¹ Yield to maturity is before fees. It is not a distributed yield nor reflects anticipated income to be earned by the fund. It may include the effect of some derivatives, including swaps and FX forwards, which can form a significant part of the investment strategy but do not pay a regular income. It is in the base currency of the master fund and not specific to a share class.

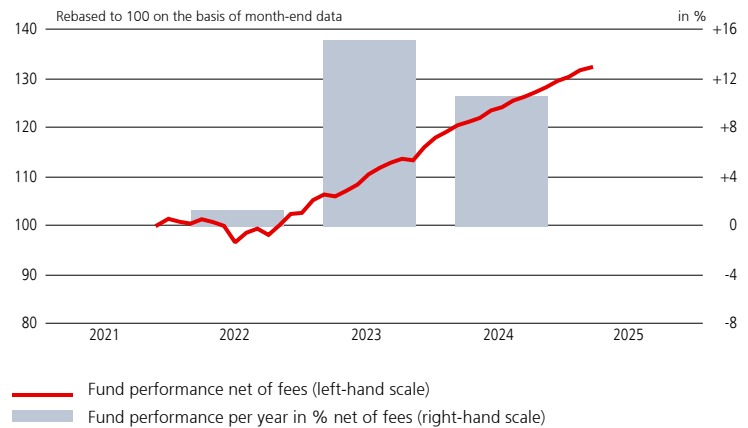

² This does not constitute a guarantee by UBS Asset Management.

³ As at 14.02.2025, without transaction costs

Benefits

Investors gain access to a globally diversified portfolio with reduced interest rate risk and attractive income potential as the key objective.

Additional information

- The portfolio management team combines different bond instruments in line with their investment views with the aim to reduce interest rate risk, enhance income potential, diversify credit risk and manage liquidity.
- At fund level, any non-USD currency exposure is hedged back to USD.
- This fund is not managed in reference to any benchmark.

Risks

The fund's net asset value depends on interest rate and credit spread movements and will be negatively affected should any issuer held in the portfolio default. Depending on the credit quality, default risk is higher with high yield bonds than with investment grade corporate and government bonds. The fund may use derivatives, which involve counterparty risk and higher loss risk versus security investments as the option, future and swap markets are volatile. The fund may invest in emerging markets, which are at an early stage of development and typically involve high price volatility, lower market transparency, regulatory hurdles, corporate governance, political and social challenges, etc. All investments are subject to market fluctuations. Every fund has specific risks, which may increase considerably in unusual market conditions. This Fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money before the recommended holding period disclosed in the PRIIPs KID, if available for this share class.

Please note that additional fees (e.g. entry or exit fees) may be charged. Please refer to your financial adviser for more details. Investors should read the Key Information Document, Prospectus and any applicable local offering document prior to investing and to get complete information of the risks. Investors are acquiring units or shares in a fund, and not in a given underlying asset such as building or shares of a company.
