Manager Commentary

Market review: After enjoying quite a run of outperformance, the Healthcare sector came under pressure in September. The main macro event of the month was the large US Fed rate cut, which buoyed growth sectors at the expense of the more defensive corners of the market. This dynamic was also present within the healthcare sector, with Medtech outperforming Pharma. Overall, we see this as a temporary setback as markets adjust to a new interest rate trajectory, as well as a testament to sector's strong YTD performance in the form of profit-taking.

Two major oncology conferences took place this month; World Lung in San Diego and ESMO in Barcelona. The star of the show at World Lung was Summit and Akeso's PD1xVEGF antibody. Its results in advanced NSCLC were better than the current standard of care, which has not been improved in over 8 years. While there are many caveats to this data, such as the lack of diversity of the patient population, this may be the beginning of a new era in immuno-oncology.

The European Association for the Study of Diabetes (EASD) conference in Madrid was highly awaited and widely attend following the large strides made in the understanding and treatment of diabetes, obesity, and associated diseases in the past few years.

New obesity drugs such as those in the incretin class (e.g. GLP-1), represent the start of a broader wave of development. However, their mechanisms of action, along with their added benefits and potential side-effects, are not yet fully understood

Portfolio changes: We initiated a position in BioNTech and exited Humana.

Performance review: The largest attributors vs. the index were Eli Lilly (+18 bps / The stock lost 7.7% in September, we are underweighted vs the index), Zoetis (+18 bps / Positive intra-quarter commentary (strong momentum well into Q3) at a broker conference. Later, Zoetis and Danone announced a strategic partnership to drive sustainable practices on today's dairy farms through the power of genetics for healthier cows) and Novo Nordisk (+17 bps / The stock lost 15.4% in September, we are underweighted vs the index).

The largest detractors vs the index were Biomarin (-33 bps / Sell-off after a peer presented topline phase 3 data of TransCon CNP in achondroplasia that is competitive to Biomarin's Voxzogo. However, we believe that stock reaction is overdone as currently the shares are trading near to ex-Voxzogo and ex-Roctavian sales), Icon (-16 bps / No specific news, overall weakness of CRO stocks) and Abbvie (-15 bps / Not invested).

ESG: Firms in the portfolio did not report any material ESG issues in September.

Morningstar Disclosures:

Morningstar Rating is for the A USD Acc share class only; other classes may have different performance characteristics. Within each Morningstar Category, the top 10% of funds receive five stars, the next 22.5% four stars, the middle 35% three stars, the next 22.5% two stars, and the bottom 10% receive one star. Funds are rated for up to three time periods—three-, five-, and 10 years—and these ratings are combined to produce an overall rating. Funds with less than three years of history are not rated. Ratings are objective, based entirely on a mathematical evaluation of past performance. They're a useful tool for identifying funds worthy of further research, but shouldn't be considered buy or sell recommendations.

The Morningstar (R) Sustainability RatingTM is intended to measure how well the issuing companies or countries of the securities within a fund's portfolio are managing their financially material environmental, social and governance, or ESG, risks relative to the fund's Morningstar Global Category peers. Morningstar assigns Sustainability Ratings by combining a portfolio's Corporate Sustainability Rating and Sovereign Sustainability Rating proportional to the relative weight of the (long only) corporate and sovereign positions. Corporate and Sovereign Score and Investment Style as of 31-03-2023. Morningstar's Sustainability Score incorporates Sustainability's company and country-level analysis.

The Morningstar Style BoxTM is a nine-square grid that, for equity funds, depicts three investment style (value, growth, and core) for each of three size categories (small, mid, and large). The Style Box provides an easy-to-follow visual representation of fund characteristics and enables informed comparisons and portfolio construction based on what funds actually hold.
