The US elections took the spotlight, with Donald Trump being elected president for a second term in a “red sweep”. In the aftermath of the polls, the focus switched to Trump’s potential policy changes with regard to tariffs, immigration, tax cuts and administration picks. Central banks continued the rate-cutting cycle, with the Fed and the Bank of England in particular cutting rates by 25 basis points.

Monthly performance

In November the fund performed positively with 0.5%. Returns on the fixed income markets were positive. Against the backdrop of the continued rate-cutting cycle, US Treasuries posted gains, although returns were contained by fears of resurgent inflation due to potential tariffs. Gains for European bonds were more significant as further rate cuts are justified given the weak growth.

YTD performance

YTD as of the end of November, the fund has delivered a positive performance of 0.3%. Fixed income has contributed positively, with the largest contributions coming from corporate and multilateral development bank (MDB) bonds, followed by sustainable bonds.

Performance contributors

Fixed income made a positive contribution over the month, led by allocations to corporate, MDB and global high-yield bonds.

Performance detractors

There were no significant detractors on the month.

Current investment strategy

Over the course of the month, we implemented a position in 5-year US Treasuries versus cash to position for lower interest rates. Currency-wise, we closed the FX basket (long in the AUD, EUR, CHF and GBP versus the USD), and we are now overweight in the USD against an underweight in the CNY.

Risks

The fund invests in bonds of varying credit quality and money market securities on a global basis, and may therefore be subject to fluctuations in value. The fund may use derivatives which can reduce investment risk or give rise to additional risks (inter alia the counterparty risk). The value of a unit may fall below the purchase price. This requires an appropriate risk tolerance and capacity. Every fund reveals specific risks, a description of these risks can be found in the prospectus. This Fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money before the recommended holding period disclosed in the PRIIPs KID, if available for this share class.

Please note that additional fees (e.g. entry or exit fees) may be charged. Please refer to your financial adviser for more details. Investors should read the Key Information Document, Prospectus and any applicable local offering document prior to investing and to get complete information of the risks. Investors are acquiring units or shares in a fund, and not in a given underlying asset such as building or shares of a company.
