

DNCA INVEST CONVERTIBLES

EUROPEAN CONVERTIBLE BONDS

Investment objective

The Sub-Fund seeks to provide capital appreciation with low volatility by investing in convertible bonds. Investors' attention is drawn to the fact that the management style is discretionary and integrates environmental, social / societal and governance (ESG) criteria. As part of a discretionary management approach, the portfolio composition will not attempt to replicate the composition of a benchmark index from a geographical or sectoral perspective. Even so, the Refinitiv Eurozone Focus Hedged - EUR - index may be used as ex-post benchmark indicator. To achieve its investment objective, the investment strategy is based on active discretionary management.

Portfolio managers comments

The main European equity indices are consolidating in November. Macroeconomic statistics continue to lag, highlighting the need for stimulus measures. Conversely, the figures published on the other side of the Atlantic are solid and should benefit from additional support measures from the newly-elected President. The dynamics of investment flows highlight the difficulties of economic projections for the € zone. Member countries will have to organize themselves as a block in order to offer a credible geopolitical response, while two of their main driving forces (Germany, France) are facing delicate internal situations. Logically, valuations in these regions offer attractive levels over a longer time horizon. Monetary policies remain accommodative as we await the final meetings of the year. Against this backdrop, the primary market for European convertible bonds only offered an investment opportunity worth €200m.

The fund posted a monthly performance of -0.94% versus 0.5% for its benchmark index Refinitiv Europe Focus Hedged CB (EUR). The Leg Immobiliens Group's proposed rebundling of the 2030 issue was subscribed. The proposed discount, together with the prospects of a continued rebound in the residential real estate segment, justified such an investment. On the secondary front, purchases were made on Delivery Hero 2030. The Group benefited from a significant improvement in its credit situation, thanks to the sale of part of its Talabat entity. The prospects of almost total debt reduction, coupled with positive cash flow generation, justify the stock's inclusion in the selection. In particular, through the convertible product, which offers a largely positive return pending a rebound in the underlying share price. These operations have been financed by tactical profit-taking on successful investments since the beginning of the year, notably in the airline sector: IAG 2028, Safran 2028, MTU Aero Engines 2027, Amadeus 2025 and Saipem 2029.

Convertible bonds posted a positive monthly performance in a bearish equity environment. This rebound was mainly due to an inflexion in their valuation, albeit still at a discount. Disappointment remains unabated on the primary market. The long-awaited breakthrough will come from a rebound in the small and mid-cap segment, which is struggling to recover. And their financing needs will remain substantial over the coming months. The fund is well diversified across the main equity themes. And it does so through solid credit exposure. Indeed, the tightening of spreads no longer allows us to offer a fair return, and justifies giving preference to Investment Grade structures. Conversely, longer maturities are favored in order to benefit from more significant support measures in the € zone. The portfolio's level of convexity is also protected by a measured sensitivity to the equity market of less than 40%.

Analysis methodology

We develop proprietary models based on our expertise and conviction to add tangible value in the selection of portfolio securities. DNCA's ESG analysis model, Above & Beyond Analysis (ABA), respects this principle and offers a rating that we control the entire construction. Information from companies is the main input to our rating. The methodologies for calculating ESG indicators and our responsible investor and engagement policy are available on our website by clicking here.

⁽¹⁾ The rating out of 10 integrates 4 risks of responsibility: shareholder, environmental, social and societal. Whatever their sector of activity, 24 indicators are evaluated, such as social climate, accounting risks, suppliers, business ethics, energy policy, quality of management.

⁽²⁾ The ABA Matrix combines the Responsibility Risk and the Sustainable Transition exposure of the portfolio. It allows us to map companies to be mapped using a risk/opportunity approach.

⁽³⁾ 1 No poverty. 2 Zero hunger. 3 Good health and well-being. 4 Quality education. 5 Gender equality. 6 Clean water and sanitation. 7 Clean and affordable energy. 8 Decent work and economic growth. 9 Industry, innovation and infrastructure. 10 Reduced inequalities. 11 Sustainable cities and communities. 12 Sustainable consumption and production. 13 Tackling climate change. 14 Aquatic life. 15 Terrestrial life. 16 Peace, justice and effective institutions. 17 Partnerships to achieve the goals.

⁽⁴⁾ 5 transitions based on a long-term perspective of the financing of the economy allow the identification of activities with a positive contribution to sustainable development and to measure the exposure of companies in terms of turnover as well as exposure to the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

*The coverage rate measures the proportion of issuers (equities and corporate bonds) taken into account in the calculation of the extra-financial indicators. This measure is calculated as a % of the net assets adjusted for cash, money market instruments, derivatives and any vehicle outside the scope of "listed equities and corporate bonds".

Glossary

Beta. Measures the average extent to which a fund moves relative to the broader market. The beta of a market is 1. A fund with a beta of more than 1 moves on average to a greater extent than the market. A fund with a beta of less than 1 moves on average to a lesser extent. If beta is a minus number, it is likely that the stock and the market move in opposite directions.

Correlation coefficient. The correlation coefficient is a measure of correlation. It is used to determine the relationship between two assets over a given period. A positive coefficient means that the two assets move in the same direction. Conversely, a negative coefficient means that the assets move in the opposite direction. The correlation or decorrelation can be more or less strong and varies between -1 and 1.

Dividend yield. Annual dividends per share / Price per share

EV (Enterprise Value). Market value of common stock + market value of preferred equity + market value of debt + minority interest - cash and investments.

ND/EBITDA (Net Debt / EBITDA). A measurement of leverage, calculated as a company's interest-bearing liabilities minus cash or cash equivalents, divided by its EBITDA. The net debt to EBITDA ratio is a debt ratio that shows how many years it would take for a company to pay back its debt if net debt and EBITDA are held constant.

P/B. The Price to Book Ratio is the ratio of the market value of equity (market capitalisation) to its book value. It is used to compare the market valuation of a company with its book value.

P/CF (Share price/Cash Flow per Share). The price-to-cash-flow ratio is an indicator of a stock's valuation.

PER (Price Earnings Ratio). A company's share price divided by the amount of profits it makes for each share in a 12-month period. PE ratios are normally calculated on the base of all the profit made in the period, whether or not the profit is paid out to shareholders in that period.

ROE (Return On Equity). The amount of net income returned as a percentage of shareholders equity. Return on equity measures a corporation's profitability by revealing how much profit a company generates with the money shareholders have invested.

Sharpe Ratio. A way of measuring the historical risk-adjusted return on an investment. It is the average previous return minus the risk-free return, divided by the standard deviation (a measure of risk that looks at the diversion of actual returns from expected returns).

Sharpe Ratio. The Sharpe ratio measures the excess return over the risk-free money rate of an asset portfolio divided by the standard deviation of that return. It is therefore a measure of the marginal return per unit of risk. It is used to measure the performance of managers with different risk policies.

Tracking error. Tracking Error is a measure of how closely an investment portfolio follows the index against which it is benchmarked. It is the difference in the return earned by a portfolio and the return earned by the benchmark against which the portfolio is constructed. For example, if a bond portfolio earns a return of 5.15% during a period when the portfolio's benchmark (say, for example, the Lehman Brothers Index) produces a return of 5.06%, the tracking error is .09%, or 9 basis points.
