performance was driven by the curve carry and active return, which offset the impact from the rise in US rates. As US Federal Reserve expectations shifted towards fewer cuts in 2025, the US Treasury curve bear steepened with the 2y-10y segment moving upwards by 30bps. Amid this backdrop, EM corporate credit was resilient, and credit spreads tightened marginally, outperforming US corporates on both the investment-grade and high-yield categories. The primary market activity was muted for the most part of the month, in line with prior monthly levels. The volatility in US Treasury yields and the political noise in the US continued to weigh on sentiment keeping monthly EM fund flows into the red.

Outlook

We expect EM credit to be volatile in the coming few weeks, with uncertainty on the new US administration policy agenda, coupled with the risk of reflation and Fed repricing posing the biggest risks on the horizon. This drives our cautious approach in the immediate term, with a reduced credit risk position, higher cash and in general greater focus on credit selection and quality. We plan to remain underweight credits with little spread cushion, while also avoiding long duration as curve steepening could continue. The primary market activity has started in line with historical trends and we expect the first three weeks of January to be busy in terms of supply. As of the end of December, the fund had a yield to worst of 5.7%, a duration of 2.3 years, and an average rating of BBB+.
