 - share price relative to its 8-month average share price; and

- The securities of the 180 highest ranked companies are then selected for inclusion subject to no more than 40 companies per GICS sector being included in the Index.
- The maximum weight is capped at 3% per security, based on market capitalization and adjustments for risk factors: extreme sales multipliers, profitability, relative stock volatility, and relative leverage levels.
- The Index is rebalanced quarterly in March, June, September and December.
