Fund Portrait

The JSS Sustainable Equity - SDG Opportunities seeks to achieve long-term capital appreciation by investing in global equities of companies with revenues from products and services that are contributing to the United Nations («UN») Sustainable Development Goals («SDG») as part of the Agenda 2030. The objective is to invest in a portfolio of companies of which the average share of «SDG-related» to total revenues is 30% across the portfolio. To align the sub-Fund with the «Do No Significant Harm» principles, the eligible investment universe as defined by the proprietary JSS sustainability matrix avoids firms on the exclusion list as well as industry laggards and firms with weak ESG credentials. The Sub-Fund is actively managed without replicating any benchmark. The Sub-Fund is managed without reference to any benchmark.

Review

After a very strong November driven by the US presidential election results, global equity markets consolidated in December, paring down some of the November gains. Only the consumer discretionary, communication services and IT sectors posted positive returns during the month. After a stellar November, the SDG Opportunities fund had a weaker December due to its largest investment areas – capital goods and healthcare – which were both weak during the month. In capital goods, several of the fund's interest rate-related names in the US building sector as well as in homebuilding were weak due to higher US rates. In the healthcare sector, disappointing clinical trial results for obesity drug CagriSema weighed on Novo Nordisk's shares. Best contributors during the month were Deckers Outdoor, Siemens and Microsoft. Detractors were PulteGroup, Novo Nordisk and Owens Corning.

Outlook

We continue to manage a cyclically balanced portfolio, investing in companies in structurally growing areas and with fundamentally attractive investment cases. We believe that performance will come from idiosyncratic growth stories and stock picking. Hence, we expect that the fund's focus on companies with products and services materially contributing to SDGs will provide positive outcomes for investors while generating robust performance as we adopt a concentrated investment approach focused on companies that can profitably leverage SDG growth themes. Our SDG methodology and sustainability analysis allow us to identify relevant products and services and to enable positive change. Appealing investment opportunities are created by combining the above insights with rigorous fundamental analysis.
