Fund Portrait

The JSS Sustainable Bond – Emerging Markets Local Currency invests primarily in Emerging Market bonds denominated in local currencies. The strategy seeks to generate attractive risk-adjusted returns by investing in fixed income instruments with high real local interest rates and attractive interest rate differential compared to the US Dollar. It will also systematically integrate financially-material ESG aspects throughout the entire investment process, in order to avoid controversial exposures, mitigate ESG risks and harness opportunities. Investors should also benefit from local currency appreciation as the economic fundamentals and growth prospects of a selection of Emerging Economies continue improving. The Sub-Fund is actively managed without replicating any benchmark. However, the Sub-Fund is managed with reference to J.P. Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Composite Unhedged USD (the “Benchmark”).

Review

JSS Sustainable Bond- Emerging Markets Local Currency fund reported a return of 1.73% in US dollar terms in July, driven by gains in local interest rates and a general strengthening of EM currencies. Notably, EM currencies in Asia appreciated, with the Thai Baht (THB) leading the way. In contrast, Latin American local currency bonds had mixed performance, as most currencies weakened against the US dollar, with the exception of the Peruvian sol and the Colombian peso. Funds' underweight positions in South Africa, Malaysia, and Thailand contributed negatively to the performance. On the other hand, the fund's overweight allocations in Hungary, Poland, Colombia, and the Czech Republic added positive contributions to the overall performance.

Outlook

We maintain a conservative approach for the fund, prioritizing highly liquid positions and currencies. Our strategy includes an overweight bias towards Mexico, Colombia and Eastern European countries, and we hold an underweight positioning in Asia, including Indonesia, China and Malaysia. In Latin America we maintain our underweight positioning in Brazil and Peru. The fund has a yield to worst of 8.1%, a duration of 4.4 years and an average rating of A-
