Investment Policy

The fund focuses on investing in shares of small companies established in Switzerland. Aside from higher growth prospects than large caps, the Swiss market for small caps is characterized by a large number of leading niche players that are covered by only a few analysts. The resulting information asymmetry can lead to market inefficiencies together with liquidity discounts and price volatilities («Small Firm Effect»). The fund aims to identify these market anomalies actively and to create added value using systematic bottom-up approach emphasizing analysis of expected cash flow generation. The portfolio manager also incorporates the sustainability approaches Stewardship & Exclusion in the investment decisions.

Due to the application of only the sustainability approaches "exclusions" and "stewardship" (Engagement and exercise of voting rights), the subfund is not sustainable and is not managed sustainably. Investing involves risk including the risk of loss of capital. Past performance does not predict future returns. Neither simulated nor historical performance is a reliable indicator for current or future performance.

Performance commentary

In Q3, the fund's performance was above its benchmark's performance. On the one hand, security selection in industrials, IT and financials contributed positively to overall performance while, on the other hand, selection in health care and consumer staples dragged on the performance. Sector allocation had a negative impact on relative performance.

Market comments

The third quarter of the year saw positive performance for Swiss equities. Companies with large market capitalisations and small and mid cap companies (as measured by the SPI Extra) both closed the third quarter positively. Interestingly, large cap stocks underperformed against small and mid cap companies, breaking the reverse trend seen in Q1 and Q2. Reasons for the overall risk-on environment were interest rate cuts in the US and Switzerland, stable and healthy US consumer and employment data, as well as fiscal stimulus in China. Even though geopolitical headlines gained more prominence in the recent news flow, the market reacted resiliently to emerging political news and focused on decreasing interest rates.

Comments on transactions

In Q3, we built or added to our positions in Tecan, Siegfried, Bucher and Balois. The stocks were bought on weakness in the share price and an attractive fundamental valuation thesis. On the other hand, we took profits or sold our positions entirely in Swissquote, Also Holding, PSP Swiss Property and Allreal Holding. Overall, we focus on companies with an attractive valuation, good growth prospects and sound balance sheets.
