

zMonthly June 24

SNB surprises markets again

In June, the focus was on the interest rate decisions of the major central banks. While the European Central Bank cut interest rates for the first time since 2019, as expected, the US Federal Reserve left its key interest rate range unchanged. Most market observers had anticipated this decision, given the continued strength of the US economy and persistent inflationary pressures. Even the Fed's indication that it expected only one more rate cut this year failed to dampen sentiment. The latest US inflation report for May, which showed a slight decline, added to optimism. Government bond yields fell and US equity markets continued their record run, widening the gap with European equity indices. The French President's announcement of early parliamentary elections was partly responsible for Europe's weaker performance. This caused nervousness in the markets. In addition, the euro weakened significantly against the Swiss franc. This and the moderate Swiss inflation rate were probably the main reasons for the Swiss National Bank's surprise interest rate cut of a further 25 basis points to 1.25%. The wire processing machine manufacturer Komax had to issue a profit warning for the current year due to a subdued order intake. The bike manufacturer Pierer Mobility, which is not represented in the portfolio, also cut its annual forecast and expects to post a substantial loss in 2024. The Fund lost 1.3% in June (SPI Extra -1.8%).

DocMorris sold

We have completely sold DocMorris, as the high revenue expectations for e-prescriptions in Germany are unlikely to be met in the short term. We also realised gains on Lindt & Sprüngli and BKW. We were buyers in Tecan, Galderma, Straumann and Julius Baer.

Economic hopes fading

Many companies are pinning their hopes on a recovery in demand in the second half of the year. This hope has not yet been fulfilled. On the one hand, there are signs of weakness in consumer spending in the US, and on the other hand, companies do not see a turnaround in incoming orders. Poor consumer sentiment is reflected in a less dynamic global economy. A lack of orders and a high cost base usually lead to lower margins. We expect some companies to announce cost-cutting measures or restructuring programs in their half-year reports. The share prices of some cyclical companies have already priced in a lot of negative news. However, we currently see more upside potential for defensive businesses, for example in the healthcare sector. Volumes tend to be lower during the upcoming summer holidays, so we expect the stock market to be more volatile.
