Comments from fund management

Global equity markets moved on a positive trend during the past months overall despite the geopolitical turbulence. Yields recently increased on high-quality government bonds (resulting in price losses). Commodities, especially precious metals and industrial metals, softened somewhat recently after a strong phase.

We reacted to a new round of yield increases by buying US government bonds in the middle of April. Equity risk hedging tended to be reduced in the shorter-term strategies during the period.

We have reduced our overall equity exposure recently, but entered into a position in Chinese stocks due to the extremely cheap valuations. The global high-quality government bond markets are also still looking attractive in our view. (20.06.2024)

¹ The performance is calculated by Raiffeisen KAG on the basis of published fund prices, using the method developed by OeKB (Österreichische Kontrollbank AG). Individual costs such as transaction fees, the subscription fee, the redemption fee, the custody charges of the investor and taxes are not included in the performance calculation. If included, these would lead to a lower performance. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance. Markets could develop very differently in the future. Based on the illustration, you can assess how the fund was managed in the past. Notice for investors with a different functional currency than the fund currency: We expressly point out that returns may rise or fall due to currency fluctuations.

² The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 10 years.

³ These are the ongoing costs incurred if you exit after 1 year. The ongoing costs are comprised of management fees and other administrative or operating costs (Estimate on the basis of the actual costs over the last year) as well as transaction costs (estimate of the costs incurred when the management company buys and sells the underlying investments for the fund. The actual amount will vary depending on how much the management company buys and sells.) Value pursuant to the key information document valid at the time of preparing this information.
