Performance Review

UBS (Lux) Equity SICAV - European Opportunity Unconstrained (EUR) (GBP hedged) P-acc

Capital markets generally struggled in October. Implied equity market volatility rose substantially above realised volatility, indicating heightened awareness of the US election event risk ahead. Within Europe, the European Central Bank cut rates by 25bp, as widely expected.

Monthly performance

In October the fund performed negatively with 4.1%. The fund lagged broader European equity markets in October, driven by weak stock selection in the long book across information technology and financials. However, this was partially offset by strong stock selection within materials.

YTD performance

YTD as of the end of October, the fund has delivered a positive performance of 8.1%. The fund remains ahead of broader European equity markets, benefiting from very strong stock selection in the industrials sector. Our materials and consumer discretionary underweights have also contributed positively.

Performance contributors

We benefited from our position in Sandoz, the third-largest and fastest growing generic company in the world, following its strong Q3 results. We continue to like this investment as USD 400bn worth of patented drug sales will come off patents in the next ten years, providing a substantial growth opportunity for Sandoz.

Performance detractors

Our holding in Philips, a leading provider of medical equipment and services, gave back some of its prior year-to-date gains after the company cut its FY24 guidance due to a deterioration in the outlook in China. We met with the CEO, Roy Jakobs, and the new CFO, Charlotte Hanneman, and came away reassured that the new guidance is somewhat de-risked.

Current investment strategy

We expect an increase in volatility due to the US election, particularly as events in the Middle East also remain highly fluid. While we are macro-aware, we are not macro-driven, using pair trades to reduce factor risk and increase our stock-specific risk. Our preference for high-quality companies with strong management teams and relatively resilient earnings streams should position us well amid the economic uncertainty.
