

VTWM Special Funds SICAV-SIF - Global High Yield Bond Fund - CHF

30.11.2024

Investment Strategy

The VTWM Global High Yield Bond Fund seeks maximum total return, consistent with preservation of capital and prudent investment management. It invests primarily in USD or CHF denominated high yielding corporate bonds globally. Its share-classes are predominantly hedged into their respective base currencies. The investment approach is based on the analysis of issuer level fundamentals but takes into account top-down macroeconomic views. The fund manager seeks to identify the most attractive high yield opportunities across geographic regions and industry sectors. A rigorous risk mitigation process aims to limit the fund's volatility as well as the risk of permanent capital loss. The fund is benchmark agnostic and will invest on the frontier between the investment grade bond universe and non-investment grade bonds.

Fund Manager's Commentary

High-yield bond spreads narrowed to below 300 basis points in November, marking the first time since July 2007, driven by easing growth concerns, predominantly favourable earnings, and improved macroeconomic clarity following the U.S. election. November also saw the lightest issuance activity since October 2023. The default rate fell to a 29-month low, reflecting the resilience of the market. High-yield bonds delivered solid gains during the month, benefiting from a decrease in geopolitical uncertainty, a robust +5.87% gain in the S&P 500, and fluctuating 10-year Treasury yields. Performance was led by lower-rated credits, which outperformed their higher-rated counterparts. This shift in market dynamics contributed to the fund's relative underperformance for the month. Sector dispersion in November was notably narrow, with all industries generating positive returns. However, high-yield capital market activity dropped by 62% month-over-month, marking its second consecutive monthly decline from its year-to-date peak. In response to these market conditions, we adjusted our portfolio by selling tightened high-rated credits and reallocating to lower-grade credits with attractive risk-premium yields, positioning the fund to capitalise on future opportunities in a more selective high-yield environment.
