² YTD: year-to-date (since beginning of the year)

Global stocks delivered positive returns once again in September as the Fed embarked on its widely expected rate-cutting cycle, joining other central banks worldwide in improving the rates environment. Meanwhile, Chinese stocks are maintaining their momentum having rallied as much in September as the MSCI ACWI in the year to date.

Monthly performance

In September the fund performed negatively with 0.1%. Major global equity markets performed positively, with China leading the rally, whereas Swiss and UK equities lost ground. Having made a modest start to the month, US stocks – especially tech names – gained ground once again.

YTD performance

YTD as of the end of September, the fund has delivered a positive performance of 10.5%. In 2024 to date, Swiss ESG leaders have been the main performance driver, followed by ESG improvers and ESG engagement. Global ESG leaders and ESG thematic equities have also accounted for a fair share of the positive performance.

Performance contributors

In September, the overall return was slightly negative as Swiss ESG leaders erased the positive contribution that mainly stemmed from ESG improvers, ESG thematic and ESG leaders in general.

Performance detractors

Swiss ESG leaders detracted in September.

Current investment strategy

We closed our position in the SMI call option in September. Meanwhile, we remain overweight in IT stocks versus global equities. Currency-wise, we remain overweight in our EUR, CHF, GBP and AUD positions at the expense of the USD and CNY.

Risks

The fund invests in equities, bonds of varying credit quality and money market securities on a global basis, and may therefore be subject to high fluctuations in value. The fund may use derivatives which can reduce investment risk or give rise to additional risks (inter alia the counterparty risk). The value of a unit may fall below the purchase price. This requires an elevated risk tolerance and capacity. Every fund reveals specific risks, a description of these risks can be found in the prospectus.

Please note that additional fees (e.g. entry or exit fees) may be charged. Please refer to your financial adviser for more details. Investors should read the Key Information Document, Prospectus and any applicable local offering document prior to investing and to get complete information of the risks. Investors are acquiring units or shares in a fund, and not in a given underlying asset such as building or shares of a company. For a definition of financial terms refer to the glossary available at www.ubs.com/am-glossary.
