ABOUT THE FUND

The Fund seeks to grow capital and generate income primarily by investing in fixed or variable rate bonds in Local Currencies issued by Sovereign issuers or company domiciled in Emerging Countries or companies directly or indirectly linked to Emerging countries as well as international or supranational agency or development bank. The Fund is actively managed and invests in bonds with a minimum rating of B- (S&P or FITCH), B3 (Moody's) or an equivalent rating by another rating agency. As an exception to this rule, the Fund may invest up to 15 % of its net assets in bonds with a lower rating and up to 15% of its net assets can be invested in non-rated bonds diversified. The Fund aims notably to promote social outcomes such as sovereign's human rights record, labour standards, education system, health care, demographics and good governance by considering sovereign's regulatory system efficacy, government stability and respect for property rights. The investment strategy relies on credit and macroeconomic assessment and ESG analysis in order to combine a total return performance over the investment horizon, with ESG characteristics better than the JP Morgan JESG GBI-EM Index. The investment process includes external ESG analysis and a proprietary ESG sovereign scoring model, which combines historical ESG data and forward-looking sentiment to rank countries in terms of their relative ESG quality. The investment process includes a first phase of investment universe filtering (selecting issuers with sound ESG quality and avoid controversial activities and companies in breach of international norms) and a second phase of ESG bottom-up research by integrating ESG consideration into analysis and portfolio construction. The Fund is not managed in reference to a benchmark. The Fund may invest up to:

- 100% of its net assets in High yield
- 100% of its net assets in Emerging countries (including China through Bond Connect up to 20%)

GLOSSARY
Benchmark

Index used as basis for measuring the performance of an investment fund. Also called reference index or comparison index.

Derivatives

Derivatives are financial instruments whose prices depend on the price movements in a reference variable, known as the underlying. Underlying assets may be shares, equity indices, government bonds, currencies, interest rates, commodities like wheat and gold, or also swaps. Derivative financial instruments may be unconditional forward transactions or they may be options. They are traded either on futures and options exchanges on standardised terms, or over-the-counter (OTC) on freely negotiated terms. Changes in the price of the underlying lead in certain situations to considerably higher price fluctuations in the derivative. Derivatives can be used to hedge against financial risks, to speculate on price changes (trading) or to take advantage of price differences between markets (arbitrage).

Duration

Duration is the average time to payout. This key figure is used to measure the influence of interest rate movements on the price of a bond or bond fund. Duration is defined in years (e. g. 3-year duration means that the value of a bond would increase by 3% if interest rates fall by 1% and vice versa).

High-yield bond

Bonds with high interest rates and high risk exposure. The issuers of such securities are often companies with a low credit rating.

High-yield fund

A fund for high-yield bonds (i.e. bonds with low credit ratings).

Investment grade

A rating provides information about the creditworthiness of a debtor. The higher the rating, the less likely the debtor is to default. A distinction is made between high-quality (investment grade) and speculative bonds (high-yield or junk bonds). For investment-grade bonds, Standard & Poor's issues ratings from AAA to BBB, while Moody's ratings range from Aaa to Baa.

Credit default swap (CDS)

A credit default swap (CDS) is a kind of insurance against the risk of credit default. Upon conclusion of a credit default swap agreement, the protection seller pledges himself to pay compensation to the protection buyer if a specified credit event occurs (eg default or late payment). In return, the protection seller receives a premium. The amount of the CDS premium depends primarily on the creditworthiness of the reference debtor, the definition of the credit event and the maturity of the contract.
