Investment Rationale

Existing financing gap in real estate investments due to additional equity requirements. Strong and steady demand for CH residential real estate, however the supply of financing through traditional banks is decreasing.

The demand for residential real estate in Switzerland is continuous, despite the financial crisis of 2008/09 and the pandemic of 2020/21.

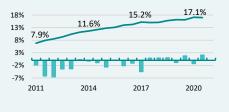

Decreasing loan-to-value ratios in the granting of loans under to Basel III due to increased capital requirements and increased risk aversion of the banks.

Investment Opportunity

Banks finance up to approx. LTV 65%. For financings from LTV 65% to 80%, real estate investors increasingly rely upon subordinated financing.

Starting point

- · Planned purchase of an investment property
- Limited availability of own funds
- Existing portfolio of residential investment properties with free financing capacities

Financing solution

- Subordinated loan on one or more existing properties (max. LTV 80%, max. term 48 months).
- · Repayment at final maturity; usually by refinancing of the property by the bank

Investing in mortgage-backed subordinated loans

Investment profile for institutional and professional investors

• Diversified access to attractive financing opportunities for Swiss investment properties (with a focus on residential)

Sourcing / deal flow via a selective group of experienced partners with whom we strive for long-term cooperation

Credit structure

- Loan subordinated to bank financing in the first rank (senior loan)
- Maturities of individual transactions 12-48 months
- Collateral on existing property, mainly in the residential sector (no developments)

Attractive addition in Private 闘 Markets

- · Attractive risk/return ratio and regular cash flow generation
- Complementary strategy in the area of private market loan financing (private debt) in the Swiss real estate sector

Illiquidity and complexity (G) premiums

- Based on current studies, the illiquidity premium in private markets varies between 0.5% and 2% p.a.
- Investors with a medium to long-term investment horizon can benefit from the illiquidity premium and skim it off as additional income

- · Pension funds and insurance companies
- Qualified investors according to CISA (min. investment for initial investment CHF 250,000)

- (existing, no project developments)
- · Focus on residential, mixed use with commercial possible
- · Long-term partnerships with real estate investors
