

UBS Global Emerging Markets Opportunity Equity Fund USD P-acc Performance Review

UBS (Lux) Equity SICAV - Global Emerging Markets Opportunity (USD) (HKD) P-4%-mdist

Emerging market equities posted modest gains in August. The month started with a significant equity sell-off due to fears of a recession in the US and an unexpected rate hike by the Bank of Japan. However, emerging markets recovered later in the month, driven by improved growth and inflation data and a weakening US dollar.

Monthly performance

In August the fund performed positively with 0.2%. Communication services was the key contributor, while consumer discretionary detracted the most. Market-wise, the United States (driven by Mercado Libre, which is listed in the US) was the key contributor, while Korea detracted the most.

YTD performance

YTD as of the end of August, the fund has delivered a positive performance of 3.3%. Financials have been the key detractor, while materials has contributed the most. In terms of markets, India has been the key detractor, while Taiwan has contributed the most.

Performance contributors

Mercado Libre outperformed on the better-than-expected Q2 2024 results it reported in August and strong indications for Q3, combined with expectations of a lower cost of capital going forward as the market prices in rate cuts in the US. Bradesco also outperformed on the back of Q2 2024 results coming in better than expected by the market.

Performance detractors

PDD tumbled due to its management's cautious business outlook amid intensifying competition. In addition, the company said it would not be increasing shareholder returns in the next few years as it is still in an investment phase amid challenges in the external environment. Samsung Electronics fell together with other memory stocks.

Current investment strategy

While we remain focused on medium-term fundamental cash flow valuation, the market is being driven by shorter-term factors that are being amplified by risk-off sentiment. We still believe that we are well positioned to recoup performance once the market's focus returns to company and sector-specific fundamentals.

Risks

UBS Emerging Market Funds invest in equities and may therefore be subject to high fluctuations in value. As these UBS Funds pursue an active management style, each Fund's performance can deviate from that of its reference index. Investors should also be aware of the political and social challenges that emerging markets face. All investments are subject to market fluctuations. Every Fund has specific risks, which can significantly increase under unusual market conditions. The fund can use derivatives, which may result in additional risks (particularly counterparty risk). This Fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money before the recommended holding period disclosed in the PRIIPs KID, if available for this share class. The monthly 4%-mdist distributing share classes may distribute capital as well as income. It is possible that the distributions result in an erosion of assets and a reduction of invested capital. There are potential negative tax consequences for some investors in some jurisdictions. Investors in some jurisdictions may incur a higher rate of tax on distributed capital than on any capital gains which are realised on disposal of fund shares. Some investors may therefore choose to invest in the accumulating (-acc) instead of the distributing (-dist) share classes. Investors may be taxed at a later point in time on income and capital arising on accumulating (-acc) share classes compared to distributing (-dist) share classes. Investors should seek their own tax advice.

Please note that additional fees (e.g. entry or exit fees) may be charged. Please refer to your financial adviser for more details. Investors should read the Key Information Document, Prospectus and any applicable local offering document prior to investing and to get complete information of the risks.
