In the last quarterly index review, which was effective at the close of February 28th, 2022, there were 2 additions and one deletion in the MSCI Pacific ex Japan Index. Portfolio strategy

Our indexation methodology is geared towards building a portfolio that is as close as possible to a fully replicated portfolio, i.e. a portfolio that has the same number of stocks with the same weights as in the benchmark. Whether a full-replication solution can be achieved depends on the cash inflow/outflow, the trading liquidity of individual stocks in the index, the minimum trade size compatible with reasonable transaction costs and round-lot constraints.

NAVs relating to dates on which shares are not issued or redeemed ("non-trading NAVs") in your country may be published here. They can only be used for statistical performance measurements and calculations or commission calculations and cannot under any circumstances be used as a basis for subscription or redemption orders. The published performance represents past data. Past performance may not be a reliable guide to future performance. There is no guarantee that the same yields will be obtained in the future. The value and income of any of your investments may fluctuate with market conditions and may lose some or all its value. The fund may be affected by changes in currency exchange rates, which can have an adverse effect on the value or income of the fund. Performance is shown based on the share class NAV per share (in the share class currency) with dividends reinvested (for distributing share classes), including actual ongoing charges, and excluding subscription/redemption fees and taxes borne by the investor. Inflation was not taken into account. As a subscription fee calculation example, if an investor invests EUR 1000 in a fund with a subscription fee of 5%, he will pay to his financial intermediary EUR 47.62 on his investment amount, resulting with a subscribed amount of EUR 952.38 in fund shares. In addition, potential account keeping costs (by your custodian) may reduce the performance. Indices do not include fees or operating expenses and you cannot invest in them.
