The market's narrative shifted back to "soft landing" in September as a substantial shift in the Fed's reaction function and a 50bp rate cut cleared the way for easier financial conditions to stabilise the labour market. Global stocks rose to a new all-time high, with US tech and cyclical sectors in the lead.

Monthly performance

In September the fund performed positively with 1.3%. Stock selection in communication services and our positioning in healthcare detracted, while stock selection in financials and consumer staples added value.

YTD performance

YTD as of the end of September, the fund has delivered a positive performance of 7.9%. Stock selection in information technology and healthcare have detracted, while stock selection in financials and consumer staples have added value.

Performance contributors

Meituan shares rallied after the company posted strong quarterly results, which were driven by improvements in food delivery unit economics and advert monetisation – both of which are expected to contribute to continued margin growth. China Mengniu shares rose after the government rolled out measures to support local milk production, which is expected to boost demand in the dairy industry.

Performance detractors

Nestlé shares sold off after the company cut the margin outlook for its biofuel segment for the third time this year. Rivian Automotive shares fell on concerns over the company's ability to competitively position its computing capabilities while avoiding additional pressures on finances.

Current investment strategy

We believe the fund is well positioned to benefit from a reversal in earnings momentum as we see an acceleration in 2025 earnings growth and positive earnings revisions in lagging areas of the market. We are continuing to focus on companies with strong cash flows, attractive valuations and asymmetric risk/reward profiles.
