

UBS Strategy Fund Fixed Income Sustainable CHF

Performance Review

UBS (Lux) Strategy Fund - Fixed Income Sustainable (CHF) Q-dist

Global markets continued navigating through uncertainty on growth, potential political shifts emerging from elections and geopolitical tensions. This detracted from returns in the global equity and fixed income markets alike.

Performance (basis CHF, net of fees)¹

² YTD: year-to-date (since beginning of the year)

Monthly performance

In October the fund performed negatively with 1.7%. Fixed income markets performed negatively in October due to uncertainty surrounding the outcome of the US election and the continued economic strength in the US, which led investors to reprice the Fed's rate-cutting path to a more gradual process.

YTD performance

YTD as of the end of October, the fund has delivered a negative performance of 0.2%. In original currencies (mostly USD), corporate bonds and multilateral development bank bonds have contributed the most, followed by sustainable and global high-yield bonds. After hedging into CHF, fixed income returns have been negative given the high interest rate differential between the USD and the CHF.

Performance contributors

The main contributors were multilateral development bank bonds, corporate and global high-yield bonds. Emerging market government bonds, high-grade bonds, sustainable finance and sustainable bonds delivered flat to negative contributions.

Performance detractors

Sustainable bonds were the most significant detractors in October.

Current investment strategy

We closed our overweight position in Australian versus Italian government bonds. In addition, we closed our overweight position in EM versus high-grade bonds. We kept our long position in US 5-year Treasuries versus cash and US 30-year Treasuries. Currency-wise, we are maintaining our long positions in the EUR, CHF, GBP and AUD versus the USD and CNY.

Risks

The fund invests in bonds of varying credit quality and money market securities on a global basis, and may therefore be subject to fluctuations in value. The fund may use derivatives which can reduce investment risk or give rise to additional risks (inter alia the counterparty risk). The value of a unit may fall below the purchase price. This requires an appropriate risk tolerance and capacity. Every fund reveals specific risks, a description of these risks can be found in the prospectus. This Fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money before the recommended holding period disclosed in the PRIIPs KID, if available for this share class.

Please note that additional fees (e.g. entry or exit fees) may be charged. Please refer to your financial adviser for more details. Investors should read the Key Information Document, Prospectus and any applicable local offering document prior to investing and to get complete information of the risks. Investors are acquiring units or shares in a fund, and not in a given underlying asset such as building or shares of a company.
