Term

The sub-fund has no maturity date. The fund management company is entitled to terminate the sub-fund unilaterally under the circumstances provided for in the constitutive documents of the Fund. A liquidation of the Fund will cause the automatic termination of the sub-fund.

The use of financial derivatives such as futures, interest rate swaps and credit default swaps forms an integral part of the investment strategy. The security selection process includes a fundamental analysis of sector, issuers and issues and a credit market analysis at a macro level.

The sub-fund is a product that favours environmental or social characteristics or a combination of these. The fund manager follows a combination of sustainable investment approaches in order to analyse the sustainability profile of the sub-fund (including exclusions, restrictions, sustainability-oriented pre-screenings and ratings of companies, and qualitative and quantitative analyses).

What happens if Lombard Odier Asset Management (Switzerland) SA is unable to pay out?

The Fund's ability to pay out would not be affected by the insolvency of the fund management company. You may however face a financial loss should the Depositary default on its obligations. Such default risk is limited as the Depositary is required by law and regulation to segregate its own assets from the assets of the Fund. There is no compensation or guarantee scheme in place which may offset, all or any of, these potential losses.
