MARKET COMMENT (BASED ON THE SICAV REFERENCE CURRENCY)

European equities saw a strong May, rising more than 3%. Sentiment turned positive across cyclicals, even as performance amongst the luxury-goods makers began to diverge. Sector wise, Financials - and notably Banks - led the index higher. Real estate and Capital Goods benefited from the improving mood. By contrast, we saw broad weakness amongst the Automakers and a pullback in Energy, reflecting weakness in the oil price. In May, the fund increased by 3.99%, outperforming its benchmark by 73bp. The MSCI Europe TR Net increased by 3.26%. The fund records a positive YTD performance of 7.61%, underperforming its benchmark by 278bp.

From an industry groups point of view, both allocation and selection effects were supportive. The stock picking in Insurance (38bp) and Household Products (20bp) generated the strongest relative gains while the selection in Telecommunication (-31bp) and Financial Services (-19bp) was adverse. In terms of allocation, the overexposure to Insurance (26bp) and underweight in Consumer Durables (19bp) were advantageous. Conversely, the underexposure to Capital Goods (-28bp) was unfavorable.

By country, the allocation effect explains the relative outperformance, while the selection was neutral. Our underexposure to France (16bp), the United Kingdom (14bp) and the overweight in Switzerland (20bp) generated the strongest relative gains. In terms of selection, the stock picking was particularly favorable in the United Kingdom (38bp) and Germany (17bp) but costly in the Netherlands (-22bp) and Portugal (-16bp).

With a positive impact of 22bp, the overweight in Swiss Re, a Swiss company operating in the Insurance sector, was the top contributor to excess returns. With a negative contribution of -12bp, the overweight in Galp Energia, a Portuguese corporation operating in the Energy industry, was the largest detractor.
