PERFORMANCE COMMENT

LO Funds–Swiss Small & Mid Caps' institutional share class finished October with a return of -3.95%, which represents a slight outperformance of 1 bps relative to its benchmark, the SPI Extra TR. As a reminder, the Fund reports performance net of withholding tax on dividends versus gross of withholding tax for the benchmark (35% withholding tax).

No longer owning SoftwareOne, not owning Tecan Group at the time of the results, and our overweight in Burckhardt Compression were the top contributors in October. The overweights in Comet, VAT Group and Daetwyler detracted from it. In the SPI Extra, Communication Services and Financials were the only two sectors finishing in the green in October. Information Technology, Consumer Staples and Industrials fared the worst.

MARKET REVIEW

The Swiss market, as measured by the Swiss Performance Index (SPI), lost 3.27% in October. This compares to a 1.98% loss for the MSCI World Index (NDDUWI). The Swiss small & mid cap index (SPIEX) lost 3.96% by comparison.

The highlight of October was the upward move in interest rates. The US 2-year Treasury yield rose from 3.64% to 4.17%, and the 10-year from 3.78% to 4.28%. The greater likelihood of a Donald Trump victory in the US election seemed to drive these movements as his policies, e.g. tariffs, are considered reflationary. Volatility in both the equity and bond markets climbed. The VIX index rose from 16.7 to 23.2 and the MOVE index from 94.6 to 135.2. The global Citi Economic Surprise Index (CESIGL) improved from -16.1 to +6.1.

By style, cyclicals outperformed defensives globally, but not in Switzerland, and large caps fared better than small caps. Value underperformed growth globally but outperformed in Europe and Switzerland. Quality lagged the broader market in all major regions.

PORTFOLIO ACTIVITY

During the month, we added positions in EMS-Chemie and Tecan Group, while liquidating holdings in Aryzta, DocMorris and SoftwareOne.

STOCK OF THE MONTH

Sandoz's share price appreciated 11.6% in October. Its third-quarter sales beat consensus expectations by 2%, driven by a 7% outperformance in biosimilars and in-line generics. Since biosimilars carry higher margins, it provides some comfort that the full-year 20% EBITDA margin target can be reached. On the back of the outperformance, management raised full-year sales growth guidance from mid- to high-single digit to high-single digit. We remain overweight, even after taking some profits following a 50% year-to-date gain, as we expect continued strong earnings growth in the years to come. When Sandoz spun off from Novartis a year ago, it had as many as 1,500 different software platforms and 700 manufacturing partners. There is clearly room for operational improvement, as evidenced by the 2028 EBITDA margin target of 24-26%. We also like Sandoz from a sustainability and political point of view. Generics and biosimilars lower the cost of medicines, making them affordable for more patients. If healthcare costs come under further pressure from governments, Sandoz's products could become part of the solution.

QUARTERLY OUTLOOK

At the beginning of November, Donald Trump won the White House and the Republicans took the Senate. While the House had not yet been called, a Republican sweep looked likely. The clarity of the results and lack of contest drove the markets higher over the next few days. We think equity markets could continue to trade higher into year end, as investors seem to have derisked into the US elections and positioning was therefore not full. At the same time, third quarter corporate earnings have been decent and central banks look set to continue

RISK AND REWARD PROFILE

The following risks may be materially relevant but may not always be adequately captured by the synthetic risk indicator and may cause additional loss:

Liquidity risk: Where a significant level of investment is made in financial instruments that may under certain circumstances have a relatively low level of liquidity, there is a material risk that the fund will not be able to transact at advantageous times or prices. This could reduce the fund's returns.

Operational risk and risks related to asset safekeeping: In specific circumstances, there may be a material risk of loss resulting from human error, inadequate or failed internal systems, processes or controls, or from external events.

Concentration risk: To the extent that the fund's investments are concentrated in a particular country, market, industry, sector or asset class, the fund may be susceptible to loss due to adverse occurrences affecting that country, market, industry, sector or asset class.

Before taking any investment decision, please read the latest version of the prospectus, the articles of incorporation, the Key Information Documents (KIDs) and the latest annual report and semi-annual report. Please pay attention to the Appendix B "Risk Factors Annex" of the prospectus.

Incorporation of extra-financial risks into the investment decision process may result in underweighting of profitable investments from the sub-fund’s investment universe and may also lead the management of the sub-fund to underweight investments that will continue to perform. Sustainability risks may lead to a significant deterioration in the financial profile, profitability or reputation of an underlying investment and may therefore have a significant impact on its market price or liquidity.

The Fund has been classified as a financial product subject to Article 8 of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 on sustainability-related disclosures in the financial sector (the “SFDR”). The Fund promotes, among other characteristics, environmental or social characteristics, or a combination of those characteristics, provided that the companies in which the investments are made follow good governance practices.
