Investment Policy

Health care cost to society has risen to levels which are no longer sustainable. This fund invests globally in innovative companies which are driving a revolution in the health care sector through the application of technology. It offers diversified exposure to the digital health universe, which is one of the fastest growing segments in the health care industry. The investment universe comprises three segments: Research & Development, Treatments and Efficiency. The fund invests in "pure-play" digital health companies, which are typically small to mid-sized. The investment objective is long-term capital appreciation from actively managed exposure to this secular growth theme.

Investing involves risk including the risk of loss of capital. Past performance does not predict future returns. Neither simulated nor historical performance is a reliable indicator for current or future performance.

Performance commentary

Our strategy clearly outperformed the benchmark in January. The top three outperformers were Inari Medical, Schrödinger and Atricure. Inari Medical received an acquisition offer from Stryker at a substantial premium. Atricure was up after they presented strong preliminary figures and a good guidance during a major healthcare conference. Schrödinger profited from renewed interest in the deployment of artificial intelligence to the healthcare research and development space. The top three performance detractors were lovance, Redcare and Novocure. On lovance and Novocure, investors have some scepticism about timelines and adoption of their treatments. Redcare showed significant growth in the prescription area, but it was not enough to trigger fresh buying.

Market comments

The stock market, as measured by the MSCI World ESG Leaders Index, showed a slightly positive development in January, despite some notable correction in stocks related to artificial intelligence (AI) on concerns about a potentially much more efficient model originating from China. After the presidential inauguration on 20 January, investors were trying to digest the news flow on the incoming administration's actions. On the last day of the month, some concern arose around tariffs being levied on Canada, Mexico and China. However, monthly performance still stayed in positive territory. The US dollar also appreciated slightly, based on the view that the economic policy seems to be more inflationary.

Comments on transactions

The fund completely sold off two positions. Inari Medical was sold as the stock was very close to the proposed cash offer from Stryker. The proceeds were allocated to top up existing positions. We exited Evolent because we no longer think the company's business model provides adequate competitive advantage in a higher member utilisation environment.

Important information about sustainable investing strategies

Sustainable investing strategies aim to consider and incorporate environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors into investment process and fund construction. Strategies across geographies and styles approach ESG analysis and incorporate the findings in a variety of ways. Incorporating ESG factors or sustainable investing considerations may inhibit UBS's ability to participate in or to advise on certain investment opportunities that otherwise would be consistent with the Client's investment objectives. The returns on a fund consisting primarily of sustainable investments may be lower or higher than funds where ESG factors, exclusions, or other sustainability issues are not considered by UBS, and the investment instruments available to such funds may differ. Companies, product issuers and/or manufacturers may not necessarily meet high performance standards on all aspects of ESG or sustainable investing issues.
