Comments from fund management

Global equity markets moved sideways in July. Positive US inflation data and the rising chances for a victory by Trump in the US elections in November resulted in a rotation towards small caps. The fund also did well under these conditions. Most of the sectors generated positive performance contributions, with the strongest ones being financials and industrials.

The fund's fundamentally broad diversification was maintained. The portfolio is still invested in issuers with the best sustainability and financial scores.

The developments in the coming months will primarily depend on the measures taken by the central banks going forward, economic growth in the USA and Europe, and the reporting season. A close eye is also being kept on geopolitics. (24.07.2024)
