Potential Risks

The Fund's risk and reward profile does not reflect the risk inherent in future circumstances that differ from what the Fund has experienced in the recent past. This includes the following events which are rare but can have a large impact.

- Credit risk: Issuers of assets held by the Fund may not pay income or repay capital when due. The Fund's investments have considerable credit risk.
- Liquidity risk: Assets cannot necessarily be sold at limited cost in an adequately short timeframe. The Fund's investments may be prone to limited liquidity. The Fund will endeavor to mitigate this risk by various measures.
- Counterparty risk: Bankruptcy or insolvency of the Fund's derivative counterparties may lead to payment or delivery default. The Subfund will endeavor to mitigate this risk by the receipt of financial collateral given as guarantees.
- Event risk: In the case a trigger event occurs contingent capital is converted into equity or written down and thus may lose substantially in value.
- Operational risk: Deficient processes, technical failures or catastrophic events may cause losses.
- Political and Legal risks: Investments are exposed to changes of rules and standards applied by a specific country. This includes restrictions on currency convertibility, the imposing of taxes or controls on transactions, the limitations of property rights or other legal risks. Investments in less developed financial markets may expose the Fund to increased operational, legal and political risk.
- Sustainability risks: Sustainability risks are environmental, social or governance events or conditions that can have a material negative effect on the return, depending on the relevant sector, industry and company exposure.

The product's investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses, as well as more complete information about the product, are provided in the prospectus (or relevant offering document), which should be read carefully before investing.

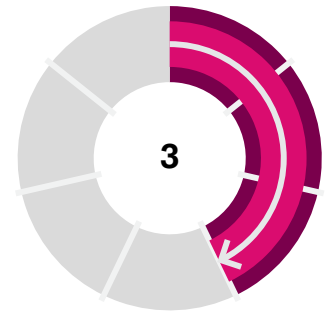

Investors may lose part or all of their invested amount.

The full offering documentation including complete information on risks may be obtained free of charge from a Credit Suisse client advisor, representative, or, where applicable, via Fundsearch (credit-suisse.com/fundsearch).

The investment promoted in this marketing material concerns the acquisition of units or shares in a fund and not of any underlying assets. The underlying assets are owned by the fund only.

² The actual risk can vary significantly if you redeem at an early stage and you may get back less. The Summary Risk Indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this Product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the Product will lose money because of movements in the markets. Be aware of currency risk if your reference currency differs from the currency of the Product. You may receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. Investors shall note that the Product may be exposed to further risks such as operational, counterparty, political, sustainability and legal risks that are not included in the Summary Risk Indicator. This Product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

Performance review

The fund's current yield to maturity is at 12.2% with a modified duration of 3.1 and a spread duration of 6.8. The fund underperformed US HY but outperformed EUR HY, USD and EUR IG and USD EM corporates. At sector level, banks along with travel and leisure were the main positive contributors with +88bps and +74bps respectively. In contrast, retail was the most negative contributor with -70bps. Within the rating buckets, BB- and B-rated bonds significantly outperformed CCCs.

Market Review

With recession and banking sector risks gradually fading, the global financial markets ended the first half of 2023 on a very solid note in terms of risk assets. Meanwhile, high quality, safe haven bond markets once again gave back a lot of their Q1 gains over the course of Q2 in a major reassessment of inflation risks and monetary policy expectations for the months and quarters ahead. In fact, while rates markets rallied strongly in March following a regional bank mini-crisis in the US, they gave back a lot of those gains in May and June and, as such, ended the quarter lower. Somewhat surprisingly, the negative momentum in rates did not, however, spread to risk markets. Credit markets generally outperformed government bonds, while higher risk comfortably outperformed lower risk segments in credit markets. Despite an increasingly challenging fundamental environment, global HY has now delivered consistently strong excess returns for four quarters in a row.
