Review

CPI inflation in June 2023 rose marginally to 4.8%, compared to 4.3% in May. Food and beverages inflation increased to 4.6% (May: 3.3%), while fuel and light inflation moderated to 3.9% (May: 4.7%). Rural and urban inflation increased to 4.72% (May: 4.2%) and 4.96% (May: 4.3%), respectively. Core inflation (CPI excluding food and fuel) stood at 5.1% (May: 5.01%). As per the latest RBI data, foreign exchange reserves increased to USD 607.03 billion over the month. The USD appreciated by ~0.26% over the month, closing at 82.25 INR/USD vs. 82.04 INR/USD last month. Healthy earnings growth for the first quarter of FY 2024, along with declining global inflation, helped the equity market maintain positive momentum. Sensex delivered a return of 2.80% over the month. Nifty delivered a return of 2.94% over the month. The key outperforming and underperforming sectors in the benchmark over the month were industrials and financial services, respectively. Gland Pharma Ltd outperformed the index, while Metropolis Healthcare Ltd underperformed the index.

Outlook

On the global front, it is becoming increasingly evident that the rate hike cycle is close to peaking, which is positive for growth assets such as equity. Resilience shown by large economies in the initial part of the year has prompted upwards revisions to global growth forecasts for 2023, which is a significant positive for the outlook of equities and reflected in equity market momentum. At the same time, expectations at the beginning of the year of a pick-up in economic growth in China seem to be running out of steam, prompting major global banks to revise down China's growth estimates. In comparison, India's stable economic parameters make it a more attractive destination to global investors, leading to higher capital flows. Domestically, corporate earnings announced so far support the expectations of steady revenues, with the benefit of declining input costs driving robust earnings growth. Equity valuations are still much lower than the peaks witnessed in the past and may become more attractive as earnings accumulation continues going forward.
