

UBS Systematic Allocation Portfolio Dynamic Fund (USD)

Performance Review

UBS (Lux) Strategy SICAV - Systematic Allocation Portfolio Dynamic (USD) P-4%-mdist

Global stocks recovered from a sharp sell-off at the start of August to end the month at a record high, while fixed income benefited from widespread expectations of imminent rate cuts. However, investors still face several uncertainties, including the upcoming US elections and unpredictability in the Middle East.

Monthly performance

In August the fund performed positively with 0.4%. After a severe setback early in the month, global stocks recovered and even approached their all-time highs. Bonds also gained ground, especially those issued by the US.

YTD performance

YTD as of the end of August, the fund has delivered a positive performance of 11.7%. Equities have been the main performance driver this year, with US stocks the largest contributor, followed by Japanese and EMU equities. Fixed income has also delivered a positive contribution overall, led by high-grade bonds and emerging market (EM) government bonds. In addition, risk parity and hedge funds have added value, whereas commodities have produced a flattish performance.

Performance contributors

Both global equity and fixed income performed positively overall last month. Within equities, the US led the way, followed by EMU and UK stocks. In the fixed income space, the main drivers were high-grade bonds and EM government bonds. Alternative strategies delivered a rather flattish contribution.

Performance detractors

There were no significant detractors in August.

Current investment strategy

During August, the fund moved from a high to a medium equity allocation amid a balanced risk/reward profile for equities. The strategy also maintains a neutral active duration stance with a high-grade duration target of four years.

Risks

The fund invests in fixed income and equity instruments on a global basis, as well as in alternative investments such as hedge funds. The fund pursues a very active management style and may be subject to high fluctuations in value. The quantitative model is expected to be less effective during periods without notable upswings or downturns. The fund may use derivatives which can reduce investment risk or give rise to additional risks (inter alia the counterparty risk). The fund can invest in less liquid assets that may be difficult to sell in the case of distressed markets. The value of a unit may fall below the purchase price. Investors should therefore have an appropriate risk tolerance and capacity. Every fund reveals specific risks, a description of these risks can be found in the prospectus. This Fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money before the recommended holding period disclosed in the PRIIPs KID, if available for this share class.

The monthly 4%-mdist distributing share classes may distribute capital as well as income. It is possible that the distributions result in an erosion of assets and a reduction of invested capital. There are potential negative tax consequences for some investors in some jurisdictions. Investors in some jurisdictions may incur a higher rate of tax on distributed capital than on any capital gains which are realised on disposal of fund shares. Some investors may therefore choose to invest in the accumulating (-acc) instead of the distributing (-dist) share classes. Investors may be taxed at a later point in time on income and capital arising on accumulating (-acc) share classes compared to distributing (-dist) share classes. Investors should seek their own tax advice.

Please note that additional fees (e.g. entry or exit fees) may be charged. Please refer to your financial adviser for more details. Investors should read the Key Information Document, Prospectus and any applicable local offering document prior to investing and to get complete information of the risks. Investors are acquiring units or shares in a fund, and not in a given underlying asset such as building or shares of a company.
