Manager Commentary

Market review: October was a tough month for healthcare amidst a rocky macro picture. In the US markets, it was the worse month year-to-date on a relative basis, globally, the second worse. A large part of this underperformance can be attributed to huge moves in specific sub-sectors of the healthcare space, as explained below.

The managed care companies with exposure to governmental health insurance programs were the largest contributors to this month's sector underperformance. There are 3 reasons for this: First is the sustained high rate of healthcare utilization in the US for Medicare patients, now for the 7th quarter in a row. Second, upcoming changes to reimbursement laws have led to large increases in drug volumes for seniors. Third, with the redetermination of eligibility of Medicaid coverage – which was paused during COVID – the acuity mix of the population has shifted without being reflected in the state insurance rates. Overall, these effects mean stronger demand for healthcare, which is positive for other companies. The Life Science Tools & Services space was also under severe pressure, in large part due to weakness in contract research organisation (CRO) names. These companies are highly dependent on small but also large biotech and pharmaceutical companies outsourcing a part of their clinical trial operation to them. Despite the relative pick-up in the Biotech funding environment over the past 12 months, this has so far not been translating into increased CRO business. In addition, the book of large-cap business also seems to be slowing. Overall, it seems the shifting end market demand is still misunderstood by markets and companies.

Portfolio changes: No new position was initiated and no position was exited.

Performance review: The largest attributors vs. the index were Elevance (+25 bps / Not invested), Regeneron (+21 bps / Not invested) and Danaher (+15 bps / Not invested). The largest detractors vs the index were Abbvie (-37 bps / Not invested), Icon (-25 bps / Sales and EPS miss, driven by two major large pharma clients (pipeline rationalization), elongated decision-making from biotech customers, and vaccine trial cancellations) and Centene (-22 bps / Came under pressure after peers commented on ongoing acuity/ rate mismatch in Medicaid reimbursement. Reasonable good Q3 results at the end of the month were only partially able to compensate).

ESG: Firms in the portfolio did not report any material ESG issues in October.

Morningstar Disclosures:

Morningstar Rating is for the A USD Acc share class only; other classes may have different performance characteristics. Morningstar rates funds from one to five stars based on how well they've performed (after adjusting for risk) in comparison to similar funds. Within each Morningstar Category, the top 10% of funds receive five stars, the next 22.5% four stars, the middle 35% three stars, the next 22.5% two stars, and the bottom 10% receive one star. Funds are rated for up to three time periods—three-, five-, and 10 years—and these ratings are combined to produce an overall rating. Funds with less than three years of history are not rated. Ratings are objective, based entirely on a mathematical evaluation of past performance. They're a useful tool for identifying funds worthy of further research, but shouldn't be considered buy or sell recommendations.

The Morningstar (R) Sustainability RatingTM is intended to measure how well the issuing companies or countries of the securities within a fund's portfolio are managing their financially material environmental, social and governance, or ESG, risks relative to the fund's Morningstar Global Category peers. Morningstar assigns Sustainability Ratings by combining a portfolio's Corporate Sustainability Rating and Sovereign Sustainability Rating proportional to the relative weight of the (long only) corporate and sovereign positions. Corporate and Sovereign Score and Investment Style as of 31-03-2023. Morningstar's Sustainability Score incorporates Sustainalytics' company and country-level analysis.

The Morningstar Style BoxTM is a nine-square grid that, for equity funds, depicts three investment style (value, growth, and core) for each of three size categories (small, mid, and large). The Style Box provides an easy-to-follow visual representation of fund characteristics and enables informed comparisons and portfolio construction based on what funds actually hold.
