What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

← Lower risk

Higher risk →

1	2	3	4	5	6	7
---	---	---	---	---	---	---

CAUTION: This risk indicator is based on the assumption that you hold the fund for 5 years (recommended holding period). If you return/sell this investment early, the actual risk may differ significantly and you may get back less.

The risk indicator helps you to assess the risk associated with this investment compared to other products. It shows how likely you are to lose money on this investment because markets move in a certain way. We have placed this fund in risk class 2 on a scale of 1 to 7, where 2 corresponds to a low risk class. The risk of potential losses from future performance is classified as low. In adverse market conditions, it is extremely unlikely that defaults in investments with a credit risk will cause a negative impact on the fund's performance.

The Reference Currency of the Share Class of this Fund is CHF. If this currency is not the same as the currency of your country of residence, this may expose you to currency risk. This currency risk is not reflected in the risk indicator shown above.

The following material risks are not reflected in the risk indicator:

- Liquidity risk: Negative impact in situations where the sub-fund has to sell assets for which there is insufficient demand or only demand at significantly lower prices.
- Operational risks: Faulty processes, technical errors or disasters can lead to losses.
- Risks arising from the use of financial techniques: The sub-fund may use financial techniques such as derivatives to increase the sub-fund's return opportunities. These increased opportunities are accompanied by increased risks of loss.
- Credit risk: The risk of insolvency of debtors associated with an investment cannot be completely excluded, even with careful selection of the investments to be acquired.

This collective investment scheme is not hedged against market or credit risks.
