Performance Review

UBS (Lux) Equity SICAV - European High Dividend Sustainable (EUR) (USD) P-acc

In September, China's Politburo announced measures to support markets and consumers following the Fed's 50 basis point cut in rates. European equities should benefit from China's stimulus, but Germany's economy is weakening and there are still manufacturing headwinds that make for a mixed outlook.

Monthly performance

In September the fund performed positively with 0.9%. While sector allocation added value this month, stock selection and country allocation detracted. The fund's exposures to low beta, high ESG and European companies were also negative for performance.

YTD performance

YTD as of the end of September, the fund has delivered a positive performance of 11.7%. In the year to date, country and sector allocations, as well as the fund's exposure to low volatility and high liquidity, have made positive contributions to performance. Stock selection has detracted in 2024 thus far.

Performance contributors

The fund's allocations to the utilities and financial sectors added value. Its exposure to companies with low volatility and high dividend yields contributed positively. The allocations to Germany and Spain were positive for fund performance, while at the stock level the fund benefited from holding Kingfisher and Rexel.

Performance detractors

The fund's allocations to low beta and European companies detracted from performance. Its weightings in the UK and Austria, as well as in the energy and healthcare sectors, were negative contributors. At the stock level, performance suffered due to the holdings in Novo Nordisk and Kuehne+Nagel.
