Portfolio managers comments

European equity markets were more or less flat in September. However, the macroeconomic newsflow was intense, with numerous rate cut announcements in Europe (ECB, Sweden, Switzerland), the USA and, more recently, China. This cycle of rate cuts is logical, given that inflationary pressures have eased significantly. It is set to intensify and is likely to continue throughout 2025. We were surprised by the announcements from the Chinese authorities, who are (finally!) taking action to put an end to the deflationary spiral in the property market, which is a real poison for consumer confidence. The decisions announced are simultaneously monetary, budgetary and fiscal in nature, making their impact credible. However, the amounts disclosed (around 3.5% of GDP) are probably not yet sufficient, but further decisions are expected in the coming weeks.

In terms of companies, these announcements from China boosted the most exposed sectors, unsurprisingly Luxury Goods and Cosmetics. In addition, LVMH announced its (friendly) entry into the capital of Holding R owned by Mr Ruffini (63), the main shareholder in the Italian luxury goods company Moncler. In return, the French group will have seats on the boards of directors of both the Holding and Moncler. This transaction will enable Mr Ruffini to purchase Moncler shares in order to increase his stake from 15% to 19%. The prospect of a takeover by LVMH in the medium to long term is now a very likely scenario. We are shareholders in both companies.

Flutter Entertainment, the world leader in online sports betting (only on regulated markets), has announced the takeover of NSX Group, number 4 in Brazil, and above all the acquisition of Snai, the third-largest operator in Italy, making it the co-leader of this particularly promising, under-penetrated market. The Group also organised an investor day in New York, which is now its main listing (London is secondary). The long-term outlook for the US addressable market has been substantially revised upwards (from $50 billion to $70 billion). Similarly, the 2027 targets are quite impressive, since they forecast average annual sales growth of 14%, accompanied by a 7-point improvement in EBITDA margin and a $5 billion share buyback plan. Naturally, the US market will be the main driver of this strong growth. With over 40% market share in the digital market, the economic advantages of size are now virtually insurmountable barriers to entry.

Biomérieux, the world leader in diagnostics for infectious diseases, has published satisfactory half-year results, with excellent organic growth in Q2 (+10.1%). Full-year targets have been revised upwards, in particular organic growth now expected to be +8-10%, compared with +6-8% previously. The growth trajectory of their new range, Spotfire, will be under the spotlight in the coming quarters, as it is critical to the Group's medium-term growth prospects.

The Board of Directors of Deutsche Bahn and the German authorities have approved DSV's bid for Schenker, which is expected to be completed in the first half of 2025. A capital increase will probably take place in October to guarantee the financing of the operation. We will probably take part in it, as we are convinced that this transaction will be particularly value-creating for shareholders, in the same way as previous transactions (UTi, Panalpina, GIL).

Analysis methodology

We develop proprietary models based on our expertise and conviction to add tangible value in the selection of portfolio securities. DNCA's ESG analysis model, Above & Beyond Analysis (ABA), respects this principle and offers a rating that we control the entire construction. Information from companies is the main input to our rating. The methodologies for calculating ESG indicators and our responsible investor and engagement policy are available on our website by clicking here.

⁽¹⁾ The rating out of 10 integrates 4 risks of responsibility: shareholder, environmental, social and societal. Whatever their sector of activity, 24 indicators are evaluated, such as social climate, accounting risks, suppliers, business ethics, energy policy, quality of management.

⁽²⁾ The ABA Matrix combines the Responsibility Risk and the Sustainable Transition exposure of the portfolio. It allows us to map companies to be mapped using a risk/opportunity approach.

⁽³⁾ 1 No poverty. 2 Zero hunger. 3 Good health and well-being. 4 Quality education. 5 Gender equality. 6 Clean water and sanitation. 7 Clean and affordable energy. 8 Decent work and economic growth. 9 Industry, innovation and infrastructure. 10 Reduced inequalities. 11 Sustainable cities and communities. 12 Sustainable consumption and production. 13 Tackling climate change. 14 Aquatic life. 15 Terrestrial life. 16 Peace, justice and effective institutions. 17 Partnerships to achieve the goals.

⁽⁴⁾ 5 transitions based on a long-term perspective of the financing of the economy allow the identification of activities with a positive contribution to sustainable development and to measure the exposure of companies in terms of turnover as well as exposure to the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

*The coverage rate measures the proportion of issuers (equities and corporate bonds) taken into account in the calculation of the extra-financial indicators. This measure is calculated as a % of the net assets adjusted for cash, money market instruments, derivatives and any vehicle outside the scope of "listed equities and corporate bonds".

Glossary

Beta. Measures the average extent to which a fund moves relative to the broader market. The beta of a market is 1. A fund with a beta of more than 1 moves on average to a greater extent than the market. A fund with a beta of less than 1 moves on average to a lesser extent. If beta is a minus number, it is likely that the stock and the market move in opposite directions.

Correlation coefficient. The correlation coefficient is a measure of correlation. It is used to determine the relationship between two assets over a given period. A positive coefficient means that the two assets move in the same direction. Conversely, a negative coefficient means that the assets move in the opposite direction. The correlation or decorrelation can be more or less strong and varies between -1 and 1.

Dividend yield. Annual dividends per share / Price per share

EV (Enterprise Value). Market value of common stock + market value of preferred equity + market value of debt + minority interest - cash and investments.

ND/EBITDA (Net Debt / EBITDA). A measurement of leverage, calculated as a company's interest-bearing liabilities minus cash or cash equivalents, divided by its EBITDA. The net debt to EBITDA ratio is a debt ratio that shows how many years it would take for a company to pay back its debt if net debt and EBITDA are held constant.

P/B. The Price to Book Ratio is the ratio of the market value of equity (market capitalisation) to its book value. It is used to compare the market valuation of a company with its book value.

P/CF (Share price/Cash Flow per Share). The price-to-cash-flow ratio is an indicator of a stock's valuation.

PER (Price Earnings Ratio). A company's share price divided by the amount of profits it makes for each share in a 12-month period. PE ratios are normally calculated on the base of all the profit made in the period, whether or not the profit is paid out to shareholders in that period.

ROE (Return On Equity). The amount of net income returned as a percentage of shareholders equity. Return on equity measures a corporation's profitability by revealing how much profit a company generates with the money shareholders have invested.

Sharpe Ratio. A way of measuring the historical risk-adjusted return on an investment. It is the average previous return minus the risk-free return, divided by the standard deviation (a measure of risk that looks at the diversion of actual returns from expected returns).

Sharpe Ratio. The Sharpe ratio measures the excess return over the risk-free money rate of an asset portfolio divided by the standard deviation of that return. It is therefore a measure of the marginal return per unit of risk. It is used to measure the performance of managers with different risk policies.

Tracking error. Tracking Error is a measure of how closely an investment portfolio follows the index against which it is benchmarked. It is the difference in the return earned by a portfolio and the return earned by the benchmark against which the portfolio is constructed. For example, if a bond portfolio earns a return of 5.15% during a period when the portfolio's benchmark (say, for example, the Lehman Brothers Index) produces a return of 5.06%, the tracking error is .09%, or 9 basis points.
