Core inflation (CPI excluding food, fuel, and light) increased to 3.6% (October: 3.7%). Transport and communication inflation stood at 2.6% (October: 2.8%) while fuel and light inflation was down 1.8% (October: -1.6%). Rural inflation rose to 5.9% (October: 6.7%), while urban inflation stood at 4.8% (October: 5.6%). The Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) kept the policy repo rate unchanged at 6.50% for the eleventh consecutive time. Consequently, the Standing Deposit Facility (SDF) remains unchanged at 6.25% and the Marginal Standing Facility stands at 6.75%. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) increased its inflation forecasts to 4.8% for 2025 (previously: 4.5%) with risks being evenly balanced. On the growth front, the RBI forecasted real GDP growth of 6.6% for 2024-25. The key outperforming and underperforming sectors in the benchmark were healthcare and utilities sectors respectively. Outlook

The Indian market ended 2024 with positive returns, although December saw some correction despite foreign investors turning net buyers for the month. The market faced headwinds from global factors such as continued geopolitical tensions and anticipation about policies of the incoming US administration and their impact on global economy and markets. While these factors are expected to impact the Indian economy to a lesser extent as compared to other emerging countries given its primarily domestic orientation, global sentiment does matter for India in the near-term, especially with respect to capital flows and the currency. On the domestic front, third-quarter corporate earnings were below consensus estimates, which, along with premium valuations, created headwinds for the market. Despite the near-term challenges, India continues to be one of the fastest-growing economies, reflecting its resilience. Factors such as sustained economic growth, political stability, healthy corporate balance sheets, ample forex reserves, and controlled twin deficits, protect India from external shocks and position it for future growth.
