Fund Managers view

Fixed Income had a second positive consecutive month in August following a determined FED chair to cut rates in September and tumultuous start of the month on the equity markets triggered by the JPY carry trade unwind. Once again, T-Bonds were up 2.04% while Bond Aggregate and T-Bills returned respectively +1.41% and +0.42%. Finally, T-Bonds have managed to move into positive territory year-to-date (+0.39%), still far from an appealing proposal. Over the month, the fund is up again +1.02% vs the BM at +0.99%. That places the YTD fund performance at +4.06%.
