Fund Portrait

The JSS Sustainable Bond - Global Convertibles aims to maximize long term total return. To achieve this, the sub-fund invests in global convertible bonds from sustainable issuers. It will also systematically integrate financially-material ESG aspects throughout the entire investment process, in order to avoid controversial exposures, mitigate ESG risks and harness opportunities, while aiming to achieve an above-average ESG profile. The issuer can be domiciled in any country (including emerging markets).

The Sub-Fund is actively managed without replicating any benchmark. However, the Sub-Fund is managed with reference to Refinitiv Global Focus Hedged Convertible Bond Index USD-hedged (the "Benchmark").

Review

During December, the Global Convertible portfolio posted a negative absolute return and underperformed the FTSE Global Focus Convertible Index. Underperformance was largely driven by underweight exposure and security selection within consumer discretionary, while security selection within communication services contributed. In terms of regions, underweight exposure to Asia Pacific negatively impacted performance, while security selection within North America added to performance. At the issuer level, negative performance was generated by out-of-benchmark exposure to Axon Enterprise, whereas avoidance of Coinbase Global contributed.

Outlook

Following a strong 2024, we believe convertibles will fare relatively well, potentially driven by small caps; albeit with bouts of market-driven volatility. Corporate fundamentals remain resilient, while major equity indices have rallied to near all-time highs leaving valuations somewhat less compelling. However, we believe convertibles are set up well for positive relative returns given their historically smaller distance to the bond floor and moderately positive equity sensitivity. In terms of new issuance, December saw roughly USD 12.0 billion in proceeds come to global markets.
